NEW CONGRESS IN CLASH AT FIRST SESSION

Message by F. D. R. Due Saturday.

NEW FACES, NEW BILLS.

Ninety-five new congressmen, many of whom promise to provide the session with an abundance of color, are in the new congress; they range from a millionaire to a retired street sweeper. Five hundred new bills were tossed into the hopper on opening day, about half the number usually introduced; many had the theme: "Let's help war veterans." Stories on page 7.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Amid scenes of traditional solemnity the doors of history today swung open to the 79th congress, which is expected to be one of the most fateful assemblies in the history of the nation in bringing the legislative and executive branches of the government to grips with the tasks of winning the war and securing the peace.

Both the senate and the house opened the seventh New Deal and the third war time congress with the swearing in of new members and adoption of resolutions notifying President Roosevelt that a new congress is in session and standing ready to hear his report on the nation, which in the era of global conflict has come also to be a report on the state of the world.

Augurs Other Clashes.

Defeat of the White House on a major test, the establishment of a permanent committee on un-American activities, in the opening minutes of the new congress was widely regarded as pointing the way to heroic clashes between the legislative and executive branches of the government on the huge responsibilities of war and peace facing the country.

The congress and the President are faced with not only the tremendous task of winning the war rapidly and efficiently at a time when American arms are smarting under the heaviest defeat ever suffered on land, but also must wrestle with the even more complex problems of an enduring peace.

Congress' Problems.

Major problems which the 79th congress must tackle include:

1. Conduct of the war which has not yet been subjected to cold congressional scrutiny.

2. World organization for peace, such as envisioned under the Dumbarton Oaks program.

3. The man power problem, which is highlighted by such controversies as work or fight legislation and administration directive to induct men of 18 thru 25 deferred for farm work.

4. The continuance of vigilance against inflation, threatened by union demands for raising of wage ceilings, producers' demands for lifting price controls, and consumer cries against rigid rationing.

Reconversion Problem.

5. The vital and significant problems of reconversion temporarily side tracked by administration acknowledgment of shortages of critical war supplies due to underestimation of the enemy's strength.

In both houses of congress Republicans and Democrats were looking forward to Saturday's session at which the President's annual message will be read.

In Democratic circles it was said that the message undoubtedly will point the way toward solution of the problems confronting congress, particularly on foreign policy. Republicans voiced the opinion that the message will be a string of platitudes without concrete proposals.

WHAT SENATE DID

The galleries were crowded when Vice President Wallace called the senate to order for a brief session in which all the new senators ex-

House Votes to Continue Dies' Inquiry

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Dealing a stunning blow to the New Deal leadership while it was still in the throes of organization, the new house today voted 207 to 186 to establish a committee on un-American activities as a permanent legislative committee of congress.

Rep. Rankin.

Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.] staged a parliamentary coup which caught Speaker Rayburn [D., Tex.] by surprise and forced an immediate roll call on a motion to amend house rules by setting up a group to continue the work of the famed investigating body headed by former Rep. Dies [D., Tex.], which ended its existence today.

Beaten by Coalition.

A coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans joined to overwhelm the administration forces just three hours after the 79th house had assembled.

Voting for the Rankin amendment were 137 Republicans and 70 Democrats. Opposed were 150 Democrats, 34 Republicans, 1 American Labor, and 1 Progressive.

All Illinois Democrats who voted, voted against the amendment and all Republicans except one voted for it. Rep. Dirksen opposed it.

The action was the more disturbing to the leadership because the nine members of the committee will not be selected by the speaker as would be the case in the creation of a special investigating committee. The Democratic membership of the ways and means committee will select Democrats and a G. O. P. caucus the minority members.

The new committee will have power not only to probe the operations of Communists, Fascists, and other subversive groups in the United States, but to draft legislation for submission to the house, an authority not possessed by the Dies committeee.

Target of Reds and F. D. R.

The committee, in its six year history, has been consistently denounced by New Dealers, from President Roosevelt down, and subjected to a campaign of abuse by Communist groups. Among its achievements was an expose of the tie-up between the White House, Sidney Hillman, CIO political leader, and Earl Browder, Communist leader.

The house was droning thru a series of formal organizational motions when Rankin pulled his surprise. Rep. Sabath [D., Ill.] made a perfunctory motion to adopt the house rules. Rankin jumped up and offered an amendment, creating the new committee.

The speaker and Majority Leader McCormack [D., Mass.] were flabbergasted. The house parliamentarian was hastily summoned for consultation on methods of choking off the Rankin motion. He reported the rules were all in Rankin's favor.

HOLDING UP THE SHOW

John L. Beven, President of I.C. Road, Dies

John Lansing Beven, president of the Illinois Central railroad since 1938, died unexpectedly late last night aboard his office car in Clinton, Ill. Coronary thrombosis was given as the cause. Until shortly before the fatal attack he had appeared to be in excellent health. He would have been 58 Feb. 17.

John Lansing Beven.

Mr. Beven had visited company offices and yards in Springfield, Ill., earlier in the day. After dinner last night he complained of illness, and had his secretary, Thomas J. Clark, arrange an overnight visit for him at the Clinton hospital. A short time later Clark found Mr. Beven dead in bed in his stateroom.

"Rail Man's President."

Thruout the nation Mr. Beven was regarded as "a railroad man's president." His career followed the pattern set by many other major railway chiefs—a start at the bottom, and a pronounced rise, step by step, to the top. His entire working career—44 years—was spent with the Illinois Central.

Mr. Beven was born in McComb, Miss., in a house owned by the Illinois Central and rented by his father, William, an Illinois Central locomotive engineer. He naturally turned to the same road for his first job, a messenger in New Orleans at $12 a month.

Worked Extra to Learn.

Promotions came rapidly, and the secret lay not only in Mr. Beven's boyhood ability, but in his capacity for work, for at 16 he began a practice which he continued for seven years—of working one night extra each week, in addition to his day work, to learn railroading.

In 1915 Mr. Beven became trainmaster at New Orleans. In 1920 he came to Chicago as assistant to the senior vice president and by 1931 had become senior vice president himself.

After his election to the presidency in 1938, he vowed never to become a "brass hat or gold collar." He made a practice of visiting every town on the line and talking with employes. He was on such a trip at his death. It was said that he spent 75 per cent of his time on the road.

Widow and Three Curvive.

Mr. Beven also was president of the Chicago & Western Illinois railroad, a director of the Central of Georgia railroad, chairman of the Peoria & Pekin railroad, a director of the Terminal Railroad association of St. Louis, chairman of the Madison Coal corporation, and a director of the Illinois Institute of Technology. His home was at 5120 Hyde Park blvd. He leaves his widow, Charlotte, two daughters, Charlotte, and Mrs. William J. O'Brien, and a son, John Jr.

CHAPLIN JURY STOPS FOR NIGHT AFTER 4½ HOUR DELIBERATION

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—After deliberating for four hours and 40 minutes today the jury in the Charles Chaplin paternity trial was excused by the court at 5 p. m. and will resume consideration of the case at 9 a. m. tomorrow. In a California civil case the jury is not necessarily locked up overnight while deliberating.

Judge Henry M. Willis asked Foreman Ferdinand Gay if there was any immediate prospect of a verdict, to which Gay replied: "I think not."

"Is there still hope?" asked the judge.

"I think there is a possibility," Gay said.

"I want to warn you there may be efforts made by persons who have no regard for justice to reach you, especially over the telephone, because that kind of person usually wants to remain anonymous," said the judge in excusing the jury.

"I suggest that none of you answer your telephone tonight."

Under California law agreement by 9 of the 12 jurors is essential to a verdict. The issue is whether Chaplin is the father of Carol Ann, 15 month old daughter of Miss Joan Berry, his one time protege.

Vraciu Lost; E. L. Ryerson Told Son Died

Lt. Alexander Vraciu Jr., 25, navy ace from East Chicago, Ind., was reported missing in action yesterday in the South Pacific, and Lt. Morton B. Ryerson, 22, an army pilot, son of Edward L. Ryerson, chairman of the board of the Inland Steel company, unofficially was reported killed.

Lt. Ryerson's father of 1431 Astor st. said he had been told in a letter from another flyer that his son was killed in action recently over Leyte, Philippine Islands, but the report has not been confirmed by the war department. Lt. Ryerson went to the Pacific a year ago and last October received the air medal from Brig. Gen. Jared V. Crabb, commander of the 5th bomber command.

Letter from Friend of Son.

Ryerson said the letter was written by a friend of his son.

Lt. Vraciu's mother-in-law, Mrs. John C. Horn, 1604 142d st., East Chicago, said the navy report did not say how long he had been missing. His wife, Kathryn, whom he married last summer, is a junior at Indiana university, Bloomington, Ind.

The ace had 19 Japanese planes to his credit in air fights when he returned to the United States last August, in addition to 18 destroyed on the ground. He received his sixth medal, the navy cross, before returning to the South Pacific Oct. 24 to join a new squadron.

Had Enthusiastic Homecoming.

A graduate of DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind., he was welcomed enthusiastically by Chicago when he returned last summer. His uncle, John Tincu, gave him $100 for each plane he knocked out of the air.

He first went overseas in June, 1943, and four months later downed his first plane.

He shot down a twin engine bomber at Tarawa, got three more planes at Kwajalein in February, 1944, and two more there in April. He got his 12th Jap plane near Saipan. After his carrier was torpedoed, he refused to leave, and asked to be transferred to another squadron. He could have remained at Pensacola, Fla., as an instructor after he came home, Mrs. Horn said, but insisted on going back.

Bagged Seven Off Saipan.

The navy cross was for his participation in an attack by a small force of navy carrier pilots off Saipan last June 19, in which 369 Japanese planes were destroyed. Vraciu got seven enemy planes.

His mother, Marie, a war plant worker, lives at 3553 Pennsylvania av., East Chicago.

1ST ARMY JOINS 3D IN BELGIAN PUSH; YANKS MAKE NEW MINDORO LANDINGS

25 Ships Blasted Off Luzon; Formosa Isle Raided.

Three great blows against Japan were announced last night, two by Gen. MacArthur at Mindoro and Luson, and a third by Adm. Halsey's carrier planes at two Japanese home islands, Formosa and Okinawa. The details:

MacARTHUR'S HDQ., Philippines, Jan. 4 [Thursday]—(AP).—American planes sank or set afire 25 Japanese ships along the west coast of Luzon New Year's day, while Yank troops made two additional unopposed landings on the east and west coasts of Mindoro Island. These developments were announced today by Gen. MacArthur.

A Liberator left a 7,000 ton transport sinking and A-20 attack bombers and fighters sank or damaged 21 smaller freighters in the Palauig bay area, between Bataan and Lingayen. Two large trawlers were other victims.

First East Coast Landing.

The landings on Mindoro were officially described as "shore to shore operations." Amphibious forces landed on the west coast north of San Jose, where a strong American force established a beachhead two weeks ago. The landing on the east coast was the first one there.

The blows against enemy shipping ranged virtually the full length of Luzon. Liberator bombers destroyed a wharf at Vigan, north of Lingayen gulf, and damaged a 6,000 ton freighter.

Marine Corsairs and Mitchell bombers hit Batangas, and Liberators bombed Clark field Monday. Their escort of Lightnings downed 11 enemy interceptors. Three planes were credited jointly to Lt. Sammy Pierce of Ayden, N. C., and Lt. Nial K. Castle of Milwaukee, Wis.

On Leyte Island the Americans killed 1,287 more Japanese.

Carriers Attack Formosa.

[By telephone to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 3.—Pacific fleet carrier planes made simultaneous strikes yesterday at Formosa and Okinawa Island in the Ryukyu archipelago, 310 nautical miles from the southern tip of Japan.

The raids, announced by Adm. Nimitz today, constituted the second sea borne operation of the war against these important air bases. The ships participating, believed to be composed of task forces from Adm. Halsey's 3d fleet, under command of Vice Adm. J. S. McCain,

3D ARMY BATTLES BLIZZARD AS WELL AS NAZIS IN BULGE

WITH U. S. 3D ARMY EAST OF BASTOGNE, Belgium, Jan. 3 (AP).—The Americans fought a blizzard as well as Germans in the Bastogne bulge today. Snow at times reduced visibility to less than 50 yards, preventing use of tanks and larger weapons.

The temperature, around zero early, climbed only a little during the day. Trigger fingers were numb and foxhole digging was complicated by six inches of frozen ground.

The Germans intensified their resistance, holding American gains to a few hundred yards in the Wardin area just east of Bastogne.

The Germans were giving no indications of a pull-out east of Bastogne; on the contrary, they were digging in as if they intended to stay a while.

German prisoners have been taken wearing American clothing and shoes. Questioners believed they were not attempting to masquerade as Americans but had merely put on the clothing because it was warmer than their own, apparently having taken it from dead Americans.

PATTON PRAISES HIS 3D ARMY AS UNSURPASSED

WITH THE 3D ARMY, Jan. 3 (AP).—Lt. Gen. Patton has praised his men's achievements against the Germans as "unsurpassed in military history."

"From the bloody corridor at Avranches, to Brest, thence across France to the Saar, over the Saar into Germany and now on to Bastogne, your record has been one of continuous victory," the message said.

"Not only have you invariably defeated a cunning and ruthless enemy, but also you have overcome by your indomitable fortitude every aspect of terrain and weather. Neither heat nor dust nor floods nor snow have stayed your progress.

"The speed and brilliancy of your achievements is unsurpassed in military history.

"Recently I had the honor of receiving at the hands of Gen. Bradley [Lt. Gen. Bradley, 12th army group commander] a second oak leaf cluster to the distinguished service medal. This award was bestowed on me not for what I have done but because of what you have achieved.

"From the bottom of my heart, I thank you."

Gen. Patton closed his New Year message with a quotation from Gen. Scott's words at Chapultepec in the Mexican war of 1848: "Brave soldiers, veterans, you have been baptized in fire and have come out steel."

News Favors to British Stir Storm at Hdq.

12 Hour Time Lag

WITH U. S. FORCES IN BELGIUM, Jan. 3 (AP).—It was announced officially tonight that starting tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., the 36 hour time lag embargo on western front news would be reduced to 12 hours.

SUPREME HDQ. ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Jan. 3 (AP).—The silence of allied headquarters on developments at the front brought new and strong protests tonight from correspondents attached to headquarters.

After the British Broadcasting corporation reported a United States 1st army advance on the northern flank of the German salient in Belgium, SHAEF censorship ruled that correspondents might quote BBC to this effect, but would not permit them to quote supreme headquarters.

Criticizes Briefings.

A heated discussion followed, during which one correspondent asserted the SHAEF briefings in recent days were "the worst I have experienced in five years of war."

Several correspondents, both American and British, joined in protesting against apparent favoritism for BBC by censorship.

Another correspondent said, "If BBC runs this place let us know and we can pack up and go to London and listen to BBC."

Then another writer said that the American people certainly would object to getting news of American troops thru BBC before they could get it thru American sources.

Make It Official.

An hour after these protests, and almost 11 hours after the original BBC announcement, SHAEF issued official information that the 1st army had opened an attack.

SHAEF's chief censor said he had tried to find violations of the rules by BBC in the last fortnight and had found none. He was unable to say how BBC had been permitted to broadcast the news of the 1st army's attack while correspondents at headquarters were prevented from writing about it.

Hodges Attacks on Northern Flank of Salient.

PARIS, Jan. 4 [Thursday]—(AP).—The battle of the Belgian bulge neared the showdown stage today, with the American 1st and 3d armies hammering heavily from two directions against elements of three German armies. Eleven divisions of the Nazi armies have been chewed to pieces since their offensive began on Dec. 16.

The southern side of the shrinking German salient had been dented more than eight miles by Lt. Gen. Patton's 3d army. Location and depth of Lt. Gen. Hodges' 1st army thrust into the northern flank were not disclosed at supreme allied headquarters, which announced only that the 1st army had gone over to the attack.

It was disclosed that elements of the German 6th panzer army are fighting in the bulge alongside the German 7th army and the 5th panzer army previously named.

Face 20 Nazi Divisions.

Front line correspondents estimated that the Germans still had about 20 divisions, half of them panzers [armored] in the bulge; official sources said that eight divisions were facing the 3d army on 25 to 30 miles of the bulge's southern flank from a point east of St. Hubert to north of Wiltz.

The 3d army has smashed into Bourcy, five and one-half miles northeast of Bastogne.

The Germans were reenforcing heavily around Houffalize, nine miles north of Bastogne and five miles beyond Bourcy.

Say Nazi Casualties 60,000.

It was officially estimated that Field Marshal Von Rundstedt lost 20,000 men captured and 400 tanks destroyed by ground forces alone in the first 16 days of his spectacular drive to the west, and that in addition six Nazi armored divisions and five infantry divisions were severely cut up by the Americans. Unofficial estimates in the field put the enemy's total casualties in the offensive at 60,000.

The official estimate was described as conservative.

Evidently most of these casualties were inflicted by the 3d army, which a field dispatch estimated had destroyed the equivalent of five Nazi divisions since entering the battle on Dec. 20. From 8,000 to 9,000 men were in each enemy division. The 3d had taken 7,825 prisoners.

Cripple German Supply.

A dispatch reported that the German supply problem within the Belgian salient was becoming serious. Nazi prisoners said they had been short of food for days.

In addition to reaching points five and a half miles northeast of Bastogne, Patton's forces fought into Benonchamps, four miles to the east. Mageret, just northeast of Benonchamps, was cleared of the enemy, as well as the towns of Mande-St. Etienne and Gerimont, between Bastogne and St. Hubert. German resistance came principally from small arms and anti-tank guns, rather than from armor.

Patton's troops were within a quarter-mile of Tillet, eight miles west of Bastogne, while just to the west there was bitter fighting for high ground between Tillet and Bonnerue. American patrols pushed into St. Hubert, ran into German armor, and withdrew.

On the Luxemburg portion of the front to the southeast, Yank forces came under heavy artillery fire near Lutrebois. The 26th and 35th infantry divisions registered slight gains against strong enemy positions in the rough country south and southwest of Wiltz, nine miles east of Bastogne.

American troops made two attacks late on Tuesday in the Monschau area on the northern shoulder of the Belgian salient, but ran into stiff resistance and gained lit tle ground. Only patrol action was reported from the British and Canadian front in Holland.

It was disclosed at supreme headquarters that the Americans in the Saar area were forced to give up a three by five mile strip of German soil northeast of Sarreguemines by enemy forces that crossed the Blies river and captured Bliesbruck.

Pressed in Alsace-Lorraine.

Far to the southeast the Germans stepped up their pressure against American forces along the Franco-German border in Alsace and Lorraine. They forced the Americans to pull back as much as five miles in some places and to yield some footholds on German soil.

Deepest German penetration was in an area southeast of Bitche, where the enemy now has beat back five miles over a five mile front, overrunning Bannstein and nearing Reipertswiller, five miles to the southwest, as well as Meisenthal, seven miles southwest of Bitche. The Americans repulsed a company-size attack near Meisenthal.

On the east flank of this salient the Yanks gained some ground north of Philippsbourg.

Strike Near West Bank.

The Americans also were striking back on the west bank of Saar west of Volklingen, and in the forest of Briesbrucken, but lost some ground in see-saw fighting there after once clearing that wooded area.

The Germans counter-attacked also in the Sigolsheim area northwest of Colmar, but French forces beat off the attack, then made a slight advance in the same area.

East of Bitche American troops had been pulled back from their footholds in the German Palatinate from the Rhine to the Wissembourg gap, and had established a line south of the Lauter river, which forms the German-French boundary in that sector for 20 miles. The withdrawing Yanks blew up all bridges.

HAIL 6 MORE U. S. DIVISIONS, 28TH'S 112TH REGIMENT

Roles of Two 1st Army Corps Revealed.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY ON WESTERN FRONT, Jan. 3.—Ten American divisions which played a vital role in halting Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's great winter offensive were officially identified tonight.

These names for the United States military honor role, in addition to the 1st infantry, the 82d air borne, and the 7th armored divisions, previously announced, are the 2d, 9th, 30th, 75th, and 99th infantry divisions, combat command B of the 9th armored division, and the 112th regiment of the 28th infantry division.

Fought 3 Armies.

When historians get around to calculating this action, the defense put up by these divisions and others yet to be named should rank as one of the decisive engagements of the war. For Von Rundstedt threw against Lt. Gen. Hodges' right flank—a flank of many miles held by only three divisions and a light cavalry screen—the bulk of two crack panzer [armored] armies and his 7th army.

South of Bullingen, which was the hot corner of this Monschau shoulder of Von Rundstedt's massive wedge, the Germans drove farther west while trying to loop north thru weak points. In that action the 30th division, which had stopped the 1st SS [elite guard] panzer division's counter-attack at Mortain, made another brilliant stand against the same group from Malmedy, thru Stavelot to La Gleize.

As the drive bounced off them and continued west it ran into the 82d's paratroopers and glider men, who had been rushed up hastily from a rear area. And on Christmas eve, on the right of this veteran outfit, another untried division, the 75th, went into action for the first time.

Relieved 9th Armored.

The 7th armored division, which had fought in Holland, stood fast at St. Vith, where it had relieved combat command B of the 9th armored. The latter had borne the brunt of an attack by four German divisions.

The 112th regiment, holding south of St. Vith, absorbed another heavy assault which separated it from the rest of its division. It fought a rear-guard action, later withdrawing with other infantry units into a defensive oval of armor back of St. Vith.

The 99th infantry division passed its first big test when panzers attacked at Bullingen. The division was driven back but anchored south of Monschau with the 2d infantry division, supported on the left by the 1st and 9th infantry divisions.

At one time, panzers drove to within 200 yards of the 2d division's command post, but were smashed back with a loss of 50 tanks. The veteran 9th infantry division never yielded an inch.

Two Corps Hailed.

With identification of the heroic divisions and regiment, it was disclosed also that two of Hodges' corps had been in violent action. It was the 5th corps which held at the Monschau shoulder.

The second corps was the 7th, commanded by Maj. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, who had earned the sobriquet of "Lightning Joe" for his brilliant drive to capture Cherbourg, his spearheading of the St. Lo breakthru, and his dash across France and Belgium into the Siegfried line, Aachen, and up to the Roer river.

When the German counter-offensive assumed serious proportions, Hodges lifted Collins and his corps headquarters, turned his divisions in the line over to another command, and sent him into position in the Marche area with other hastily assembled units.

Without hesitation Collins flung his armor and infantry into battle around Celles, where the German spearhead was pressing too closely toward the Meuse and was threatening Namur, and forced the enemy back.

U. S. CASUALTIES 50,000 IN GERMAN PUSH, NAZI CLAIM

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—The Germans claimed tonight that eight full American divisions—four armored and four infantry—were attempting to crush the German bulge in Belgium.

The official German war bulletin said the allies in frontal and flanking assault had gained "only minor ground at the cost of more than 100 tanks."

The Nazi high command asserted the American losses "in the winter battle are more than 400 guns, 1,230 tanks and armored vehicles, and more than 24,000 prisoners" and that "his casualties by far exceed 50,000 already."

"The battle on the Saar and in east Lorraine is still taking a favorable course. The Saar bridgehead northwest of Forbach was extended and fortified. Border territory northeast of Sarreguemines was cleared of the enemy. Our attack in the lower Vosges is likewise making good headway."

BOMB GERMANS' HIGHWAY HUBS AND RAIL YARDS

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—Heavy bombers of the United States 8th air force, continuing the greatest sustained winter air offensive of the war, dumped more than 3,000 tons of explosives today on congested highway hubs and rail yards along the supply routes for the German Belgian bulge. Three bombers and nine fighters failed to return from the day's operations.

Clouds and snow and rain kept fighter bombers grounded on the continent, but 1,100 American Fortresses and Liberators from Britain supported Yank infantry and armor.

Escorted by 600 Mustangs and Thunderbolts, they struck thru the overcast at supply routes along the German-Belgian border and northwest of Karlsruhe, and at freight yards near Cologne, Fulda, and Aschaffenburg.

R. A. F. Lancasters escorted by Mustangs struck industrial targets in the Ruhr.

Pick-a-Back Planes Hurl Flying Bombs at British

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—The Germans fired flying bombs from pick-a-back carriers over the North sea tonight. Heavy defensive fire knocked down one into the sea and others near an east coast town.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE U. S. 3D ARMY IN BELGIUM, Jan. 2 [Delayed].—Two hundred and fifty men of the 10th armored and 4th infantry divisions, under the command of a Chicagoan, Capt. Steve Lang of the 11th tank battalion, 10th armored division, beat off attacks of two German panzer battalions during the Nazi drive against Luxemburg city, preventing for three days the Nazi capture of the town of Berdorf.

Capt. Steve Lang.

During the see-saw battle they knocked out seven German tanks and three half-tracks and killed an estimated 350 Germans, at a total cost to the defenders of four dead and 20 wounded, and one medium tank and four half-tracks lost. Then they capped their epic stand by withdrawing under Lang's direction without losing a man. Before withdrawing, however, they booby trapped the town to delay the enemy and permit the arrival of relief forces to prevent a further German advance.

Ordered to Hold Town.

The armored units under Lang, who lives at 504 W. 117th st., entered Berdorf Dec. 18, where they joined elements of two companies of the 12th regiment, 4th infantry division, with orders to hold the town at whatever cost and stop Nazi attempts to advance farther during the day.

During the night of the 19th and the next day, German columns attempted to enter the town from the north, but were driven off by artillery fire directed by Lang, who later used artillery to beat off three thrusts by German tanks.

During the morning of the 21st the Germans drove in force from the north, east, and west after a heavy artillery barrage. They were beaten back after an hour and a half.

The Germans attacked heavily again but failed, as did two more heavy attacks during the afternoon. During the afternoon, moreover, a "relief train" consisting of two medium tanks and three half-tracks brought in supplies and took out most of the wounded.

Ordered to Withdraw.

At 4 p. m. Lang was ordered to withdraw from Berdorf.

Lang called in the infantry commanders and with them made out a schedule for the withdrawal, which took part in four sections after dark.

When the tanks were loaded—with four infantrymen inside each and as many as 11 clinging on the outside—artillery was fired in order to drown the noise of the tank engines starting, then the tanks rolled from the town.

OFFICER STANDS LIKE HORATIUS AT THE BRIDGE

Covers Escape of His Men in Nazi Trap.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. FORCES IN GERMANY, Jan. 2 [Delayed].—Horatius holding the bridge before Rome several hundred years ago was a piker compared with Lt. Everett Pruitt, 27, of Texas. He stood alone last night holding the approaches of a ruined bridge over the Roer river while his six-man patrol, including two Illinoisans, escaped from a German trap, carrying their wounded with them.

The Roman hero had some help from a couple of other stout warriors at his side, while Pruitt had only a carbine. When that jammed, he had to depend upon a handful of grenades and his throwing arm.

The patrol managed its crossing of the river at a point where it is 100 feet wide and 10 feet deep. Once on the other side, they were inside the German lines, and moving thru the bitterly cold darkness single file. They had come about 400 yards when there was a loud explosion.

Three Step on Mines.

Pruitt found one of his men had stepped on a mine and was gravely hurt. Unmindful of his own danger from mines, according to his men, the lieutenant hurried to the victim's aid, using his belt for a tourniquet. Then, with another member of the patrol, he started to carry the wounded man to safety. This man stepped on a mine himself and dropped with a shattered leg. Pruitt began attending him, and at the same time German outposts, aroused by the explosions, opened fire.

At this precise moment there was a third demoralizing explosion followed by a scream of agony. Another doughboy, running for cover, had stepped on a mine.

This left as unwounded members of the patrol Staff Sgt. John J. Major, 1206 W. 64th st., Chicago, Pvt. Richard G. Clark of Peoria, Ill., and Pvt. Harold I. Glick of the Bronx, New York. Glick was assigned to return to the American lines for litter bearers and to call for protecting artillery fire, while Clark and Major had the task of helping the wounded crawl back to the east bank of the river.

Covers Men's Retreat.

Pruitt threw himself between his tiny force and the pursuing Germans, an estimated eight or 10 men. Alternately he kept up a running fire from his carbine and helped the wounded along a tortuous way toward the partly demolished bridge, which offered the only solid surface over which they might escape.

When at last the little group reached the other side of the bridge, litter bearers and aid men were waiting.

Today the wounded were in a hospital, given a good chance to live.

DANES BLOW UP PLANT.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 3 [AP].—Eighty Danish patriots have blown up a radio manufacturing plant in Copenhagen which makes "magic eyes" and other parts for the German V-2 weapon, the free Danish press service said today.

NAZIS FIND 35TH DIVISION TOO HOT DESPITE 6° COLD

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 35TH INFANTRY DIVISION NEAR BASTOGNE, Jan. 3.—This battle wise division in the last few days, with the aid of the 4th armored division, blunted and then beat back a counter-attack by swarms of tanks and fresh German troops. The Nazis were attempting to slice their way across the snow covered Arlon-Bastogne highway preliminary to an attempt to capture Bastogne, a highway center.

The fighting was done in cold that fell last night to 6 degrees above zero and was against a foe trying every trick in the book, such as wearing American uniforms, infiltrating our lines, and shooting up unsuspecting Yanks.

Lt. Wilbur Dees, Starkville, Miss., a replacement who took command of an infantry company when its commander was injured, won the praise of Lt. Col. Elbert Butler, Pasadena, Cal., commander of the 3d battalion, 137th regiment.

Water Freezes in Canteens.

Dees said his men fought thru four days in which they had only one hot meal. The temperature was so low water froze in their canteens and they ate snow to quench their thirst. In the four days in wooded positions, 17 men of Lt. Dees' company suffered frozen feet or trench foot. One soldier took off his shoes to massage his feet and couldn't get them on again because his feet had swollen.

Aside from the one hot meal, which was brought in by a carrying party, the only warm food the men had was that faintly heated by being held over a burning K-ration box, which, being waxed, gives off a little smoke. This also enabled them to warm their hands.

Wipe Out 15 Nazi Tanks.

It is now possible to mention an action near Lutrebois in which the 654th anti-tank battalion, the 35th infantry division, and units of the 4th armored division wiped out a German column of 15 tanks, nine other vehicles, and 150 supporting infantry without an American loss.

The anti-tank men stopped the first four tanks with four shots. Then, as the remainder of the column aproached along the skyline of a ridge the 4th armored's guns from one side and the 654th's guns from the other opened fire from which not a vehicle escaped.

The Germans have again learned that when they fight the 35th division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Paul W. Baade, Fort Wayne, Ind., or the 4th armored, now commanded by Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Gaffey, a Texan, they're tackling more than any Nazi has been able to handle.

Midwesterners seen today included Sgt. Melbourne G. Smith, 506 North av., Chicago.

Paraguay Suspends A. P. Service Over Speech Story

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Jan. 3 (AP).—The department of press and propaganda tonight suspended all communications facilities of the Associated Press in Paraguay, alleging that a summary of President Higinio Morinigo's Christmas eve message transmitted by the news agency and published in Argentine newspapers "Implied repudiation of ideas and concepts which compromises Paraguay's democratic position."

27 OVERCOME BY GAS IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Seventeen persons in the Seine department were overcome by gas yesterday. In nearly all cases cooking stoves had been left turned on while the gas was cut off by the city for several hours. Then when the city turned on the gas again, fumes poured from the stoves.

PRIVATE ROONEY SORRY FOR GUYS NOT IN BIG SHOW

Homesick, but Plays '4 a Day' for Other G.I.s.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 3D ARMY IN BELGIUM, Jan. 3.—It could have sounded corny or insincere, but somehow it rang true, and you had the feeling he meant it. He said:

"I'm no different from any other G. I., I want to get back to the United States—but, believe me, I'm sorry for the guy that isn't gonna see this for himself, so he can go home and appreciate his mother, warm covers, and that little car with the top down."

The speaker was a chunky little soldier you would have walked right by on the street—tho almost surely you'd have said a moment later, "Why, that looked like Mickey Rooney!" And you would have been right.

On Four a Day Circuit.

Pvt. Rooney, who went into the army last July, has been in France only three weeks. But already he has been giving daily entertainments. Assisting him are Privates Bob Priester of Hollywood, Cal., who sang in the choruses of several of Rooney's musicals but did not know the star personally till he got into the army, and Mario Pieroni of San Francisco, Cal., an accordionist.

Twenty-three year old Mickey, who used to get one of Hollywood's top salaries for making three pictures a year, now is on a three or four a day circuit at army pay. But he says he's happy and we see no reason to doubt it.

Mickey's three man soldier show, one of 14 touring this front, started with a formal script, but found it better to give the soldiers whatever they asked for. So Mickey does imitations of Clark Gable and Lionel Barrymore, Priester sings songs like "I'll Be Seeing You" and "I'll Walk Alone," and Pieroni swings high, wide, and handsome with "Dizzy Fingers."

Won't Be Forgotten.

"Those are the things," Pvt. Rooney commented, "that a G. I. hasn't forgotten and never will forget."

Mickey, chewing gum as he talked, said performances run until he and the others sense that the audience is "tired of our nonsense." That usually is 45 minutes or an hour, but the New Year's eve show ran four hours.

Mickey's mission in the army is to be treated like any other private, he said, and the mailman is helping him in that objective.

"I haven't had a letter in three months," he said, "and I'm griping like every one else."

What a Wife!

Mickey said he was writing a book about his experiences and those of other G. I.s which is to be called "Wise Up." Then he began talking about his wife, the former Betty Jane Rase, 17, the Miss Birmingham of 1944, who is expecting a child.

"I married a wonderful girl," he said. "We had a six day whirlwind courtship. I certainly was lucky. What a girl!"

We asked whether he would like to send her a message. He was reluctant until told it was no special privilege. Then he said:

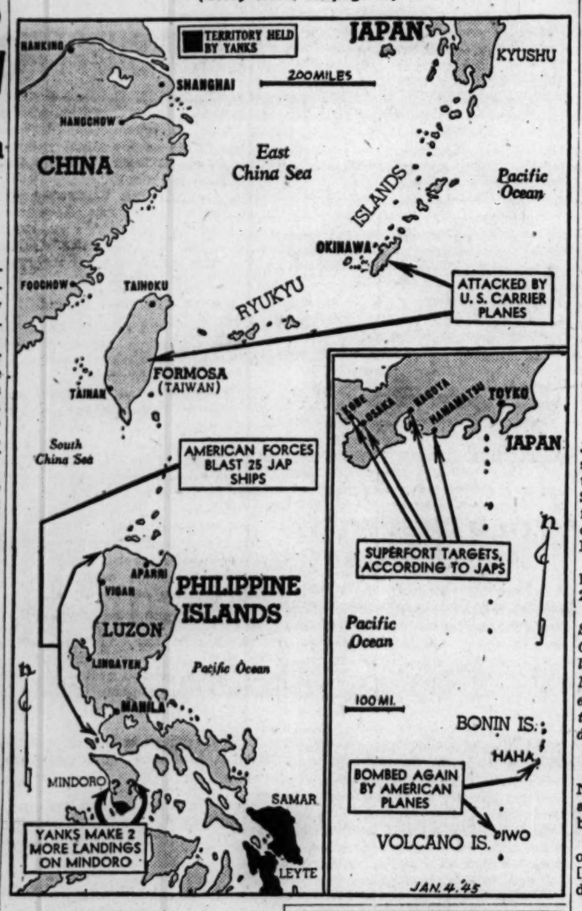

"Just say, 'I think of you always and would like to get a line or two real soon.'"

After Mickey had gone Pvt. Willie Brunnel of Butte, Mont., our jeep driver, who has never been wrong yet, said emphatically:

"He's a real nice guy."

Carrier Planes Bomb Formosa Isle.

Recalls October Raid.

Okinawa, strong point of the Nansei or Ryukyu Islands, was previously attacked by Adm. Halsey's carriers on Oct. 9, when the planes sank 46 ships and 41 small craft, probably sank 20 more vessels, damaged another 20, shot down 23 planes, and destroyed 59 and damaged 37 on the ground. The same carrier forces attacked Formosa for the first time two days later, touching off a fierce air battle which lasted until Oct. 15. This extended action cost the Japanese 416 planes destroyed, 32 ships sunk, 13 probably sunk, and 55 damaged, against American losses of 66 planes and two cruisers damaged.

Formosa, a mountainous island 249 miles long and 93 miles across, is now Japan's most potent backstop to her defenses in the Philippines, for it lies only 200 miles north of Luzon. Okinawa also occupies a position of importance in the inner defense scheme of Japan. It is the strongest base between Formosa and the empire islands.

Adm. Nimitz also announced the 26th consecutive bombing of Iwo Island in the Volcano Islands and an attack on the town of Okimura on Haha Island in the Bonin Islands, both by army planes, on New Year's day.

Japs Claim Transports Hit.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—Radio Tokyo said tonight that Japanese air attacks on American convoys in Philippine waters are continuing with "ever increasing vigor." The enemy radio claimed that two transports and a destroyer were damaged in the latest operations.

French Holdup Men Steal $1,600 Worth of Cigarets

PARIS, Jan. 3 (AP).—Four French civilians, equipped with a motor car and a machine gun, robbed two tobacco shops in a Paris suburb today of $700 in cash and tobacco and cigarets valued at $1,600 at legal prices, or $21,000 on the black market.

2,200 FLYERS LOST BY ALLIES IN RAIDS ON PLOESTI OIL FIELDS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—More than 2,200 of the airmen who took part in raids by Italian based bombers on the Ploesti oil fields in Romania are missing, Lt. Gen Eaker said today.

Eaker, commanding general of the Mediterranean allied air forces, also disclosed that 270 planes of the 15th air force were lost in the attacks on Ploesti which began last April and ended in August after capture of the oil center by Russian forces.

The 15th air force, Eaker reported, dropped 213,185 tons of bombs on targets in Germany and German controlled countries during the year. In addition, he said, the 12th tactical air force had smashed at enemy supply lines, gun positions, and troop concentrations in support of the allied ground campaign.

REPORT LETTER FROM WALLACE ASKS JONES' JOB

[Copyright: 1945: By the New York Times.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Vice President Wallace has written to President Roosevelt, expressing his preference to become secretary of commerce, if that post should be open, it was stated in high administration circles today. The President, it was added, has not replied unless he did so very recently.

It has been previously reported that Mr. Wallace would like to take over the commerce establishment, now headed by Jesse Jones, but this, it is said, is the first disclosure that he conveyed his desire to the President in a letter rather than in person.

On the other hand, it was said that Mr. Wallace had scrupulously refrained from any conversation with Mr. Roosevelt on the subject, holding that this might embarrass his chief. The Vice President has also refused at least one offer of personal intervention.

B-29s SET FIRES IN NAGOYA PLANT FOR 4TH TIME

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Large fires were left burning by Super Fortresses which bombed Nagoya, Japanese airplane center on Honshu Island, in daylight today with "good results."

It was the fourth mission to the industrial target, said a bulletin issued by the 20th air force headquarters. One Super Fortress was lost to enemy action. The B-29 crews destroyed one enemy plane, probably brought down nine more, and damaged others.

Fighter opposition was moderate and ack-ack fire was described as "meager and inaccurate."

Directed from Guam.

SUPER FORTRESS HDQ., Guam, Jan. 3 (AP).—America's aerial invasion of the Japanese homeland entered a new phase today with a Super Fortress raid directed for the first time from new 21st bomber command headquarters on Guam Island.

The B-29s taking off from Saipan lashed Nagoya, key aircraft center 200 miles from Tokyo.

[Radio Tokyo reported about 90 Super Forts bombed Nagoya, Kobe, Osaka, and Hamamatsu. The three latter industrial cities are south of Nagoya. The Japanese acknowledged some damage and claimed that 17 of the raiders were shot down and 25 damaged.]

Will Base on Three Isles.

This strike was the first against Nagoya since Dec. 22 and the first against Honshu since the Tokyo blasting of Dec. 27.

Super Fort bases eventually will be on all three islands in this region [Guam, Saipan, and Tinian], in addition to existing Saipan bases.

The transfer of headquarters from Saipan by ship and by plane has been under way for a week. Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell, high chief of the 21st, showed newsmen thru the elaborate control building, by which he can maintain close communication with each future B-29 unit on other islands in the Marianas and with Washington, D. C. The building is arranged so that Hansell and others seated on a high stage in a flood lighted room—which resembles a movie set—can tell with a glance at the huge wall maps, charts, and diagrams the exact status of each unit.

Lives in New House.

Hansell lives in a newly built house with Brig. Gen. Roger M. Ramey of Denton, Tex., his chief of staff.

Sgt. George P. Penrod of Paris, Ill., recently joined a marine patrol and killed two Japanese 300 feet from the house.

Officers and men live in wood framed, floored six man tents. Staff Sgt. Edward J. Borucki, 5926 N. Manton av., Chicago, is helping to handle the sports and recreational work.

DIES AFTER STEAM BATH.

Samuel Halper, 50, of 830 Lake av., Wilmette, suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday after taking a steam bath in a club at 312 S. Wabash av.

TELLS OF AERIAL INTERRUPTION OF NAZI REAR LINES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 [Special].—By tactically isolating the German salient in Belgium from its rear supply lines, allied air power demonstrated it could blunt the enemy advance.

No nation which does not have control of the air, "can hope to win," an army air forces spokesman asserted today. He described how allied tactical planes, once the weather lifted, pulverized German communications to the rear, slowing up the reënforcement and supply of Von Rundstedt's forces. The German air force apparently has a maximum potential of 1,100 sorties a day for a limited period—a maximum it has not yet approached, he said. Allied air can exceed this maximum by five to six times.

Between Dec. 17 and Jan. 2, 120 major communication centers and troop concentrations were attacked by allied tactical aircraft. Where necessary, air power established a line of interdiction beyond which the Germans could not move their men and supplies without unloading and reloading, and then established secondary lines nearer the front to force double delays in reënforcements.

Half Jap Silk Industry Now Building War Planes

New York, Jan. 3 [Special].—More than 50 per cent of Japan's silk-reeling industry, "which formerly served the vanity of American womanhood by making possible the manufacture of superb silk stockings," has been converted into plants for the production of Japanese planes, the Japanese Domei agency reported today.

APPLY CHARTER TO POLAND, HER PREMIER URGES

Brands Lublin Body as Soviet Creature.

[By Cable to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Application of the principles of the Atlantic Charter by the three big powers would provide the immediate solution of the Russo-Polish problem, Premier Tomasz Arciszewski said tonight.

The 72 year old head of Poland's exiled government in London branded the Lublin committee as "merely an instrument of a foreign power," and expressed great interest in reports that the Lublin committee's army had been equipped by the Russians with lend-lease material from the United States. He said he wondered whether American taxpayers would approve the handing over of American trucks and material by the soviets to a government neither the United States nor Britain has recognized.

Underground Not Split.

Arciszewski said the claims of the Lublin committee to have a large army at its disposal were exaggerated, altho he charged that the Russians had been arresting members of the underground loyal to the Polish exiled government in London and putting them into forces under Red army control.

"There will be no split between the Polish forces of resistance," he said. "They will continue to take orders from London. This movement is one of complete unity and it constitutes a Polish underground state controling the Polish home army. A part of the Polish government—its vice premier and three ministers—are still in Poland. The Polish government in London is truly representative of the Polish underground state, but the Lublin committee is a foreign-sponsored body which without the support of soviet police and the presence of soviet armies could not exist for a single day."

Won't Be Sovietized.

The prime minister said that in his opinion the big three leaders at their next meeting should seek a formula for solution of Russo-Polish difficulties in the Atlantic Charter. If the signatories would take these principles to heart, he said, he believed "not much ingenuity would be needed to find a practical application of the document to the present crisis."

"The Polish government," he added, "is ready to enter into negotiations with Russia and is sincerely desirous of establishing friendly relations with her. She is ready to coöperate with Russia, but she refuses to become a new soviet republic even under the name of 'independent Poland'."

NAZI BUTCHERED 8 YANKS, VETS OF ST. VITH CHARGE

WITH AMERICAN ARMIES IN BELGIUM, Jan. 2 [Delayed] (AP).—Veterans of the battle of St. Vith said today that eight men of a captured supply train had been shot to death by an SS [elite guard] officer.

They asserted nine prisoners were lined up in a field and the officer went down the line, shooting men in the back of the head with a revolver. One Yank ran, was hit in the neck as he cleared a fence, played dead for almost three hours, and made his way back to his outfit.

The combat command post was overrun by 50 Germans during the battle for St. Vith. A medic escaped and informed combat command headquarters that Lt. Col. Fred Cummings Jr., whose home is in southern Illinois, and most of the staff, including Capt. C. G. Denton of Northville, Mich., were being held in the basement of a house. Capt. George Soumas, Perry, Ia, assembled a company of Sherman tanks. He rode the leading tank into the village, wheeled it up to the house and blasted away. Cummings and all his men were freed.

Millions Switching To Mutton Suet And Medication

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Muscle Tightness-Coughing, Rheumatic Pain, Simple Bruises and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma liked to "rub" miseries of chest colds and other simple pain. She medicated her rub but insisted it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in skin to relieve pain. Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve that contains mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Mothers now thank Grandma for her old idea that created this newer relief.

In this colds' season, Penetro is especially helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, chest rawness, loosening phlegm, relieving coughs. That's because Penetro melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways (1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors. Penetro is so helpful, too, in easing rheumatic and neuralgic pain, taking sting from chapped lips and nostrils, and as a soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. Today get clean, white, easy-to-use Penetro.

Germans Strike Back at Reds

GERMANS TAKE SEVERAL TOWNS NEAR BUDAPEST

Rescuers Repulsed, Moscow Says.

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP).—German troops counter-attacking 40 miles northwest of Budapest to relieve the encircled German garrison in the capital have recaptured several towns on the south bank of the Danube, Moscow announced tonight.

The Russian bulletin said that the enemy blows had been repulsed, despite capture of the towns. The bulletin did not name the places overrun by the Germans, but said that the enemy attacked with large forces of infantry and tanks and suffered "heavy losses in men and material."

Battle On in Budapest.

Street fighting in Budapest continued. The Russians announced seizure of another 167 blocks of buildings on both sides of the Danube, giving them control of a total of 1,062 blocks.

The devastation of Budapest continued as Russian guns smashed what the Nazi defenders left undestroyed in their retreat to the center of the city.

Coronation Abbey Damaged.

German reports said that soviet bombers were concentrating on the heart of the capital and that the area around the palace already had suffered from artillery fire. The Coronation abbey is heavily damaged and one wing of the houses of the Hungarian parliament has collapsed, these reports said.

The bulletin from Moscow also announced that troops of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, driving on Losonc [Lucenec], communications center in southern Slovakia near the Hungarian border northwest of Budapest, had captured Sacher, a town only about half a mile southeast of Losonc's limits, as well as 10 other places to the east and south.

GERMANS KILL 10,000 JEWS IN LITHUANIAN TOWN, OFFICER SAYS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 3.—The retreating Germans in Lithuania massacred 10,000 Jews in one night and burned the Jewish quarter before abandoning Kaunas, Col. Pouyade, commander of the French Normandie air squadron serving with the Red army, said today.

Pouyade said that 15 days after the Russian occupation of Kaunas he saw heaps of corpses, men, women, and children, huddled in the streets and in cellars. Only one Kaunas Jew had escaped he said, by hiding in a secret cellar beneath the usual cellar which he had fitted with a camouflaged stone trapdoor.

Their last night in Kaunas, Pouyade said, the Germans massed Jews in one section of the ghetto and machine gunned them after pouring abandoned fuel supplies on their houses and setting them afire.

TURKEY BREAKS RELATIONS WITH JAPAN ON JAN. 6

ANKARA, Turkey, Jan. 3 (AP).—The Turkish government announced today it would sever relations with Japan effective at midnight Saturday.

The announcement came in a surprise statement to the grand national assembly by Foreign Minister Hasan Saka, who said it had been decided at the urging of United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt and supported by Great Britain as a "Turkish contribution to the allied cause."

An immediate effect of the break will be to deprive Japanese agencies—estimated by American embassy sources at a score—of the privilege of surveying allied shipping and other movements in the eastern Mediterranean and middle east. Since Turkey broke off relations with Germany last August, the Japanese have carried the axis espionage burden.

BRITISH OFFICIAL REPORT LISTS NAZI TORTURES

TWENTY-FIRST ARMY GROUP HDQ., Jan. 3 (AP).—The British army, in its first official account of German atrocities, today published a document disclosing that Belgian civilians were subjected to tortures rivaling the Spanish inquisition.

The document said every statement taken from surviving prisoners had been investigated for veracity.

It deals with the notorious Breendonk concentration camp near Malines, the Tir National in Brussels, where Nurse Edith Cavell was executed in World War I., and 16 other prisons, torture or execution depots in Belgium.

Witnesses were quoted as saying about 1,000 persons were shot at Tir National during the German occupation and at least 350 were executed by firing squads or hangmen at Breendonk.

An imprisoned Austrian doctor said more than 500 men died in the three years he spent at the moated Breendonk prison, including 300 shot, 15 hanged, and nearly 200 who succumbed to starvation and other ill treatment.

Six Torture Methods Told.

Six methods of torture outlined in the document included:

Blows across the face or body, particularly below the belt with a truncheon or cat-o-nine tails.

The victim was bound across a table and threshed.

The prisoner was hoisted to the ceiling by a pulley and lashed in mid-air, or released to fall on sharp pointed wooden blocks.

The victim's body was burned with cigar ends.

Fingers were crushed in a medieval-style screw press.

Bodies were burned with a four-pointed electric needle instrument.

The document added that women prisoners also were tortured, and one witness said she was nude while devices were applied to wrest information from her.

Gives Typical Menu.

A typical daily menu at Breendonk was given as:

Breakfast: One slice of dry bread and mug of coffee; lunch, bowl of scalding, watery soup; dinner, one slice of bread, sometimes with a small piece of butter or margarine, occasionally a potato or salted sardine, and mug of coffee.

Forty-eight prisoners were jammed into rooms 42 feet long, 21 feet wide, and 13 feet high, with blue-painted windows at each end of a series of triple-decker bunks and a few small tables and stools.

There also were iron-barred cells 6 feet 8 inches by 4 feet 5 inches equipped with wall shackles.

VET THRICE WOUNDED BY JAPS MEETS BABY, 2½, FOR FIRST TIME

Capt. James M. Newman, 27, thrice wounded marine veteran of three years of campaigning against the Japs, starting at Guadalcanal, and his daughter, Beverly, 2½ years old, met for the first time yesterday when he arrived home at Kouts, Ind., on furlough. He and his wife, Lucille, were high school sweethearts at Kouts, and she and the baby live with her relatives on a farm near that town. Capt. Newman enlisted in the marines nine years ago. His wounds were sustained at Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester, and Palau Islands. His sister, Mrs. Herbert Rabe of 6321 School st.; three aunts, Mrs. A. T. Perlick of 4056 N. Harding av., Mrs. Arthur Harmel of 1527 N. Luna av., and Mrs. Joan Hall of 7018 Cregier av., and Perlick greeted him at Dearborn station.

Capt. J. M. Newman.

PALESTINE JEWS TOLD THEY MUST ABOLISH GANGS

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 3 (AP).—James Grigg, new British minister of state resident in the middle east, said today that the Jews of Palestine must eliminate gangsterism or suffer the loss of world-wide Christian support for their hopes of an independent nation.

Grigg said the "Jewish problem" frequently was regarded simply as a conflict between Jews and Arabs, with Britain acting as mediator.

"But it must be remembered," he continued, "that there is a world-wide Christian interest as well. The Christian world will not stand for development of a regular Nazi type of gangsterism in Palestine."

SWITZERLAND CUT OFF FROM ALLIED SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Switzerland, which has been giving the Nazis too much economic help for the liking of the allied nations, has been cut off from allied supplies, it was learned today.

Secretary of State Stettinius said in response to a written query from reporters that the whole economic relationship between the United States and Switzerland is receiving consideration.

French Transport Barred.

All Switzerland supplies from the allies must move across France. The reasons given for shutting off what little the Swiss were receiving was the need of all French transportation facilities not destroyed by the Germans for allied military use.

Nevertheless, some officials here who would not be quoted by name said they are inclined to be angry with the Swiss for delay in complying with requests to tighten up on help to the Germans.

The foreign economic administration has made several recommendations to the state department for cracking down on the Swiss.

Nazi Supplies Pass Thru.

The aid Switzerland is rendering the Nazis, it was said, includes:

1. Transit of coal and other war-useful products from Germany across Switzerland to northern Italy.

2. Swiss export to Germany of machinery, aluminum, and other war goods.

OPA SUES BROTHERS FOR $11,826.

Anichini Brothers, a hotel supply house at 549 N. Wells st., was charged yesterday by the office of price administration with over-ceiling sales of meat to hotels. An injunction and triple damages of $11,826.36 were asked in a suit filed in federal court against Silvio, Mario, and Dina Anichini.

ALIEN TRADITION GUIDES NEW YORK IN TRIP TO POLLS

Self-Interest Dominant on Election Day.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 3.—New York's tide of Italian immigration began in the 1880s, just as the Irish as a body were rising in the world, and in many ways the newcomers took the place of older settlers.

They became the strong-backed, unskilled labor; they even moved into the quarters which the Irish, with prosperity, were vacating. Now the Italians in turn have made their way into all the professions and trades, and in a large part are an assimilated community. Is not the preposterous Fiorello La Guardia, more than 10 years mayor of the five boroughs, one of them?

The most interesting movement of the Italians has been into the garment industry [New York's biggest, employing 115,000 workers and making 80 million out of 90 million garments sold at retail in the country.]

The whole United States, of course, is aware of New York as a Jewish city—by far the world's largest, surpassing Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Lodz, or Kishinev.

One-Quarter of Population.

They are one-quarter of New York's 7,500,000, and over 40 per cent of the total of Jews in the country. New York, it is accurately said, is 10 times more Jewish than "trans-Hudson America."

They, too, with prosperity have changed habitation. A generation ago they were packed into Manhattan's lower east side. The more successful were migrating to the expensive but not fashionable region of Washington Heights, on Manhattan's upper west side. Today the main Jewish boroughs are Bronx, where they are nearly half the population, and Brooklyn, where they are nearly 40 per cent of the total.

Yet today, if you walk around the lower East side, along Delancey street or Rivington street, near Brooklyn bridge, you will get the impression that the neighborhood is overwhelmingly Jewish.

The Publishers Thrive.

That is a case of atavistic survival. Once this was the great Jewish center; here its newspapers and books were published. Well, they still are published here. Delancey street and thereabouts remains the spiritual home of New York Jewry.

You see other survivals of habits acquired in the successive immigrations, like Yorkville's beer halls, tho there are few Germans left there. The most persistent tradition is that politics is fundamentally a trade for people with Irish names. By themselves, New Yorkers of Irish stock could swing no election.

Still, in the 76th congress, 13 out of the 22 representatives from New York City had Irish names. A like proportion is maintained in the state legislature at Albany.

Jews, of course, are most likely to be nominated for office in districts overwhelmingly Jewish, and Italians in those overwhelmingly Italian.

Irish Get Preference.

Other things being equal, however, men of Irish descent will get preference in New York's political game. A curious exception, itself a hangover from earlier conditions, is the fixed tradition that the president of Manhattan borough should be Jewish, tho Jews, once a majority, are now less than 20 per cent of Manhattan's population.

Another New York survival which has lost its reason for being is the use of Union square for meetings of Communists and other "radicals." Actually most voters of Communist and similar tickets now live miles away from Union square in the fireside boroughs. Still it remains, as it were, hallowed ground.

Proletarians in Village.

Perhaps it maintains its place by its proximity to Greenwich Village. [It's at 14th st., where the "village" begins, and extends south to Washington Square at 4th st.] In the hunger years of the 1930's the supposed arty village went "proletarian." From it spread the doctrine—actually an ancient one—that the artist's business is not merely to paint pictures or scribble verses or design lamp shades but to give the world a social message.

Hence an alliance between Union Square and the near-by Village. It was somehow a fitting turn in the history of this so-called Latin Quarter, which has rarely been anything but a fake.

Most of its inhabitants were disorientated beachcombers, dissatisfied yearners, being "bohemian" on a substantial income, running up the rentals for all genuine artists who might come near the place. So a feigned enthusiasm for art could easily turn into a feigned enthusiasm for world planning—always, as by chance, on the Moscow model.

In New York's foreign aspect, you must never forget its 480,000 Negroes, American citizens tho they be. They flocked into Harlem [above 120th st., on upper Manhattan], during the bonanza years. Their numbers diminished somewhat during the lean years.

Now, of course, they all have jobs. They do a good part of New York's domestic labor; they operate elevators. But are they as a community on the way up, like their predecessors? Of that the sagest observers are dubious, and it is only stating the plain if unpleasant fact that many of New York's citizens wish that the Negroes of Harlem were somewhere else.

Anti-Semitism Stays.

In New York's history as the melting pot there has naturally been plenty of racial and religious prejudice. Against the Irish there was Know Nothingism, which spread over the nation wherever there were Catholics, then practically identical with Irish. That's dead and forgotten, but only a blind optimist could say the same of anti-Semitism.

In fact, New York has been a focal point for anti-Semitism inside the nation; it has been hated not merely as the abode of Wall st. and the morass of depravity, but as the "Jewish city."

In New York a generation ago it was often impossible for a person obviously Jewish to get a room in a hotel; the hotel was simply "full." The classified ads for "help wanted" often carried the tag "Christians only," meaning no Jews needed apply.

No such situation exists today, of course, but many Jews complain that they are still discriminated against in numerous subtle ways.

Grievances of Negroes.

The Negroes complain also, but their grievance is nation-wide and has no local cast to it. On the other hand, some angry muttering is heard among whites, of how unsafe it is now to walk in the streets of Harlem.

Whispered stories also circulate of white women molested, even outraged, in Central park. Of such underground seething race riots are made. No one likes the prospect of another period of misery in Harlem.

There are the facts as to how foreign New York is, if by "foreign" we mean born outside the United States, or children of parents born outside the United States. New York 40 per cent; the rest 15 per cent. . . .

[Tomorrow—The Whyfor of the Hostile Feeling Toward New York.]

MISS LUCE BACK, FLAYS NEW DEAL ON ITALY RECORD

BY JOSEPH HEARST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Rep. Luce [R., Conn.] told reporters today that Italians, "who are literally starving to death by the thousands," are disgruntled because the United States has "fallen down miserably on the administration's preelection promise to feed and clothe them."

Mrs. Luce returned today from her visit to the European battlefields and met reporters in her office. While she talked of the miseries of the cold and hungry liberated peoples, a canary sang gaily in its gilded cage behind her desk.

Promises Couldn't Be Filled.

She said it is impossible to overstate the misery of the Italian people and asserted that the great mistake was in promising them more than we could deliver. She said that possibly for political reasons the administration said the Italians would receive 300 grams [about 10½ ounces] of food a day. They haven't, she said, and signs on Rome's buildings such as "Less Poletti and More Spaghetti" are a symbol of their view of our broken promises.

The reference was to Charles Poletti, former governor of New York and now head of the AMG in Italy. She said Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative at the Vatican, is doing considerable to relieve suffering in Rome, but added: "What UNRRA is doing I am so far unable to find out."

Mrs. Luce said the case of Augusto, an 8 year old boy she "adopted" in Rome, illustrated the miserable condition of the Italians. The boy was the strongest, brightest appearing lad in a Vatican sponsored orphanage, but when she called in a doctor to examine him it developed the child was suffering from severe chilblains that had swollen his hands and feet to double their normal size, and had a severe heart condition, a lymphatic disease, and trench mouth.

Many "America First" Soldiers.

Mrs. Luce said that while she couldn't conduct a poll among American soldiers in Italy, she believed there are few isolationists among them, but a great many America firsters. The soldiers are thinking about post-war problems, she said, and they want principally:

1. Compulsory military training, so their sons will be better equipped to fight than they were.

2. A larger army, navy, and air force.

3. A post-war plan to keep the peace, by force if necessary, but are divided on the means to be used to apply force.

CHIMNEY CAUSES $300 FIRE.

MOTHER GUILTY; LEFT 2 BABIES IN CHILL FLAT

Mrs. Helen Ivanic, 22, of 853 N. Hermitage av., whose two infant children were removed by police early yesterday from their cold flat, where unwashed dishes were frozen in the sink, was found guilty by Judge George B. Weiss in Court of Domestic Relations of contributing to their dependency. When the judge learned she was living on a $21 mother's pension, out of which she pays $12 rent, he entered an application for probation to be heard on Jan. 16.

Mrs. Ruth Moen, 25, mother of three children, and Mrs. Beatrice Hanson, 19, mother of two, who share an apartment at 10065 Indianapolis blvd., were booked to appear in Women's court today on charges of contributing to dependency of children after East Side police found the five children abandoned without food or heat in the apartment Tuesday night.

Fiancee of Ace Flyer Bong Announces Wedding Plans

Has 40 Jap Planes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Maj. Richard I. Bong of Poplar, Wis., America's No. 1 ace with 40 destroyed Japanese planes to his credit, said today the best way he knows to teach less experienced pilots combat tactics is to have them get into a plane and fight.

"And besides being the best way to show them, it enabled me to keep up my flying time," he said at a press conference when asked how he shot down 12 enemy planes when he was supposed to be teaching gunnery.

Back from Philippines.

Bong has just returned from the Philippines, where he was awarded the congressional medal of honor for flying hazardous missions and shooting down Jap planes when he was not required to fly. He said he didn't know what his next assignment will be. He is going home within the next day or so for a visit with his parents.

"What about the reports that you are going to be married?" he was asked.

"You better ask her about that," he replied, blushing.

"Her" Is Marjorie Vattendahl.

"Her" is Miss Marjorie Vattendahl of Superior, Wis., whose picture adorned his P-38 fighter and with whom he formerly attended Superior State Teachers' college.

Bong, modest despite his score of medals and his great combat record, said the Jap pilots he has defeated were all "dodos" but said he understood the enemy pilots the American pilots have met recently over Manila are "eager for a fight and apparently better pilots."

"They are naval flyers and apparently they have had more flying time than some of those I've met," he said.

Praises Maj. McGuire.

Bong said he has not encountered any new type Japanese fighter planes but only improved models of some of the older ones.

"These take a little more lead before they go down and you have to chase them a little farther," he said.

Asked whether Maj. Thomas B. McGuire, San Antonio, Tex., who recently shot down his 38th Japanese plane, received any instructions from him, Bong said he hadn't.

"McGuire is a hell of a good combat pilot without instructions from any one," he said.

Bong sat beside Brig. Gen. Frederic Smith in a room filled with flying officers from generals down to lieutenants, while he told his story.

Marge in 'Tailspin'

Superior, Wis., Jan. 3 [Special].—Plans for her marriage to Maj. Richard I. Bong of Poplar, Wis., America's ace of aces, were revealed exclusively to THE TRIBUNE by Miss Marjorie Vattendahl, his fiancee, in an interview tonight.

Marjorie Vattendahl.

The blonde 21 year old senior in the Superior State Teachers' college said the marriage will take place Feb. 1 or a day or so later in the Concordia Lutheran church here.

Miss Vattendahl said the place, the approximate date, and other details were decided upon by the major and herself during a New Year's eve telephone conversation when he called her from San Francisco, Cal., on his arrival from the Pacific war theater.

Call a Big Surprise.

"The call was a delightful New Year's eve surprise," she said. "Of course, I knew he was on his way home, but I didn't know just when he would arrive. I could hardly believe it when I answered the phone and heard his voice."

The marriage has been set for early February because Miss Vattendahl is scheduled to be graduated Jan. 26 from the teachers' college. She will receive the degree of bachelor of science.

"In a Tailspin Right Now."

"I'm in a sort of tailspin myself right now," Miss Vattendahl said. "I've got all my school work to attend to and examinations to prepare for and wedding plans to make. I'm all excited."

Miss Vattendahl said she will be attended by three bridesmaids. Two of them will be Maj. Bong's sisters, Nelda, 21, and Geraldine, 19. The other will be Beverlee Barrett, a sorority sister of Miss Vattendahl.

Met at College Dance.

Miss Vattendahl announced her engagement to Maj. Bong last June. They met in November, 1943, when Bong, then a captain, was home on leave after bagging 21 Jap planes. The meeting took place at a teachers' college dance. When Bong returned to the Pacific he placed an enlarged photograph of Miss Vattendahl on the fuselage of his Lightning fighter plane.

Since their talk New Year's eve, Miss Vattendahl has not heard from Bong, she said. She expects him to be home in a day or so, however.

Villa Park Flyer Sinks Jap Warship in Seconds

LEYTE, Philippines [Delayed].—Lt. Robert E. Dunk, 22, Villa Park, Ill., and three other marine fighter-bomber pilots sank a Japanese destroyer in a few seconds in a recent action in the Camote sea. Dunk's bombs struck the craft amidships. His plane was damaged and he was forced to bail out at sea, where he was picked up by a PT boat.

PATROLS TRADE BLOWS ALONG ITALIAN FRONT

ROME, Jan. 3 (AP).—Fifth army patrols have pushed out in the direction of Massa, strongest German position in the Tyrrhenian area, as allied and German raiding parties stabbed into opposing lines virtually all along the Italian battle front, headquarters said today. The Fifth patrols made contact with German positions in the Massa area after inching their way thru minefields and booby traps.

On the Adriatic sector, Canadian forces closing on Alfonsine, on the Rimini-Ferrara highway, were reported in a suburb of the town after overcoming German resistance between the Fosso Vechio and Senio river.

South of Bologna a German patrol overran American 5th army positions just north of Livergnano but a doughboy counter-attack regained the positions. American mortar fire finally silenced an enemy propaganda broadcast which for two days and nights had been sending hot swing music and stale jokes.

BOETTIGER GETS PROMOTION TO LT. COLONEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—John Boettiger, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, has been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel in the army, it was learned today.

Lt. Col. Boettiger, at one time a Chicago newspaper man and later a Seattle, Wash., newspaper publisher, received his promotion on Dec. 8, the day he returned to the United States from a tour of duty in France and Germany. He entered the army as a captain in April, 1943, and was made a major the following November.

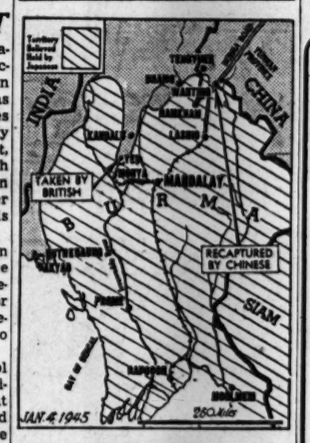

Boettiger served in North Africa, Sicily, and Italy as a civil affairs and allied military government officer. He was the only AMG officer to cross the beach at Salerno with combat troops on the day of the landing. He is now stationed in Washington in the civil affairs division of the war department.

Wembley May Convert Air Raid Shelters Into Homes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Faced with the problem of finding homes for 5,000 bombed out families, Wembley may convert its 100 surfaced air raid shelters into houses, it was reported today. The council of the borough, which is near London, is considering spending $1,600 each to give the shelters sloping roofs, windows, three bedrooms, a living room, kitchen, bathroom, and a hall. Central heating from a single stove is planned.

Advances in Burma

CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 4 [Thursday (AP).—The Chinese high command today announced the recapture of Wanting, Burma road base on the Burma border. A bulletin said the town, which was captured by the Japanese in May, 1942, fell at 4 p. m. yesterday and that "enemy dead and war trophies were being counted while enemy remnants were fleeing southward with our troops in pursuit."

A dispatch said the Japanese suffered heavy casualties in the final storming of the town, which is 636 miles by road from Kunming, northern terminus of the Burma road.

Renewed Japanese jabs in Hunan province in central China, possibly to close the Chinese-held gap in the Canton-Hankow railway, were reported by Chiang Kai-shek's high command. The new activity was centered around Chaling, 60 miles east of Hengyang, and around Leiyang, on the Canton-Hankow railway 33 miles south of Hengyang.

British Gain in Burma.

SOUTHEASTERN ASIA HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, Jan. 3 (AP).—British troops, sweeping across the Shwebo district of upper Burma virtually unopposed, have entered Yeu, terminus of a railway to Mandalay via Monywa on the lower Chindwin, it was announced today.

At Yeu the allied forces were less than 70 miles northwest of Mandalay and only 22 from Shwebo.

Other troops who Monday occupied the Mu canal village of Kabo, 12 miles northeast of Yeu, were consolidating their position. The Kabo plant, which controls the water supply for the entire Shwebo plain, was captured undamaged.

GEN. PLASTIRAS FORMS CABINET TO RULE GREECE

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 3 (AP).—Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, the new Greek premier, organized a cabinet tonight in which he retained four important posts himself and which left room for inclusion of left wing ELAS forces still battling the British in the Greek capital.

In addition to the premiership, Plastiras assumed the war, navy, air, and merchant marine portfolios.

Plastiras lumped some portfolios, such as justice, health, and social welfare, under one ministry, thus leaving room for inclusion of ELAS representatives when the entire cabinet is completed.

Most of the cabinet's members have liberal affiliations, but it could be described as composed more or less of insignificant members of prominent families with rightist traditions.

Liberal Foreign Minister.

Plastiras appointed John Sofianopoulos as minister of foreign affairs. The 57 year old appointee, said to rank second in importance to Plastiras, has a liberal background.

He founded the Greek Agrarian party in 1932. In 1936 he organized the Popular Front party with left wing elements and was imprisoned subsequently by the late Premier-Dictator John Metaxas.

Sofianopoulos escaped to Paris, returned to Athens in 1940 when Greece was at war with Italy, and lived there all during the German occupation. He combined his Agrarian party with the Socialist party to form the Union of the Left [Agrarian-Socialists].

He is known to be pro-Russian and friendly to America.

BRITISH PUSH AHEAD

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 3.—While Nicholas Plastiras, newly named Greek premier, was making his final selections this morning for the cabinet which he hopes will bring peace to Greece, British and Greek government forces continued their operations to drive the ELAS [leftist guerrilla forces] from the congested area north of Athens.

The stiffest fighting in several days flared up yesterday when the British pushed into the builtup section northeast of Omonoia square, which has been no man's land since the war began. In a yard by yard, room by room battle lasting 12 hours, the British cleared an area 400 yards square against fanatical resistance. One ELAS-held house, tho completely surrounded, held out until nightfall.

The British faced additional difficulties because the civilian jammed hospital in the center of the hostilities was used as an ELAS strong point. Unable to fire on the Red Cross but attempting to bluff, the British brought up two tanks whereupon the ELAS hurled mines on the tanks from the balcony. When patrols rushed the hospital 15 ELAS surrendered, including one uniformed nurse armed with a pistol.

CHICAGO NEEDS 55,000 TO FILL NEW WAR JOBS

At least 55,000 new war plant workers, including 20,000 for critical plants, are needed to help fill a backlog of $2,690,477,302 in orders with which Chicago started the new year, Col. Dan A. Hardt, chairman of the production urgency information committee, said yesterday.

At the same time, William H. Spencer, regional war man power commissioner, said he would ask representatives of the army, the war production board, and the war man power commission, why current shortages of workers and munitions were not anticipated. Spencer said he would put the question at the University of Chicago round table broadcast at 12:30 p. m. Sunday [NBC-WMAQ], at which he will act as moderator.

He said only 833,000 Chicagoans of a total of 1,830,000 men and women workers are in manufacturing, with 691,000 in trades and services, and 306,000 in all other categories. Only 25,000 are idle, he said, because of conversion lay-offs illness, vacations, and for other reasons.

'HARD' DECISION, BOWLES SAYS OF STAMP VOIDING

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—Recent cancellation of food ration stamps without previous announcement was described by Price Administrator Bowles today as "the hardest decision we ever had to make," but necessary to "give every one his fair share of 1945 supplies."

He told an American Management association luncheon that the country never had faced "a more critical period in our effort to hold war time prices in line and distribute scarce goods fairly."

Bowles said meat supplies would be 15 per cent less in the next three months than in the last quarter of 1944.

G. I. AMPUTATES 3 WOMEN'S LEGS WITH A SCISSORS

Saves Lives of Two Bomb Victims.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MALMEDY, Belgium, Jan. 3.—By the dim light filtering thru a shattered window of an air raid shelter, which had taken a direct bomb hit, a 20 year old former machine gunner performed five leg amputations on three women who lay mangled and trapped under fallen beams and bricks. One, an aged patient, died, but the other two lived.

The soldier who made the operations, equipped with nothing but a pair of surgical scissors and morphine, is Frank Palco, Roth, Va. He had only one week's training as a first aidman, and nothing in his previous background qualified him to serve as emergency surgeon.

He was in the rear area until a few months ago when he volunteered for the front line and went to a heavy machine gun company. A month ago the shortage of aidmen developed in his outfit and volunteers were called for. Palco stepped up again, took a one week's course, and went into action with the Red Cross.

Infirmary Bombed.

After the initial bombing of Malmedy on the morning of Dec. 24, Palco was sent to care for wounded civilians and soldiers.

A direct hit had smashed thru a schoolhouse where civilian doctors had been trying to set up an infirmary. The bomb smashed the shelter and tons of rubble slipped into the ruins, where civilians, most of them women, had been hiding.

Sgt. Palco started crawling over bricks in the shelter doorway. One middle-aged woman lay near the door, her leg pinned under a huge beam. Behind her Palco could see two others still alive. To get them out he had to move the first woman.

Leg or Woman's Life.

"I examined her," said Palco in a quiet, professional manner, "and saw I'd have to remove her leg. It was either her or the leg. Altho I know no French, she seemed to understand the situation.

"Her leg had been badly smashed. I gave her morphine and then amputated the leg with my scissors."

Crawling into the next compartment, Palco found another middle-aged woman pinned under the beams, with both legs badly crushed.

Third Patient Dies.

"I had to remove them," continued the young surgeon. "So again I gave morphine to take the edge off her pain and cut off the legs with my scissors."

With his second patient bandaged and on the way to the infirmary, Palco found his third patient, a very old woman, lying on a bench.

"At first I saw only a large gash in her thigh, which I covered with sulfa powder," said Palco. "When I tried to raise her I found both legs pinned. They were badly mangled and there was nothing else to do if I was to move her."

Again Palco operated with his scissors. But the shock and loss of blood was too much for the woman. She died while a jeep was hauling her to an aid station.

For his action on this tragic day Sgt. Palco has been recommended for a medal.

ILLINOIS FARMERS ARE 'IRREPLACEABLE,' STATE LEADER SAYS

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP).—Paul E. Johnston, University of Illinois professor serving as state supervisor of emergency farm labor, expressed belief today that most draft-deferred farmers in Illinois are "irreplaceable" and their induction into the fighting forces will mean "reduction in agricultural production."

Commenting on War Mobilization Director Byrnes' demand for drafting more farmers, Johnston said:

"In my judgment, very few of the deferred men are replaceable, particularly on live stock and dairy farms in central, northern, and western Illinois. There will be a reduction in beef cattle, hogs, and dairy products to the extent that they can not be replaced. On grain farms the situation will be less serious, especially where the farms are well mechanized. But on some of these farms the deferred men may be the only one who can operate the equipment."

LEADERS THROW DAMPER ON HOPE FOR TAX CUTS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The American people were told today by the tax leaders of congress to expect no major changes in their tax burdens—up or down—until Germany falls.

Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] of the house ways and means committee and George [D., Ga.] of the senate finance committee said in a joint statement that they saw "no prospect of changes," while Germany keeps fighting.

The statement followed a report to congress and the President Monday by War Mobilization Director Byrnes saying any general softening of tax burdens is impossible, until Japan as well as Germany is defeated.

HERSHEY SPEEDS BYRNES EDICT TO DRAFT FARMERS

BY PHILIP DODD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—In a move which farm state senators said threatened to cripple food production in 1945, Maj. Gen. Hershey, national draft director, tonight ordered the nation's draft boards to review the draft deferments of farm youths between 18 and 26, as ordered earlier in the day by War Mobilization Director Byrnes.

Hershey telegraphed state draft directors an order for local boards to begin pre-induction physical examinations of all deferred farm youths in the 18 thru 25 age bracket and directed that reviews of the draft deferments of such registrants be made at the same time.

In a letter to Hershey, Byrnes said President Roosevelt had found "that the further deferment of all men deferred in the 18 thru 25 age group because of agricultural occupation is not as essential to the best interests of our war effort as is the urgent need of the army and navy for young men."

Denies Blanket Deferment.

"The President has authorized me," Byrnes wrote, "to ask you to take such action in connection with the administration of the Tydings amendment as may be necessary to provide to the full extent of the law for reclassification and induction of men agriculturally deferred in the 18 to 25 year age group."

Byrnes said the Tydings amendment to the selective service act did not give blanket deferment to farm workers but was effective only if the drafting of a farm worker left land uncultivated.

The Tydings amendment, sponsored by Sen. Tydings [D., Md.], provides that a man who is necessary to, and regularly engaged in, an agricultural occupation "essential to the war effort" may be deferred as long as he remains in that occupation and until a "satisfactory replacement" for him can be obtained.

Johnson Opposes Move.

Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.], a member of the senate military affairs committee, which is responsible for selective service legislation, said in an interview he was opposed to any further depletion of farm man power.

"The Tydings amendment," said Johnson, "was intended to insure a supply of food for the country. I hope Judge Byrnes isn't inviting any break in the spirit of the law. Any further raids on our limited supply of efficient farm help will certainly be reflected on farm production."

In his letter to Hershey, Byrnes said he had been advised by War Food Administrator Jones that any loss in food production caused by the drafting of farm youths would not result in a critical situation. Byrnes said the only alternative would be to draft men in the 26 to 29 age bracket now deferred for industry, but that War Production Chairman Krug had said such action would make it extremely difficult to meet war demands.

Attack Jones' Stand.

Both Johnson and Sen. Reed [R., Kas.] attacked the reported statements by Jones and Krug. Reed quoted department of labor statistics showing that there was a decrease of 1,253,000 industrial workers between September, 1943, and September, 1944, and that the average work week declined from 46.4 hours to 46.1 hours. Johnson said the average farm work week is 72 hours.

"From these statistics," said Johnson, "it doesn't take a smart man to discover ways and means of decreasing the man power shortage. The boys left on the farms are technicians, operators of machinery, and you don't get that kind of help from war prisoners or the nationals of other countries."

"It can't be done," declared Sen. Bushfield [R. N. D.] when notified of Byrnes' order. "We've stretched as far as we can. Those who are ordering such a procedure must remember an army travels on its stomach. Where does Mr. Byrnes think we're going to get food in 1945?"

Brooks Rips Plan.

Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] asserted that if the government continues to change its rules a dangerous shortage of food will be caused. "Since the beginning of our mobilized war effort, agriculture has been the last to receive consideration," he said.

Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.] said the war production board should immediately permit the full production of farm machinery if more farm boys are to be drafted. "And farmers should be permitted to buy it when they need it," he added. "The time has come for farm machinery to go to our own people and not be lend-leased to those who can't use it anyhow."

FARM LEADER WARNS DRAFT PLAN MEANS LOWER FOOD OUTPUT

In commenting on War Mobilization Director Byrnes' draft announcement, Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association and vice president of the American Farm Bureau federation, said yesterday, "This order would result in a decrease in food production." He added:

"The men now deferred in this classification have been combed to the point where they are the most efficient of all agricultural workers, particularly in the handling of farm machinery and in the production of live stock and dairy products."

Sixty days ago, the last date for which draft figures have been released, the nation had 1,536,000 registrants, 18 thru 37 deferred by reason of employment in agriculture.

It is believed Illinois has about 92,000 agricultural deferments, of which some 9,000 are in Cook county. Of the state total, only 22,000 are said to be in the 18-26 group, 2,000 of them being in Cook county.

SHIP PROGRAM DUE TO BE CUT IN HALF IN JUNE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Barring unforeseen military requirements, production of merchant-type ships in American yards will be reduced drastically after June, it was disclosed today.

While the program for the first half of the year calls for 9 million deadweight tons, the present schedule for the second half calls for about 4 million tons. [Deadweight tonnage is the carrying capacity of a ship; usually it is more than twice a ship's actual or displacement weight.]

In announcing this at a news conference, Vice Adm. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, said the second half program is being reviewed by the joint chiefs of staff, who might order an upward revision.

Unless the joint chiefs of staff decide upon a sharp construction increase, some shipyards will be out of contracts far before the end of the year. They will either be converted to repair work or closed down.

Land announced construction allocations for 226 new ships to 18 yards, mostly for delivery in the latter part of 1945. The new allocations total something over 2,000,000 deadweight tons, and go to companies which Land said had "shown they can do the job."

Land reported today that American shipyards in 1944 delivered 1,677 vessels, with an aggregate deadweight tonnage of 16,343,436.

FIREMAN'S DEATH HELD ACCIDENT.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday that Fireman Stanley Mazurek, 45, of 11343 St. Lawrence av., died by accident when he fell and fractured his skull Tuesday when a burning building collapsed at 13551 Brandon av.

REPORT SHOWS HANNEGAN DREW CAMPAIGN PAY

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—The Republican and Democratic national committees received a total of 5½ million dollars in contributions and disbursed nearly 5 millions of this in election campaigning last year, their reports to the house clerk showed today.

The Republican committee listed receipts totaling $2,999,999.48, just under the 3 million dollar limitation fixed by congress, and expenditures of $2,828,652. Receipts by the Democratic group amounted to $2,562,784 against disbursements of $2,056,122.

The report from the Democratic committee disclosed that its national chairman, Robert Hannegan, was paid a regular weekly salary of $384.61, or at the rate of $20,000 a year.

Brownell Worked Free.

Disclosure that Hannegan was a "hired hand" on a salaried basis was regarded as of political significance, inasmuch as party national chairmen virtually always have been nonpaid workers. Herbert Brownell, the Republican chairman, worked without compensation.

Political observers said Hannegan's status as a paid worker apparently means that President Roosevelt has no intention of rewarding the campaign manager further for his work by giving him a choice administration post. They regarded the development as spiking rumors that Hannegan would replace Frank Walker, former Democratic chairman, as postmaster general.

Any influence Hannegan might have had in New Deal policy circles has been lost by his acceptance of the committee post on a purely commercial basis for the election campaign, these observers said.

Also Drew Expenses.

The Democratic group's report filed with the house showed that Hannegan received numerous expense allotments in addition to his $20,000 annual salary. From Jan. 27 thru Aug. 7, he got a total of $1,700 for "transportation, meals, hotel, and incidental expenses." Other expense allotments for $302.20 were given him in the first two weeks of November, and on Nov. 18 he received $500 as an "advance to be accounted for."

Political experts declared Hannegan's salaried status further emphasizes the influence held by Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO political action committee, who played a large part in swinging Roosevelt's election, but received no money compensation from the administration or Democratic party. Hillman's "independent" position, they explained, leaves him tremendous power to bargain with the administration for patronage on steps he wants taken in the interest of his followers, because he can use the threat of withdrawing CIO support.

The PAC has not yet filed its final report with the house on election campaign receipts and expenses.

Champaign Woman Freed of Forged Check Charge

Mrs. Wilma Johnson, 38, of Champaign, Ill., was discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Johnson on a charge of passing a $25 forged check in Danville, Ill. Bernard H. Sokol, an assistant United States attorney, told Commissioner Walker that the government did not have sufficient evidence to prosecute. Mrs. Johnson was arrested by federal agents Dec. 27.

CONGRESS SLAPS NEW DEAL IN ITS FIRST SESSION

Hint of Major Clashes Seen in Action.

cept Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Forrest C. Donnell of Missouri were sworn in. Saltonstall and Donnell, both Republicans, have not arrived in Washington.

Majority Leader Barkley [D., Ky.] proposed that Homer E. Capehart [R., Ind.] be sworn in "with prejudice," in view of the senate election committee's investigation of alleged election frauds in Indiana. Thus, Barkley said, there would be no delay in seating Capehart, but the senate would not lose its jurisdiction in case the committee's report, still unfinished, should raise any questions as to Capehart.

Barkley suddenly recalled, however, that he was himself neither majority leader nor senator [he hadn't been sworn in yet after his reëlection]. So he had to call on Sen. McKellar [D., Tenn.] to make the proposal officially. Capehart then was sworn in.

F. D. R. Message Saturday.

Democratic leaders visited President Roosevelt yesterday, announced that the senate was ready for business, and learned he would send his customary message to the new congress Saturday.

Wallace nevertheless followed tradition by appointing Barkley and Minority Leader White [R., Me.] a committee to notify the President that the senate was assembled. The two leaders stepped to the back of the chamber, chatted a moment, nodded, and returned.

Barkley then solemnly reported that the committee had acted "with dispatch." The President had been notified, Barkley said, and had replied that he would be pleased to send his message up for a joint session of congress Saturday.

Sen. Tydings [D., Md.] presented the senate a bust of former Secretary of State Hull on behalf of the Cumberland [Md.] Times and Sunday Times. Wallace accepted on behalf of the senate, explaining that there was no senate precedent for accepting such a gift but that he had acted for the senate in making a rule by which it could be accepted.

No Precedent for Hull.

"I may say," the Vice President commented, "that there is also no precedent for Cordell Hull."

Former Sen. Watson of Indiana, for many years the senate Republican floor leader, sat in the chamber during the proceedings, which lasted 48 minutes. The senate adjourned until the joint session Saturday.

Barkley discussed the grave import of the military and international matters to come before the senate during the next two years in an interview after the session. He predicted that the program demanded by War Mobilization Director Byrnes would soon be introduced in legislative matters, but said he did not know who would introduce it.

WHAT HOUSE DID

In the house, 396 of the 435 members were in their seats when Clerk South Trimble convened the chamber and called the roll before packed galleries. The membership includes 78 first termers, of whom three, all Democrats, are women. There are 243 Democratic members, 190 Republicans, and two from minor parties.

The chamber's first action following the roll call was the election of Rep. Rayburn [D., Tex.] as speaker of the house for the fourth consecutive term. The vote, which was predetermined in view of the Democratic majority, gave 224 votes to Rayburn against 168 for Minority Leader Martin [R., Mass.].

Under the glare of floodlights turned on for the occasion Rayburn was escorted down the center aisle of the chamber to the speaker's rostrum by a committee of house leaders composed of Martin, Majority Leader McCormack [D., Mass.], and Representatives Cooper [D., Tenn.], Cannon [D., Mo.], and Woodruff [R., Mich.].

Gets Huge Ovation.

The speaker, who has won bipartisan popularity in his 32 years in congress, received a tremendous ovation as he was formally introduced by Martin.

In his introductory remarks, the minority leader, turning to his Republican colleagues, warned that they, as the minority opposition party, have the "task of protecting the freedoms and rights of the people and effectively establishing a proper check on the majority."

"We shall not fail—we dare not fail—to fulfill effectively the great assignment," he said.

Martin, paying tribute to Rayburn as a "man of high character and substance," who will lead the house with even justice, introduced him to the chamber as "your speaker and my speaker."

Pleads for New League.

In his acceptance speech Rayburn declared that "civilization is at the cross-roads" and pleaded for house unity in winning the war and the peace that follows.

The speaker, with Democrats applauding and most Republicans remaining silent, pleaded for United States participation in a new league of nations, implemented with strong forces, to keep the peace of the world. He charged that the United States walked out of the world in 1920 by rejecting Woodrow Wilson's dream for a world league then.

"If it takes force to preserve the peace of the world," he said, "I am willing to join with other Democratic and peace loving people and use all the force that is necessary to have an ordered world."

Following his acceptance remarks Rayburn was sworn into office by Rep. Sabath [D., Ill.], chairman of the rules committee. The leader then led the nearly 400 members present in taking their oath of office.

Following the vote to establish the committee on un-American activities, the house completed routine procedural business and adjourned until tomorrow.

GILLETTE NAMED BY F.D.R. TO WAR SURPLUS BOARD

Porter Appointed to Fly's FCC Post.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Sen. Gillette, Iowa Democrat defeated for reëlection last fall, was nominated by President Roosevelt today for the vacant place on the surplus property board. Senators said quick confirmation was certain.

To fill other high administration posts Mr. Roosevelt made these nominations:

Harry D. White of Maryland to be assistant secretary of the treasury, succeeding John L. Sullivan, who resigned Dec. 1 to reënter private law practice.

Paul A. Porter of Kentucky to be a member of the federal communications commission. Porter, who was director of Democratic campaign publicity last year, would succeed James L. Fly, who resigned Nov. 15 to enter private business. Porter is holding office now under an interim appointment.

Austin Favors Gillette.

J. Haden Alldredge of Alabama and Charles D. Mahaffie of the District of Columbia to be members of the interstate commerce commission. These are reappointments. The nomination of Mahaffie disappointed some southern senators who have been urging appointment of an additional southerner to the ICC.

The nomination of the 55 year old Gillette had been widely anticipated. President Roosevelt had to wait to make it until Gillette left the senate with convening of the new congress.

Sen. Austin [R., Vt.], ranking minority member of the senate military committee, said he felt sure the nomination would have "strong backing" on both sides of the aisle.

Austin led the Republican opposition to the recent confirmation of former Gov. Robert A. Hurley of Connecticut, chairman, and Lt. Col. Edward H. Heller as the other two $12,000 a year members of the agency which may dispose of up to $100,000,000,000 of surplus war plants and property.

Criticism of Porter.

"I doubt whether the committee will hold hearings on Sen. Gillette's appointment," Austin said. "We all know him and his background."

Tho some Republicans have been critical privately of appointment of the former Democratic publicity chieftain to the FCC, there has been no indication as yet of any vigorous opposition to confimation.

White's nomination to be assistant secretary of the treasury is regarded as putting him in line to conduct the fight to win congressional approval for the administration's views on international monetary problems.

A 52 year old former Harvard economics teacher, White has been with the treasury since 1934 and at present is an assistant to Secretary Morgenthau. He is credited with putting over the agreements reached at the Bretton Woods, N. H., monetary conference.

REED IS ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF ILLINOIS BLOC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3—Rep. Reed [R., Ill.] of West Chicago was elected chairman of the Illinois Republican delegation at a meeting of the group today.

Reed, serving his sixth term in the House, succeeds, Rep. Allen of Galena, as head of the delegation. Allen resigned the post because of other duties, which include Illinois delegate on the G. O. P. committee on committees, and his position as ranking minority member of the House rules committee.

Rep. Bishop of Carterville was chosen secretary of the delegation. Rep. Dirksen of Pekin was reëlected as the state's delegate on the G. O. P. congressional campaign committee.

The group also indorsed Rep. Church [R.] of Evanston for membership on the House ways and means committee, to fill a vacancy left by the defeat of Rep. Dewey. The actual selection will be made by the Republican committee on committees, which includes a member from each state.

Trial of 3 on $300,000 Swindle Charge Delayed

Trial of the three Pike brothers—Silas, Ernest, and Charles—operators of a nursery in St. Charles, on an indictment charging them with using the mails to defraud more than a million flower lovers of $300,000 in dimes in an alleged scheme to include surprise packages in seed purchases, was continued until Jan. 29 yesterday by Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw.

LOOP FIRE BLOCKS TRAFFIC.

A fire on the third floor of the La Rue hotel, 175 N. Clark st., apparently caused by a defective chimney, attracted a crowd that blocked traffic during the rush hour last evening. No one was injured.

POLICE QUESTION 3 IN HOLDUP OF RATION BOARD 5

Three young Negroes, two of whom, police said, admitted they held up local rationing board No. 5 at 5125 Calumet av., Dec. 22 and robbed the chief clerk, Miss Anna L. White, 4643 Michigan av., of coupons good for 492,000 gallons of fuel oil, 150 tire certificates, and 10 stove stamps, were held yesterday while federal agents investigated the robbery.

Policemen Merrill Coleman and Joseph Walsh of the Wabash Avenue station arrested Leo Fields of 4544 South Park way at 51st and State sts., and said he had in his possession 12,000 fuel oil coupons.

Hyde Park police held Bernard Webster, 16, and Robert Crockett, 20, who refused to give their address, and they and Fields were being questioned in connection with recent holdups.

95 NEWCOMERS IN CONGRESS ARE COLORFUL CREW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—A survey of the 95 new members of the 79th congress today indicated the next two years of legislative action will be as colorful as veteran observers have come to expect under the New Deal regime.

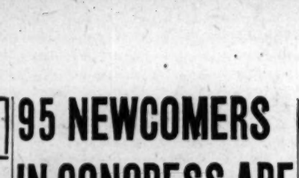

The freshman legislators ranged from a retired street sweeper to a millionaire phonograph manufacturer. The three new women members of the house indicated they would be vigorous participants in debate. A new Negro congressman from New York City with a radical background promised he would be heard from.

Helen Douglas Disappoints.

Among the 79 new representatives singled out for scrutiny by the crowded galleries were:

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, [D., Cal.], wife of the movie actor, Melvyn Douglas. She disappointed those looking for "glamor" by wearing unrelieved black.

Rep. Emily Taft Douglas, [D., Ill.], wife of Paul Douglas, University of

Chicago professor, who wore a purple outfit with a spray of gardenias.

Rep. [Mrs.] Chase G. Woodhouse, [D., Conn.], Canadian born, a professor of economics, who wore black.

Prefers "City Laborer."

Rep. William J. Gallagher, [D., Minn.], 69 years old, who prefers the label "city laborer" to streetsweeper as his occupation before Minneapolis retired him on a $25.48 monthly pension in 1942. He said he would fight for a single tax.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell [D., N. Y.], Negro preacher and New

York City councilman, whose Communist front affiliations have been listed by the committee on un-American activities.

Rep. Hugh De Lacey [D., Wash.], former shipyard worker, another Communist fronter listed in the same committee's files.

Rep. Robert F. Rich [R., Pa.], returning to the house after a two year absence. Rich's daily "Where are you going to get the money?" speeches were a feature of former sessions.

Rep. Matthew M. Neely [D., W. Va.], who left the senate four years ago to become governor of his state, now returning in the humbler role of representative.

Rep. J. M. Coombs [D., Tex.], successor to Rep. Dies, who refused to run for reëlection in the face of CIO-PAC opposition.

Rep. Augustus W. Bennet [R., N. Y.], who beat Rep. Fish by running both as a Democrat and Republican but who will sit with the Republicans.

One Is Wounded Veteran.

Rep. John E. Lyle [D., Tex.], a wounded veteran of the Italian campaign in this war. He is noted as the forerunner of the many veterans who are expected to sit in congress during the coming years.

In the senate, the crowds leaned forward curiously when the name of Leverett Saltonstall, the new Republican senator from Massachusetts, was called. He has been labeled a Republican possibility for the Presidency in 1948. Sen. Walsh [D., Mass.], announced, however, that Saltonstall was still detained by his official duties as governor and would not appear until next week.

Other new senate faces:

Sen. Homer E. Capehart [R., Ind.], phonograph manufacturer, sponsor

Clings to Frock Coat.

Sen. Brien McMahon [D., Conn.], former head of the justice department's criminal division, a robust New Dealer.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson [D., Wash.], just graduated from the house, who assumed his seat a few days ago. He is a left winger.

Sen. Clyde R. Hoey [D., N. C.], who clings to a frock coat and who is expected to furnish southern Democratic dramatics to senate debates.

Sen. Glen H. Taylor [D., Idaho],

known chiefly as the "singing cowboy."

Sen. J. William Fulbright [D., Ark.], 38, former Rhodes scholar, leading house exponent of "world organization," who succeeds Sen. Hattie Caraway. Her going leaves the senate without a woman member.

Michigan Lieutenant Dies as Two Bombers Collide

Santa Barbara, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP).—Collision of two bombers yesterday killed four pilots, marine corps authorities announced today. The dead included 2d Lt. Walter Seroka of Detroit.

500 NEW BILLS OFFERED; MANY TO AID VETERANS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Proposals to aid veterans predominated today among bills introduced as the 79th congress opened.

Approximately 500 measures were on file in the house, fewer than half the usual number at an opening session.

They ranged all the way from claims measures to pay some one damages to suggestions for overhauling government procedure—but the theme of scores of them was "let's help the veterans."

One big measure, the $500,000,000 omnibus rivers and harbors bill, which was killed in a congressional deadlock on the closing day of the 78th congress, was reintroduced by Rep. Bland [D., Va.].

Many for Veterans.

The sought after spot of H. R. 1 went to a veterans' proposal submitted by Rep. Ludlow [D., Ind.]. It is designed to speed disability benefits for honorably discharged service personnel.

Others along the same line included:

By Rep. Lesinski [D., Mich.], to provide for adjusted service pay for those in the fighting forces; by Rep. Voorhis [D., Cal.], to provide for dollar for dollar matching by the government of enlisted men's savings; by Rep. Lane [D., Mass.], to put merchant marine veterans on the same basis as other services, and by Rep. Jonkman [R., Mich.], to cancel to the extent of $100 the income tax liability of members of the fighting forces for the taxable year prior to their entering service.

Chairman May [D., Ky.] of the house military committee introduced legislation to require able bodied youths of 18 to 21 to take one year of military training in peace time.

Voorhis Leads List.

Voorhis outstripped all his colleagues in total number of "public" measures contributed, with 36. Lane had 22 and Rep. Bland [D., Va.] 19.

Other house bills introduced included these by:

Elliott [D., Cal.], to provide that in disposing of lands acquired by the government for war purposes a preference shall be given to former owners.

Voorhis [D., Cal], to insure maximum oil production; to facilitate smaller war plants in reconverting to peace time production; to authorize the coinage of 50 cent pieces in memory of Will Rogers; to prevent monopoly; to vest in the government unconditional ownership of the 12 federal reserve banks; to provide for a Wake Island memorial.

Patman [D., Tex.], to terminate authority of the treasury to issue interest bearing obligations of the government to commercial banks, providing for an excise tax on retail stores.

CROONING SENATOR AND FAMILY WARBLE: O, GIVE US A HOME!

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Sen.-elect Taylor [D., Idaho] gathered his family about him on the cold steps of the capitol this morning, strummed a chord on his battered banjo and starting singing:

O, give us a home, near the capitol dome,
With a yard where little children can play—
Just one room or two, any old thing will do—
O, we can't find a pla-a-a-ce to stay!

Then, with two movie cameras, a dozen still photographers, and a microphone near-by, the Idahoan observed:

"I think it would be a good idea to put up a barracks where new members of congress could stay."

Mrs. Taylor, an attractive brunet, put her arms around the two Taylor youngsters and said things were never like this back in Pocatello.

While waiting for their song to produce a house the Taylors are staying at a hotel.

ALL IS HARMONY AS LEGISLATIVE SESSION OPENS

State Democrats Pledge to Aid G. O. P.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 3.—With Democrats promising coöperation with the Republican majority, the 64th regular session of the Illinois legislature opened today by electing Hugh Green of Jacksonville speaker of the house and Edward E. Laughlin of Freeport senate majority leader.

The session's smooth start showed scarcely a ripple remaining from last night's upset of Gov. Green's recommendation that T. Mac Downing of Macomb be elected senate floor leader. By a 19 to 14 vote in secret ballots the senators reprimanded the governor for withholding his choice until the 11th hour.

Republican leaders seem to agree that the rebuff will save the governor some trouble during the session. They said the incident provided an outlet for pent-up grievances and that now the legislators are in a more tractable mood.

Sullivan Is Minority Leader.

Rep. Green said he would be as mild as possible with fractious members.

Timothy J. Sullivan of Springfield, Democratic candidate for speaker, became minority floor leader after his defeat by a strictly party vote of 79 to 74. The G. O. P. has just two votes more than a constitutional majority required to pass bills.

"It is not our intention to cause any hardship or any obstructions in this legislature," Sullivan told the Republicans. "We want a program to go thru for the benefit of all the people. You won't have to ask for Democratic votes if your program is right."

May Reduce Committee Sizes.

Both the new speaker and minority leader are from the 45th senatorial district, as is Guy Wood of Jacksonville, who was elected doorkeeper of the house. Fred W. Ruegg of Carlinville was elected clerk and Nellie Gray of Decatur postmistress.

Speaker Green will name the majority floor leader and make committee appointments in about 10 days. He distributed cards so that members can state preferences as to committee service. Committees may be reduced in size by two-thirds, he indicated, suggesting that the idea be taken up in party caucuses.

Senate Republicans, who outvote the Democrats 34 to 17, had no difficulty in installing Laughlin as president pro tem.

Edward Alexander of Jacksonville had no opposition for reëlection as senate secretary.

CAB DRIVERS CHARGE POLICE WAR IS UNFAIR

Taxicab drivers won a hearing from Edward J. Gorman, acting vehicle license commissioner, yesterday for their protest against what they described as unfairness and overzealousness in the police campaign to run cheating drivers off the streets. Gorman promised that steps would be taken to protect honest cab drivers.

The drivers' side was presented by Dominic Abata, president, and Oscar Kofkin, vice president and business agent of the Taxicab Drivers' union, local 777 [AFL], at a conferenee they requested with Gorman. Twenty policemen detailed to Gorman have been on duty since Dec. 22 investigating taxicab violations.

Abata invited Gorman to make an incognito tour of the city to observe conditions among cab drivers, especially the hardships that Abata said resulted from failure to allow them meal and rest periods, and the right to refuse fares after 10 hours' work.

Arrests of 27 cab drivers in the first 12 days of the drive against cheating were reported by Gorman, who said the police efforts have been successful in keeping violations at a minimum during the difficult holiday period when cabs have been transporting an average of 125,000 passengers a day.

MAIL CARRIER KILLS HIMSELF.

Fred Kunhart, 43, of 2232 S. Drake av., shot and killed himself with a 12 gauge shotgun yesterday in the bathroom of his home. Kunhart had been a mail carrier for 19 years at the Pilsen postal station.

SPEED BILLS TO TURN CANAL INTO SUPER ROAD

Airport Project Gets Right of Way.

BY ROBERT HOWARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 3.—Legislative right of way today was given bills creating a special commission to speed action on turning the abandoned Illinois and Michigan canal into a super-highway route into Chicago, thus giving Chicago better access to its airport.

As the 1945 general assembly convened, the first house bill, introduced by Rep. J. Ward Smith [R., Ottawa], directed that the proposed commission make its report before May 1, so that any additional legislation can be passed before sine die adjournment.

Another Bill in Senate.

An almost identical measure, by Minority Leader Daley [D., Chicago] was advanced to second reading in the senate without reference to a committee.

"The commission shall make a study of the Illinois and Michigan canal with particular reference to obtaining information as to what national and state legislation and other steps would be necessary to change the physical properties of the canal so that they would serve a more useful purpose," the bills said.

Gov. Green and Mayor Kelly have both supported plans to transform the old canal into a modern superhighway from its terminal at Ashland avenue and the Chicago river's south branch, at least to Summit. Such a road would speed up driving time to Chicago's municipal airport and provide a direct connection to most of downstate Illinois.

Asks Larger Appropriation.

Daley's bill provided that the commission, with a $5,000 appropriation, would be composed of three members of each house, Atty. Gen. Barrett, Walter A. Rosenfield, director of public works and buildings, and representatives of the legislative reference bureau and the legislative council. Smith's bill increased the appropriation to $20,000, provided for five members from each house, and for a member to be appointed by Gov. Green.

Several plans for state payment of a bonus to World War II. veterans, an issue on which Gov. Green has not declared himself, were among the opening day bills.

Eight Republican senators introduced a duplicate of the 1923 law, under which soldiers and sailors in the first war received maximum bonuses of $300, paid at a rate of 50 cents a day. That bonus was financed by a 55 million dollar bond issue, for which interest payments increased the final cost to $85,449,000.

Would Raise Sales Tax.

Bonus payments would be made for service after Sept. 16, 1940, under the bill, sponsored by Senators Peters [R., St. Joseph], Knox [R., Chicago], Carpentier [R., East Moline], Downing [R., Macomb], Dick [R., Quincy], Thompson [R., Galesburg], Van Hooser [R., Metropolis], and Bidwill [R., River Forest]. They left for later determination the amount of the bond issue needed.

Sen. Collins [R., De Kalb] would avoid a bond issue for his bonus plan, which would pay up to $500 for domestic service and $1,000 for overseas. For finances, he would use 50 million dollars from the treasury surplus and increase the retail sales tax to 3 per cent.

Would Reduce Voting Age.

A constitutional amendment to reduce the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 years, was proposed by Rep. Howard J. Gorman [D., Peoria] as the two houses adjourned until Monday. Gorman said that 18 year olds now fighting in the armed forces should have the right to vote.

A bill proposed by Rep. C. D. Franz [D., Freeport] would cut the sales tax from two to one per cent after June 30.

Members of the Chicago school and park boards would be elected, each having two members from each of five districts, under a bill by Rep. Armstrong [R., Chicago]. An additional member would be elected to each body from the city at large. The boards are now appointed by the mayor.

Another bill introduced today would provide pensions for persons of 60 years or older who are unable to make a living. It came from Rep. Robert H. Allison. [R., Pekin].

Wife of Flossmoor's Village Attorney Burned

Mrs. Evelyn Wiles, 41, wife of Walter Wiles, village attorney of Flossmoor, was severely burned in her home at 101 Marston lane, Flossmoor, last night when her clothing caught fire apparently while she was at the kitchen range. She was taken to St. James' hospital in Chicago Heights, where physicians said she was suffering from burns about the body, face, and hands. Her husband was attending a meeting in Chicago at the time. One son, Ronald, 8, was home; another, Bruce, 10, was away.

2d of Chicago Twins Dies of Wreck Injuries

Pvt. Joseph G. Gabriel, 19, of 1114 Wrightwood av., died yesterday in the army air base hospital at Reno, Nev., of injuries suffered Sunday in a Southern Pacific railroad wreck near Ogden, Utah. His death raised the death toll in the accident to 49. His twin brother, Pvt. William J. Gabriel, also was killed in the crash. The twins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gabriel, were en route to a west coast camp.

POLICE GUARDING PETRILLO TO BE REMOVED TODAY

For the first time since 1932, James Petrillo, head of the musicians union, will not be under the protection of two Chicago detectives today.

Commissioner Allman yesterday ordered Detectives John Pine and William Ricker, who have had the assignment for two years, to report to the detective bureau today for reassignment. From 1932 to 1942, the detectives assigned to guard Petrillo were Gordon McKune and William Shoemaker, son of the late chief of detectives. The younger Shoemaker was killed in a fall at his home in 1942.

The two detectives detailed to guard Petrillo accompanied him at all times. When Petrillo went out of town, the detectives went too. No reason was given for the abandonment of the detail.

Petrillo was out of town and unavailable for comment.

MAYORS FIGHT AIR MONOPOLY FOR NEW YORK

Miami, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP).—Midwestern and southern mayors today pledged themselves to make a national issue out of what they termed New York City's efforts to monopolize international aviation.

Mayors of Detroit, Cincinnati, Birmingham, Tampa, Nashville, and Miami agreed at the closing session of the Miami-sponsored aviation conference today to submit their cause to the National Conference of Mayors, which meets Jan. 26 in Washington.

SENATE GROUP ASKS U.S. PRESS BIG HEALTH PLAN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—A senate subcommittee today recommended a vast national health program centered on post-war federal-state construction of hospitals and health centers.

The group, headed by Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.], also recommended:

1. Federal loans and grants to aid in providing sewer and water facilities and milk pasteurization plants in communities which lack them.
2. Full-time public health departments in all communities as soon as needed personnel becomes available, with increased federal grants to state health departments.
3. Preservation of selective service's medical records and appropriation of funds for study of them.
4. Immediate steps to provide more medical men with training in psychiatry "with a view to providing child guidance and mental hygiene clinics on a far wider scale."
5. Federal scholarships or loans to assist qualified students—both men and women—desiring medical or dental education.

In advancing these and other proposals, the group, appointed by the labor committee to study war time health and education, made no estimate of cost. Members in addition to Pepper are Senators Thomas [D., Utah], Tunnell [D., Del.], La Follette [Prog., Wis.], and Wherry [R. Neb.].

The report to the full committee noted that about 4½ million men have been rejected by the army and navy because of defects.

"If this situation was preventable—and we are profoundly convinced that it was—this nation has an immediate duty to seek an adequate remedy," the report said.

The idea for a network of hospitals and medical centers follows this pattern: In each "major medical service area"—a state or smaller or larger division—there would be a "large base hospital." In smaller areas there would be district hospitals or health centers.

STUDY ACCOUNTING

Women and men will find unusual opportunities in the post war adjustment if they know or will learn accounting. Government and industry need adequate records as never before, for cost, social security and tax purposes. Reconversion to civilian goods will call for many more figures. There is a greater demand for accountants while fewer than usual have been preparing for this field during war. And the opportunities will extend far into peace times.

ARMY KICKS OUT 2 WARD CHIEFS; TOTAL NOW 13

Officers Find Business Is Complex System.

The army completed its first week's operation of 16 seized Montgomery Ward & Co. properties yesterday with the following developments:

Stanley Houda.

1. Two additional store managers were replaced by army officers, bringing to 13 the number of managers ousted by the army.

2. The federal grand jury inquiring into alleged interference with army operation of Ward's Chicago properties was recessed after hearing additional witnesses.

3. Top ranking army officers in charge of the operation of the seized properties began to take account of the bewildering complexity of their task.

Two Executives Supplanted.

Lloyd L. Footh, 47, manager of the Chicago mail order house, was dismissed by the army, which installed Maj. Lawrence F. Daly in his place. Five other executives of the mail order house, however, were retained. They are L. L. Robertson, personnel manager; M. L. Erickson, operations manager; George P. Haack, merchandise manager, and R. A. Bryant, controler.

A. R. Wilkes, general manager of the St. Paul [Minn.] mail order house, was replaced by Maj. Bernard A. Norsworthy.

Russell Hunsinger, manager of the St. Paul retail store, who was replaced Tuesday by an army officer, was at work yesterday in the Montgomery Ward & Co. St. Paul regional office, which is not affected by the seizure.

The grand jury questioned M. S. Shinnick, Ward plant protection superintendent in Chicago; Stanley Houda, chief of guards; Peter J. Hoffman, foreman of the Ashland Construction company, 6808 Clark st., and Edward Simon, a laborer employed by the company. They were among a group of workmen who sought unsuccessfully to carry some pre-fabricated panels for construction of partitions into the plant last Sunday and Monday, but were prevented from doing so because of locked doors.

After recessing the grand jury, United States Atty. Woll said he will scan the evidence presented to the jury before asking it to take action. He declined to say whether any of the witnesses before the jury signed immunity waivers.

Operation Complicated Problem.

Army officers, meanwhile, were wondering how to keep separate the operation of the seized properties from Ward's other interlocking properties.

The company operates some 640 retail stores, of which only 10 are in charge of the army, and nine mail order houses, of which the army seized only three. The companys' retail business is divided into five regions. Many regional warehouses serve not only stores seized by the army, but also stores operated by the company. Thus, if a store operated by the army fills an order from a warehouse run by the company, the army must do business with Montgomery Ward & Co.; and if a retail store or mail order house operated by the company fills an order from a warehouse seized by the army, the company must do business with the army.

The company's mail order houses are located at Oakland, Portland, Ore.; Chicago; Baltimore, Md.; Albany, N. Y.; St. Paul, Minn.; Denver, Colo.; Kansas City, Mo., and Fort Worth, Tex. The Chicago, Portland, and St. Paul mail order houses were seized by the army.

The retail stores are grouped in five regions known as the eastern states, lake region, south central region, north central region, and western states. Buying for the retail stores ordinarily is done on a regional basis.

Cash Put in Special Account.

The army is meeting its current bills in connection with the operation of the business in Chicago with cash received over the counter at the Chicago retail store. This money is deposited in a special bank account opened under the name of Maj. F. W. Reese, finance officer, who is signing checks for payment of current bills as "special representative of the secretary of war, custodian."

H. B. Anderson, president, and Adolph Loresch, secretary and treasurer of local 20, United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employes [CIO], sought yesterday to see Lt. Col. Daniel Boland, army labor officer, about placing in effect war labor board directives concerning wages, check-off, and maintenance of membership.

After waiting for an hour, they were told to return later. Upion stewards subsequently held a meeting in the union hall at 518 Chicago av.

The army later said that Boland attended the stewards' meeting.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 3 (AP).—State-federal old age pensions went to 124,004 persons in December, 316 fewer than in November, and totaled $3,866,528, the state public aid commission reported today.

NEW ZERO WAVE PREDICTED FOR CHICAGO TODAY

High of 22 Is Set for Tomorrow.

Zero weather was forecast for Chicago again this morning by Weatherman E. S. Hanlon, but warmer weather is due tomorrow. The temperature was expected to climb to 15 above today, fall no lower than 8 tonight, and rise to 22 degrees tomorrow, the weather bureau reported.

Elsewhere the cold weather and snowbound highways threw several thousand workers into idleness and prevented delivery of three million dollars worth of war goods.

In Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia workers were forced into idleness by a shortage of fuel gas. A war production board directive, diverting 15 million cubic feet of gas daily from the Hope Natural Gas company in West Virginia to the Columbia Gas and Electric company for Ohio consumption, resulted in the Hope company imposing a 50 per cent curtailment on all industrial users of its four state system, excepting war plants.

Snow Blocks Roads.

Oren J. Brown, president of the Erie Truck Operators' association, said that snow blocked roads prevented delivery of war goods in Erie, Pa., and that material is piling up in warehouses.

Ohio residents, hit by a severe blizzard, experienced several shortages. Cincinnati lacked sufficient gas, Cleveland suffered from an acute coal shortage, and in some communities bread was running short along with other food supplies, especially farm products.

The office of price administration in Washington, D. C., announced yesterday that there was a shortage in fuel oil, too, and warned householders to go easy. No extra rations will be available later this winter, it added.

Cold Wave in South.

Even the southern states were feeling the cold wave. Jacksonville, Fla., reported 34 degrees. But out in California, Los Angeles was the nation's warmest city with a high of 76, while coldest honors went to International Falls, Minn., where it was 11 below zero.

Northern Minnesota may retain that record today, the weather bureau said, with a prediction of 15 to 20 degrees below.

EX-CONVICT HELD TO JURY.

John Peterson, 45, of 2112 N. Clark st., an ex-convict, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court where he was charged with robbery. Bond was set at $10,000.

TELLS HOW ARMY MADE ARABS EAT STOLEN SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 [Special].—The tactic of making Arabs eat whatever army supplies they were caught stealing—sometimes a bit rough on the thief's digestive system—was described today by Brig. Gen. Joseph Dillon at a press conference as one of the more successful counter-offensives against looters in North Africa.

Whether it was cigarets or coffee beans a thief was found with, he was made to consume it on the spot, "and would have been made to eat cans if he could have downed them," related Gen. Dillon, who was provost marshal general in North Africa, Italy, and southern France and soon will become deputy provost marshal in Europe.

Dead Arab Is Effective.

"But sometimes the only way to stop pilfering from trucks was to leave a dead Arab on the road where every one could see him," the general added.

Not all the stealing was done by natives. In France, Gen. Dillon said, 198 soldiers were caught in pilfering linked with black market operations, their crimes having been discovered by investigating the amounts of money they sent home.

English speaking racketeers in Italy, well supplied with American currency, paid army truck drivers as much as $1,000 a day to divert a truckload of rations to the black market. Some soldiers were trapped when they purchased money orders to send home sums in excess of the pay roll of their entire units.

One gang, when caught, tried to bribe an enlisted man who arrested them, Gen. Dillon said. They gave him $10,000 but he turned the money over to authorities.

Hijacking trucks in Italy resulted in pitched battles between the looters and military police in which 27 Italians were killed along highways in six weeks. The general said this toll among the hijackers had a sudden effect in dissuading them against looting American trucks.

Gen. Dillon said he regretted to report, however, that a fairly substantial number of army drivers succumbed to the temptation to take the big money offered them by the black market operators.

Use "Red Ball" Highway.

He told of a successful protective system used in northern France. It is known as the "red ball" highway on which every truck following this system's routes is marked with red balls. Whenever a "red ball" truck is found off that highway, any officer is authorized to arrest the driver because he obviously has strayed from duty.

In an attempt to halt hijacking from railroads, a problem even more serious than looting from trucks, authorities adopted the following method: Railroad cars were thoroly and ingeniously sealed and were inspected at every stop. When a break in a seal was noted, the area in which the break was known to have been made was immediately combed.

12 Hurt in Derailment of Train in Mississippi

Corinth, Miss., Jan. 3 (AP).—Twelve persons were injured, none believed seriously, today when four rear cars on the Southern railway's Memphis-Washington passenger train were derailed near the Tennessee-Mississippi state line. Eight passengers were admitted to a hospital here for treatment. Four others were dismissed.

A. E. ASHCRAFT CO-RESPONDENT IN DIVORCE BILL

Alan E. Ashcraft Jr., 38, prominent Evanston attorney, former state representative, and now a master-in-chancery in Circuit court, was named co-respondent in a cross-bill for divorce filed yesterday by his former brother-in-law, Berrien Tarrant, 35, of 2229 Kenilworth av., Wilmette, who charged his wife, Jean, 34, with adultery.

Ashcraft was divorced Jan. 6, 1944, by Tarrant's sister, Ruth, who charged him with cruelty. Tarrant, special representative of the Canadian Life Assurance company, charged in his bill in Superior court that Mrs. Tarrant and Ashcraft conspired to obtain divorces so they could marry each other. He stated that Mrs. Tarrant, who is suing him for divorce on the ground of cruelty, sought to provoke him to acts of cruelty.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarrant were married in 1929, and separated Feb. 29, 1944. They have a son, Kent, 6. In her suit, she asserted he threw her against a piano bench, knocked her to the floor, and was "mean, insulting, and contemptuous."

Ashcraft served two terms in the legislature as representative for the 6th senatorial district.

WORKERS STRIKE AGAINST USE OF WAR PRISONERS

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 3 [Special].—Two hundred employes of the American Boxboard company here walked off their jobs today in what company officials said was an unauthorized strike protesting employment by the company of German prisoners of war.

Fenton Raber, personnel director for the company, said about 30 German prisoners have been working in the plant for the last six months and that their continued employment is essential to the maintenance of production schedules set by the army.

On Job for Army.

The company, which employes a total of 600 persons, is engaged in manufacturing boxboard shipping cartons for the army, and last month was requested to increase its production by 25 per cent for the first quarter of 1945, Raber said.

A complete shutdown of manufacturing activities will result within two or three days as a result of today's walkout unless the men return to work, Raber said. They are employed in a processing department and are members of local 211 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Papermakers.

Other Help Not Available.

"We are using prisoners in the plant only because we have been unable otherwise to secure sufficient man power," Raber said. "Their presence during the last six months has been a source of irritation among other employes, but we have felt we could not meet production demands without them. If we were to dismiss these 30 prisoners our production of shipping boxes would drop from 50,000 to 75,000 boxes a day."

Union officers withheld comment on the walkout. The prisoners have been receiving the standard pay of 80 cents a day from the army, it was said, while the company has paid the army the prevailing scale for their services.

VENEREAL ILLS LAID MAINLY TO PICKUP WOMEN

Casual women acquaintances of soldiers and sailors, labeled as pick-ups, blind dates, "V" girls, and "patriotutes," form the overwhelming source of venereal infection in our military forces, according to a report made yesterday at a meeting of the newly organized joint army and navy disciplinary control board.

Army and navy officers and public health leaders from three states attended the meeting to work out plans for closer coördination between military and civilian authorities to curb unsatisfactory trends in venereal disease rates. The new board has jurisdiction in the 6th service command and the 9th naval district.

Maj. Gen. Russel B. Reynolds, commanding general of the 6th service command, told the group that the government was "alarmed" over the venereal disease problem. He requested the full help of local and government agencies to reach a sound solution.

WLB BARS STEAK AS SUBSTITUTE FOR WAGE HIKE

Edgar L. Warren, regional war labor board chairman, announced yesterday that he had ordered the Bake-Rite Bakery company of Stevens Point, Wis., to pay 21 drivers a wage increase of $2.50 a week, retroactive to Nov. 1, 1942, within 48 hours, and the drivers to end their strike, begun last week.

At a special hearing representatives of the AFL teamsters' union local of Stevens Point testified that the company had not carried out the board's original order, filed last March, but instead, in June, had treated the drivers to a steak dinner at the town's leading hotel and then talked them into taking only half the authorized increase, to be made retroactive only to Jan. 1, 1944.

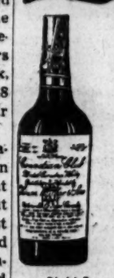

After the dinner was only a pleasant memory, they said, the men reconsidered the compromise and asked for the full amount ordered by the board, but the company refused it.

IN the days when Jefferson framed the Declaration of Independence . . . and later when Monroe enunciated his Doctrine, tiny America was a land of farms. Then came railroads . . . machines for everything . . . automobiles . . . aeroplanes . . . giant industries unknown to previous generations. But we never really changed; America is still essentially a farm land.

Agriculture engages more people, produces more income, than any other industry in the country!

Yes, the farmer is the biggest big-business man of them all! Last year his income exceeded $26,000,000,000 . . . his savings reached $12,500,000,000 . . . and these sums did not include the wealth of those indirectly dependent on farming, living in rural America, serving the farmer's needs.

Can any manufacturer or advertiser afford to overlook the farmer's strength . . . or the influence and selling power of Country Gentleman, the farmer's favorite magazine?

A MILITARY TYRANNY.

The Constitution contains only a few sentences regarding the organization of the nation's military forces, but there isn't any doubt about what the men who wrote the document had in mind. Uppermost was the fear that a big military establishment, under exclusive control of the central government, would destroy the liberties of the people. The distrust was based upon a reading of history, and particularly of the history of republics, ancient and modern. Over and over again the same story appeared: the existence of a standing army had tempted republican officials to use it for the promotion of their own purposes and ambitions; in the process the republic died and the liberties of the citizens were lost.

Congress was given the power then to raise and support an army, but the provision that military appropriations could run for no more than two years was clearly intended to prevent the army from becoming the instrument of tyranny. Moreover, if the federal government ever had to resort to military force to execute the laws of the Union, the militia organized in the states was to be called upon. This is explicitly stated in the body of the Constitution. Again, in the second amendment are found the memorable words: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The kind of army foreseen by the Constitution can preserve freedom. Today we see another kind of army at work, the kind of army that has seized control of the Montgomery Ward & Co. properties here and elsewhere. The people of this country have before them a clear illustration of how a regular army can become a terrible danger to the people's freedom.

There was no excuse for this grim display of force. The courts are open. Mr. Avery has not given any indication that he will not obey the orders of the courts when handed down. He may be stubborn, but he is no anarchist, and he is making no effort to organize an armed force to resist his government. Nevertheless, the soldiers have marched into the plant as if there were an armed insurrection to subdue, an insurrection so grave in its threat to the existence of the government that the diversion of soldiers from the war fronts where they are greatly needed can be justified.

This use of military force by the President ought to shock the American people into a determination to correct matters at the first opportunity. We cannot make changes in the army while the war is on, but as soon as it is over the nation must give attention to the problem. To save our freedom we must go back to the Constitution and its safeguards against a military despotism.

A constitutional army has always been sufficient for our needs. The militia has generally been equal to any requirement for the use of force to put down disorder and lawlessness, particularly because it was well known that our small, regular establishment could be called upon if need arose. Thanks to the persistent efforts over the years of ambitious regular army officers who regarded the militia with envy, and of conniving politicians who had their own purposes to serve, congress was persuaded to subordinate the militia so completely to the regular establishment that the constitutional system has all but disappeared.

There is real danger that at the end of the war the militia system will not be revived in any useful form and that civilians will, therefore, find themselves under the heel of regular soldiers. That is what the Constitution sought to prevent, but it will happen unless the people assert themselves.

THE NATIONAL INCOME.

The unthinking might be disposed to cheer because the national income during 1944 reached a record of 159 billion dollars, while what is called "national product"—the total value of all goods and services—hit 197 billion dollars. But what happened to the money?

An accounting of the "national product" shows that the government spent 85 billion [other statisticians say 90 billion] on war purchases, that consumer spending amounted to 96.6 billion, that government spent an additional 13 billion on projects unrelated to the war, and that 2.6 billion went into "private capital formation."

"Private capital formation" comprehends such items as plant expansion, purchases of machinery and other producers' goods, and other things that go into the building of expanded permanent production facilities. Private enterprise must provide the jobs on which post-war prosperity depends, but private enterprise is found to have got but a small increment out of the greatest earnings in the nation's history. Government, which is unproductive, spent 13 billion dollars on unproductive functions and projects and another 85 billion on the most unproductive of all things—material to be shot up and used up in war.

Well, easy come, easy go. Is this the way we're going to make those 60 million jobs?

THE NEW FRENCH ARMY.

The French government has resolved to call to the colors for military training 150,000 men who will reach the age of 21 in 1945. Where their equipment is to come from is not yet clear. There are the gravest doubts that it can be produced in France quickly enough to be of use by this year's recruits and hopes that some or all of it can be obtained from America or Russia. France is seeking equipment, also, for the men of the F. F. I., the army of guerrillas who fought for the liberation of their country and have now been offered the opportunity to serve in France's regular defense forces.

To the French, of course, this means the beginning of the rebuilding of their national army. It means an opportunity to recover from the humiliation of 1940 and to resume the role in the politics of Europe which France traditionally played. The French have no illusions about the future state of their continent. They expect —indeed, they know—that strong nations will be heard at the counsel tables and weak ones will not, and they are acting accordingly.

The other allies and America in particular will be well advised to give France the fullest coöperation in preparing a fighting army, if only to relieve the drain of our man power. It might even be found expedient to move the French recruits to this country for training, if it is decided to give them American equipment. Because the transports make the westbound voyage in ballast the movement of the men would not complicate the shipping problem materially. Once here, the French forces could be equipped and supplied without adding to the already severe strain on eastbound shipping facilities until the soldiers were ready for action. While we were feeding the French recruits, France could give our forces overseas a corresponding supply of home grown food, thus further relieving the transport problem.

There would be other gains of the same sort. Any guns, tanks, or other such materials that are sent to France to be used in the training of the French army will have to be carried in scarce ships, thru congested continental ports, and over the already overburdened French railroads, but would not be used against the Germans for many months to come, if ever. These shipments would be made at the expense of our own fighting army, which will need all the stuff we can ship.

Whether the French government would look with favor upon a proposal to train the new army outside of France is a question. The regime may feel the need for an organized force in France to maintain order and strengthen its prestige. For these purposes an imperfectly trained army is better than none at all.

OBLIGATIONS UNDER THE CLOSED SHOP.

The California Supreme court has outlawed the Jim Crow practices of some labor unions which require Negro workers to pay dues to the union but segregate them in auxiliary locals which have no vote on union policies.

The case was brought by Negro auxiliary members of the AFL Boilermakers' union who worked under the practice condemned by the court in a San Francisco bay shipyard, where the boilermakers had a closed shop contract. The court held that it could not compel the union to admit the Negroes as full members, but ruled that, in spite of the closed shop contract, they could work, and need not pay any dues to the union.

The case differs in a number of respects from the recent ruling of the United States Supreme court on the rights of Negro firemen employed on southern railroads, and on the whole the California court went farther than the federal court in its ruling. In the firemen's case the closed shop was not involved, but the Supreme court held that where a union is certified as the bargaining agent for a class of employes it must bargain impartially and faithfully on behalf of all employes in that class, regardless of their union membership. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, a defendant in the federal case, had made union contracts with southern railroads discriminatory against Negro firemen.

The California court freed the Negro ship builders of any obligation to the union, and said: "An arbitrarily closed or partially closed union is incompatible with a closed shop. Where a union has obtained a monopoly of the supply of labor by means of closed shop agreements and other forms of collective bargaining action, such a union occupies a quasi-public position similar to that of a public service corporation and it has certain corresponding obligations."

There is no certainty that the holding of the California court will be adopted by courts of other states or by the federal courts, but taking its words at their bare meaning and without qualification that may have appeared elsewhere in the court's opinion, the ruling goes far beyond a prohibition against racial discrimination. Closed or partially closed membership is a concomitant of a very large number of union closed shop contracts. The purpose, of course, is to protect the present members of the union in their employment opportunities by refusing to admit new members who might compete with them for jobs.

In trades in which employment is steady and continuous limitation on membership is not particularly necessary to the purposes of the existing members of the union. Seniority provisions can secure members in their existing jobs and the union can throw its membership open to any qualified craftsmen without endangering the employment of its existing members. But where jobs are of short duration, as they necessarily are in the construction industry, limitation of membership is essential if the existing members of a union are to retain their monopoly within their craft.

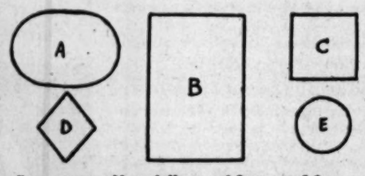

What the California court seems to say is that it is all right for a union, by a closed shop contract, to obtain a monopoly of employment for union members, but that it must share that monopoly with any qualified craftsman who is willing to join the union. The ruling is a just one, but also one that is not going to be generally adopted without the most strenuous opposition by the present beneficiaries of the combination of the closed shop and closed membership rule. These trade unionists are now an especially privileged class. Such abstract principles as the rights of labor in general are not likely to move them to forego these privileges willingly.

PHILOSOPHER OF PEACE.

The death of Romain Rolland, eminent French writer and spokesman for European conciliation, recalls his stand as a philosopher of peace during World War I., clairvoyant warning of which he had given in his great three-decker novel, "Jean Christophe." He published in Switzerland, where he spent the war years in Red Cross service, essays of peace making purpose, collected in English as "Above the Battle," which caused him to be denounced in France and also among the other belligerents. After the war Anatole France was asked why he had not followed Rolland's example and replied: "I was afraid."

Altho he lived to an advanced age, Rolland was always a semi-invalid, wracked with chronic bronchitis, and so he became almost a recluse. Nevertheless he produced a tremendous mass of works in various literary fields—fiction, criticism, biography, drama, and musical history—and was a major influence, thru personal contacts, with the writing men of good will in Europe. There is an excellent character sketch of him in Stefan Zweig's autobiography, "The World of Yesterday," published in 1943.

Until the news of his death, the world had heard nothing of Rolland since the German occupation of France. It now appears that he had been living quietly near his native village, Clamecy, to which he retired in 1937. He then began to write his memoirs from notes in the extensive diary that he had kept since early youth. Publication of this work, certain to be of value to future diagnosticians of Europe's mental and political ailments, may not be expected until the establishment of peace.

POST-WAR WORLD.

The post-war world (the experts say)
Will be upon us any day;
The ads all claim
In phrase aflame
That nothing will remain the same.
It seems a shame!

Each giddy, super-duper scheme
Seems like a wild, fantastic dream;
But well we know
Some dope will go
Inventing things fortissimo,
The so-and-so!

The cars won't look a bit like cars,
Nor bars at all resemble bars;
To things we knew
We'll say adieu
And start from scratch without a clew,
(If rumor's true).

Bear with me, friends, if I prefer
To want some things the way they were;
I'll be inclined
To try and find
A few things that I left behind;
'Twould ease my mind!

Capt. Uncle Louie.

Before Winters Became Sissy.

So you think this is an old fashioned winter? Listen to Harriet Beecher Stowe's description of the real article in the 1820s or '30s:

"Better, far better, the old houses of the olden time, with their great roaring fires and their bedrooms, where the snow came in and the wintry winds whistled. Then, to be sure, you froze your back while you burned your face. Your water froze nightly in the pitcher, your breath congealed in ice wreaths on the blankets, and you could write your name on the pretty snow wreaths that had sifted in thru the window cracks.

"But you woke full of life and vigor, you looked out at the swirling snowstorms with a shiver and thought nothing of plunging thru drifts as high as your head on your daily way to school. You jingled in sleighs, you snowballed, you lived in snow like a snow bird, and your blood coursed and tingled in full tide of good, merry, real life thru your veins—none of the slow creeping, black blood which clogs the brains and lies like a weight on the vital wheels." Elmer Kenyon.

PLEA TO JANUS.

The month of Janus is at hand once more
When all look back at what has passed away,
And then turn forward to the opening door
Which stands ajar on every New Year's day.
The closing year may go with small regret,
One of the saddest that the world has known,
For those whose star of happiness has set
And left them dark, bereft, too much alone.

And now the new year comes into our gaze;
A straining world looks forward eagerly
To see what hopes reside within its days,
What promise there of peace and liberty.
O, Janus, may your best face be ahead—
For that dark year, make this one bright instead.

Cecil B. Williams.

In Memory of "Golden Days," et al.

Linemaster: If Chiggers' recollection of the weekly story papers [Jan. 2] is confined to those he mentions, he missed a lot of exciting good reading. Robert Bonner's New York Ledger, the Philadelphia Golden Days, and the two Chicago produced weeklies, the Ledger and the Blade, had loyal followings thruout the country.

Golden Days made the elder James Elverson so considerable a fortune that out of its profits he bought and developed the powerful Philadelphia Inquirer [daily]. Elverson had been a telegrapher for Gen. Grant during the Civil war. The two Chicago weeklies were owned by W. D. Boyce, later known as a big game hunter and one of the early sponsors and developers of the Boy Scouts of America. F. B. W.

S. T. C. writes: "My son is being discharged from the army. For some reason not explained, he said he owed the army quite a bit of money and will not receive any salary when he is discharged. Will I have to send him railroad fare?"

No. Army regulations do not permit the retention by the army of travel pay of 5 cents a mile from the point of discharge to the service man's home. He might need a few dollars for subsistence.

A. C. asks: "If one married a World War I. veteran in 1926 and he died in 1929, does that make the widow eligible for the new pension? What is meant by the '10 year clause'?"

If the widow is not now earning more than $1,000 a year, if single, or $2,500 with a child under 18, she is eligible and can file. The 10 year clause stipulates that if marriage to a veteran occurs after the passage of the act [Dec. 14, 1944], the widow will have to live with the veteran for at least 10 years before she is eligible.

OXYGEN INVALUABLE IN ILLNESS.

WE all need oxygen. It is the breath of life. The harder we work, the more we require. In other words, the demand of the tissues for this vital substance is continuous. Breathing slows down during slumber because the sleeper is inactive. As soon as exercise is resumed, it picks up again.

Many disease conditions work against recovery because the supply of air is inadequate. Here, the oxygen requirement must be reinforced. Ordinary atmosphere contains approximately 20 per cent but illness may call for 40 to 60 per cent. For example, in a lung ailment, if a substantial number of the air sacs go out of commission or fail to perform, the face will assume a bluish tinge. Raise the quota of oxygen to 60 per cent and not only will the patient feel better but body functions will be regained. As we realize, if the circulation cannot transport the gas to essential regions, the spark of existence will begin to dim.

Certain patients can take 100 per cent if the necessity is real. In severe burns a youngster may have a sizable portion of the skin destroyed. Within a few days the temperature may be high, the pulse rapid, and the individual delirious. The administration of oxygen in such an instance proves spectacular. Repair will begin immediately, mental symptoms will vanish, and the sufferer will improve strikingly.

Most of us are familiar with the great benefit of this agent in pneumonia. Yes, the sulfa drugs have helped tremendously, but they are of no value in the virus type, or with those who are sensitive to them. Regardless of the cause, this element can be used in all forms of the disease, rendering the patient comfortable by reducing his toxemia. Under its influence, the sense of personal concern disappears, and the sick one perks up. The same results are observed in shock whether the breakdown is due to hemorrhage or extensive lacerations.

How shall this important vapor be employed? One method is by means of a catheter inserted along the floor of the nostrils. Tents are popular and here a cooling device relieves the patient of the feeling of heat and suffocation. Furthermore, he can see everything that is going on about him. The ideal situation is a room where the quantity can be regulated at will, the carbon dioxide absorbed, and the temperature adjusted. In addition, nurses and attendants can work without the slightest interference. It is no uncommon experience to note a marked drop of fever after the patient has been in the room for a few hours. The struggle for breath ceases and the sensation of exhaustion departs.

Another useful plan consists of introducing the gas beneath the skin. It can be injected in or about an infected area and thus be permitted to exert its salutary effect. Inflammatory disorders have been known to abate, and acute lesions have been treated in this fashion. A casee of cellulitis involving both feet and legs was controled in this manner. Pain disappeared promptly and the swollen members returned to normal gradually.

Finally, in carbon monoxide poisoning, we have a sovereign remedy and the more speedily it is utilized, the better. When combustion is incomplete, this lethal vapor [monoxide] is set free. Our job is to see to it that in all such accidents replacement with oxygen is effected without delay.

The Waiting Hours.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—When the jury files out to find its verdict, the suspense begins. All the principals and attorneys are nervous, but they try to hide it in various ways. Some get exhilarated. Some stride tensely about. Jerry Giesler, one of the west coast's leading criminal lawyers, who defended Charlie Chaplin in his last case, can do nothing. He collapses, becomes ill, and has miserable stomach upheavals. But Joseph Scott, attorney for Joan Berry and her child, does the reverse. He becomes gay as a lark and apparently has a cerebral shot in the arm. His work is over. All is now out of his hands. He can relax, and does.

So old Joe Scott held court after the seven women and five men hearing the Chaplin paternity suit had filed out. He dismissed this case with a wave of the hand and began to reminisce. He had a great reservoir to draw upon, for he is 77—with snow white hair, bushy black eyebrows, and a voice as strident and vigorous as that of a young man—and has 50 years before the bar behind him.

The first time he confronted women on a jury he lost his case. The jury had been evenly divided, six men and six women, and he couldn't understand how it arrived at its decision, for a decision rarely was adverse to him. The next day he ran into a man who had served on it. "Say," he asked, "just how did you happen to find against my client?" The male juror shook his head in commiseration. "Why, Mr. Scott," he said, "you forgot the women." "Forgot the women!" roared Scott. "Why, I talked at them all the time." "Yes," the male juror said, "but the first thing they said when we went out to deliberate was 'Did you notice? Mr. Scott never once looked one of us in the eye!' Now, Mr. Scott," the male juror went on, "every woman thinks she is a potential vamp. She wants to be flirted with. She wants to be smiled at. The other attorney leaned forward, smiled deeply into every woman's eyes, and patted his hand in the air within three inches of her knee. That was all there was to it. They liked it. . . . So they voted against you."

The conversation veered to other celebrated criminal lawyers Scott had worked with. There was the late Earl Rogers, who once, in a contested will case, suddenly appeared before the jury shrouded in a sheet. "The ghost of —— now speaks to you," he began. "He comes here in pain and sorrow that the truth has been so wilfully misinterpreted here." He continued to speak thru the sheet. He won the case.

And there was Clarence Darrow, with whom Scott was associated in the McNamara bombing case out here around 1910. Darrow and Scott represented the McNamaras, and doubt later arouse whether Darrow had bribed a juror. [He had carefully picked a jury, Scott revealed with a "now it can be told," by having the wives of all prospective jurors polled by a lawyer posing as an Encyclopedia Britannica salesman.] Darrow was charged with bribery, and the case went to trial. Scott represented him, but insisted that Darrow make his own closing argument to the jury. Darrow's concluding remarks, rendered with appropriate gestures and intonation by Scott, went like this:

"I'm finished. Wall street is against me. All the plutocrats in the nation are against me. They've got me down. They're saying, 'Let's trample on Darrow and break his bones,' but down in the bowels of the earth, stripped to the waist, toil miners who haven't seen the light for weeks. Every one of those is telling his wife and children, 'Pray that the jury will have the strength and faith to vote for Darrow!'

"Today, as I walked in this courtroom, a little woman arose from her rags to grab my hand and kiss it. As she did, a single tear from her eyes fell on my hand. No diamond on earth could mean to me what this single, sparkling tear did. I am finished. I am gone. But this tear will remain in my heart forever."

The jury found for Darrow.

END THE NEW YORK INFLUENCE.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 27.—Herbert Brownell has announced that the Republican national committee will meet in Indianapolis Jan. 22. That means that rank-and-file voters like myself, who oppose the type of leadership that has been forced down our throats for the last two elections, must organize. The only language these people understand is votes. I propose that we band together to clean up the party, get the leadership back in the middle west where its strength lies, and demand an honest American policy, both foreign and domestic. I think they should be made to understand that unless they change their tactics we will not vote in the next election. A vote lost when you have to support the things you abhor [as in the last two elections] leaves us with a feeling of disgust. A vote lost by refusing to go to the polls when we disapprove would at least leave us with our self-respect.

The New York plan has been tried twice, and both times we found that rank-and-file voters in New York thought even less of it than we. The Republican party owes us the opportunity to express ourselves. If there are others who feel as I do, write to me at 132½ E. Washington st., Fort Wayne. Let's try to wrest control of the party from the politicians and get it back for the people. If that fails, let's demand a third party.

ALTERNATIVE TO CONSCRIPTION.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Mr. J. A. Jones wrote about compulsory military training, which seems to be the President's plan. We all want the country protected in the best way, but that does not need to be compulsory training, except for R. O. T. C. Many of our forefathers came to this country to escape such training—as did my father's father at 16. Rather, let's make the army a profession for those who like it and choose it, and give such benefits as will attract more men to it than before.

As long as population increases, so long will there be aggression for space to live, no matter what laws and pacts are enacted. Since we no longer are a country needing immigrants for aid in settling the country, why not stop all immigration? Enough foreigners have been killed to make settling Europe the next plan.

FRANCES E. SCHMIDT.

SOLDIERS' BLOOD FOR COMRADES.

Western Springs, Ill., Dec. 12.—The following is an excerpt from a letter written to me by my brother, who is somewhere in France:

"Gave a pint of blood a couple of weeks ago for the boys in the front lines. A mobile unit came around and our blood was to be flown to the front to be used the following day. Guess there is a shortage of plasma from the states. Get those people on the ball over there or this war is going to last for years. There's a shortage of ammunition in the front lines also."

FRANCES K. SAWYER.

THAT CHANGE MATERIALIZED.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—I am convinced the election is over. I haven't seen our garbage men for a couple of weeks.

THE TRIBUNE ON GUAM.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Here's a comment from my brother's son, Bob Cleary, age 19, on Guam, concerning the Overseas Tribune:

"Two more 'Chicago Overseas Tribunes' arrived today. You have no idea how popular they are over here. Especially this far out. At Pearl Harbor we could buy them if we liked, but now they get passed around until they are worn right thru. No kidding, no Reader's Digest ever got the attention the 'Overseas Tribune' does. I always carry it around in my back pocket to read at short rest periods, etc. Then when I get done I usually give it to the fellas in the next tent. They do the same when they are done. Lots of the fellas who read it have never been to Chicago, but they all enjoy the comics which are printed for a whole week and the short stories and editorials. Female authors like Mae Tinee who write direct to the boys have a great popular appeal. It is undoubtedly a great morale builder and probably the biggest favorite, as far as overseas paper issues, with the boys here."

JAMES M. CLEARY.

BRITISH BRAGGING.

FRANCE, Dec. 20.—Enclosed find a clipping from the London Sunday Dispatch, entitled "The British Army Has Done the Biggest Job."

We have been in France for quite some time and can truthfully say we've seen quite a bit of action. Up until this article appeared, we felt that we were helping rid the world of the Nazi yoke.

But now we've discovered our trek across was more or less a myth. All we've been doing is running into Nazis, beaten by the British army and running from these terrors of the drizzling isles, so we gather from this article.

Mind you, we're not prejudiced against British. Personally, we think the British fighter is one of the greatest and we're proud to fight with them. But, it seems that the bigwigs of Britain think that the British army alone is winning the war. If that be the case, as they put it, why keep us over here? There is another war that is just as important and we could take care of that one.

New Holland, Ill., Jan. 3.—Sen. Brooks asks F. D. R. for a statement of policy. Everybody should know by now that his policy is to establish a permanent residence in the White House, collect the salary, and enjoy the extraordinary powers war confers upon him.

BOYS FEUD OVER MISS WAUKEGAN; 2D GIRL SHOT

Naval Hostess Wounded in Struggle for Gun.

A feud between two Waukegan youths, in which "Miss Waukegan of 1944," a beauty contest winner, was indirectly involved, led yesterday to the shooting of another girl, Miss Rita Gibbons, 18, of 912 S. Utica st., Waukegan, a hostess at the Great Lakes Naval Training center canteen.

Lawrence Eaton.

Police said that the shooting followed a bobby socks drinking party in the home of Lawrence Eaton, 17, of 216 Franklin st., Waukegan, an amateur artist, senior in Waukegan Township High school and son of Frank Eaton, maintenance engineer and head of police personnel at the Johnson Motors, a war plant in Waukegan.

Young Eaton is being held for the shooting. Miss Gibbons, shot thru the neck, is in Victory Memorial hospital. Dr. Stephen Gere said that altho the bullet passed thru the right side of her neck, hitting a muscle, she probably will recover. Miss Gibbons first told police that Eaton fired at her when she tried to make him put down a gun. Next she said the weapon was discharged while she and Eaton were struggling for it.

Miss Gibbons, another girl, Eaton, and four teen aged boys attended a party in Eaton's home during the afternoon. Some drank whisky, said

MISS JACKIE ROBY.

Miss Gibbons, who took none herself. Later Eaton invited Miss Jackie Roby, 17, of 811 10th st., Waukegan, the 1944 "Miss Waukegan," to the party, but she declined.

This, Police Chief Bart Tyrrell said, perhaps inflamed Eaton. Last week after another party, Eaton had accused her of telling his mother that he and his guests had been drinking. Miss Roby denied this. Then New Year's eve her sweetheart, Nolin [Doc] Dunn, 18, 615 North av., Waukegan, a medically discharged sailor, refused to invite Eaton to a party, and in addition is reported to have called him a liar. A feud between Eaton and Dunn developed.

Yesterday Eaton broke up his party with a vow to "get" Dunn. As he and his guests started out, they took a gun from him. Then Eaton and Miss Gibbons returned to his home. There, she said, he started out again with the gun, and the shooting occurred when she tried to stop him.

Eaton ran out, shoeless, and found Dunn in a drug store at 26 N. Genesee st., Waukegan. He drew the gun, sending more than 60 customers running. But one patron, M. O. Canizzo, 118 S. Oakley blvd., Chicago, disarmed him.

'Personal and Private'

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1945: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS: John Ranger and three cattlemen go in search of rustlers who shot Rod Spillman. One rustler is killed and a stranger, Cape Sloan, is held. Uhlmann and Sholte want to hang Sloan, believing he is one of Scarface's bandits. Sloan escapes. Singlehanded he rescues Sandra and Nelson Ranger from raiders and wins the friendship of their father. At Ranger's ranch the Negro cook recognizes Sloan as Mr. Webb, escaped prisoner. Mr. Ranger voices his suspicions of Jug Packard. Sandra notes Sloan's reactions and gets him to admit he is both Webb. From Stan Fraser Sloan learns the petition for Webb's pardon was blocked by Packard, who fraudulently acquired the Webb share in the Johnny B mine and framed young Webb for the killing of Giles Lemmon. The Rangers persuade Chandler Newman, former bookkeeper at the mine, to talk. Uhlmann recognizes "Webb." Trapped in the hotel, Fraser and Sloan seek refuge. Ranger hides them. At the point of a gun Packard is forced into a ruse that permits Sloan and Fraser to escape. Packard paid Uhlmann to do away with Webb's father. Reward is offered for the capture of Webb, escaped convict, also accused of robbing the stagecoach and shooting a man. The Rangers and Newman visit the governor in Sloan's behalf, but further evidence is necessary. Packard arranges with Uhlmann to do away with Webb. On the way to see Mary Uhlmann, missing witness, Sandra meets Uhlmann, who demands she reveal Webb's hideout. To make him release her horse she lashes him. He fires after her. Sandra and Scarface persuade Mary to talk. Mary reveals that Uhlmann shot the wrong man—Lemmon—and Packard covered his mistake by framing Webb. Uhlmann rides and kills Sholte, and visits Packard, who forces him to return the advance payment for Webb's murder. Sandra is warned that Uhlmann is out to get Webb. Webb rides immediately to save Fraser, who is wounded. At Webb's approach the attackers flee.

INSTALMENT XLVI.

UNEXPECTED ARRIVAL.

They heard a galloping horse taking off into the night, and before the sound had died away the drumming hoofs of a second.

Bob gave immediate aid as best he could and carried the light body of Fraser to the cabin. The bleeding had not stopped, and the jolting of the trip had done the wounded man no good. As soon as Bob laid him on the bed he fainted. While he was still unconscious Webb washed and dressed the torn shoulder.

Stan opened his eyes. "I must of fainted. Like a girl. You've sure got a pal who can take it."

"The best ever a man had." Bob escaped from emotional ground quickly. "Were there only two of them?"

"That's right—two."

"They ambushed you?"

"One of 'em took a crack at me when I came outa the house. I ducked 'round it and the other fellow shot my horse. Seeing I couldn't get at my rifle, I legged it for the arroyo."

"Could you tell who either of them was?"

"I didn't see but one of the birds, and then only for a minute. That skunk Uhlmann."

They heard a shout and the clop-clop of horses' feet. Bob moved swiftly to the door, revolver in hand.

"Circle J R riders," a voice announced. "That you, Fraser?"

"Stan has been wounded," Bob answered. "Webb talking. Uhlmann and Packard lit out."

A slim figure slid from a saddle and came forward. "Is Stan badly hurt?" Sandra asked.

"What are you doing here?" Bob asked.

"I had to come," she replied in a low voice. "We'll talk of that later. What about Stan? If he's hurt I can nurse him."

"Yes," Bob nodded. "I'm glad you came, tho you shouldn't have. The wound is serious. I don't know how bad. Come in."

He had dressed the wound in the dark, but now he lit a lamp. With four Circle J R armed men on the scene there would be no more shots out of the darkness

"I've got a job to do," he replied grimly.

She noticed how hard and stern his eyes were. "You mean——?"

"Don't worry about me," he advised. "I'll be as safe where I am going as you will be here."

"You're going after this villain Uhlmann," she charged.

He said: "Stan has given for me these last weeks everything he had, I'm not going to let this fellow get away with this."

The girl's heart died under her ribs. "Do you have to do this, Bob? Can't you leave it to somebody who isn't already in trouble?"

"No. Stan got this wound for me, not for somebody else."

"I don't see how you're going to find him," she said. "He'll be hiding in the hills, as you were."

"I'll find him. Right now he's riding hard to reach Mexico."

"But he'll be safe on Mexican soil. You can't touch him there."

"Can't I?"

Looking into his bleak cold eyes, Sandra shuddered. This was not the Sandra sat on the bed and put her fingers on the pulse of the wounded man. She looked up at Bob. "We can't move him now. Better send one of the boys for Dr. Brown."

In Fraser's tired eyes there was a flicker of laughter.

"Hurry up and get well," Bob said. "Then we can talk about that."

"I don't aim to hurry a doggoned bit if Miss Sandra is gonna be my nurse," Stan announced weakly.

"As long as you need me I'll stay with you," she promised.

Bob asked Jim Budd to ride for a doctor and then drew Sandra to one side.

"I'm not sure whether the bullet went into Stan's lung or not," he said. "But anyhow this is going to be a long sickness. If you can stay here that will be fine. I'll leave word at the ranch to relieve the boys after a while. Two guards must stay with you all the time."

"Where are you going?" she asked in quick alarm.

man who had promised to love her till all the seas went dry.

"Are you going to bring him back to Arizona for punishment?"

"That's up to him. I'll give him that chance."

With one of the Circle J R riders he looked over the horses and picked the one with most stamina.

"Good luck, fellow," the ranch hand said, rage at Uhlmann surging up in him.

Sandra joined them and the cowboy slipped away into the house. But when he turned to her his gaze softened. He took her in his arms and held her close.

"Take care of Stan," he said. "Don't let him die."

He kissed her and swung to the saddle. Without looking back he rode away. She watched him until his figure had blurred into the landscape.

On his way down from the mine Uhlmann had been in a swither of doubt. He was heading for the safety of Mexico, but he could not make up his mind whether to make a short detour and try to get Webb on the way. The man in the hills had given him a straight tip that the convict was at the Baxter cabin. If he was in luck a shot in the dark would be enough.

But a new hate was simmering in his warped mind. He did not want to pull any chestnuts out of the fire for Jug Packard, who had just robbed him of $500 and sent him down the road at the point of a gun. No dependence could be put on Packard's promise to pay him for getting rid of his enemy.

The trouble was that the convict was Uhlmann's enemy, too. Perhaps because he had so greatly injured young Webb he had for him a bitter malevolence, and when he came to the fork in the road that rancor tipped the scales and led him to the Baxter cabin. It would do no harm to blot out Webb if it could be done conveniently.

He drew up on the summit of a rise and looked down at a light gleaming in the darkness. The information given him had been correct. Webb and Fraser were staying there. If he had a break he could get them both.

The sound of a moving horse behind him sent a stab of fear thru the man. He had been drinking a lot and his nerves were jumpy. A man had seen him on the rim rock the day before and shot at him.

KELLY IS EAGER TO MEET GREEN ON TRANSIT PLAN

Parley Is Scheduled for Near Future.

Mayor Kelly expressed pleasure yesterday over Gov. Green's announcement Tuesday in Springfield that he would be glad to sit down with the mayor and discuss a program for the solution of Chicago's traction problems.

"It is a very fine idea," the mayor said. "I shall be glad to meet the governor. It is my belief we can collaborate on a program that will do great good for the state and the city; something in which politics need not enter."

Expect to Meet Soon.

Altho he did not mention any date, Mayor Kelly said he and the governor would meet soon. Asked how arrangements would be made, he indicated there would be no hitch about that.

"Perhaps the governor will call me and perhaps I will call him," the mayor said.

It was regarded as likely that the conferees would find other problems of the war and post-war eras to discuss, including the city's approach toward a port authority, mentioned by the governor as a distinct possibility.

Four Plans Scheduled.

At least four traction plans are now being prepared, all looking toward unification of the surface and elevated lines as a minimum requirement. One plan, being carried forward at the instance of Judge Michael L. Igoe of the federal District court, which controls the two properties in bankruptcy, would end with a privately owned, unified company.

The others all involve some measure of public ownership. They are the city's complete municipal ownership scheme; the Illinois post-war planning commission's plan, which is a modification of Boston's traction district, and a transportation district plan, which was filed with the Illinois commerce commission last week by the village of Maywood and the Citizens Transportation association.

Man Power Problem.

One aspect of the difficulties of the Chicago Surface Lines was discussed yesterday by E. J. McIlraith, a member of its board of supervising engineers. He said: "Our real trouble is shortage of man power. We need another 1,000 men."

He said that of the 10,000 trainmen employed by the lines approximately 600 are on the sick list.

GHOULS INVADE PRIEST'S COFFIN IN MAUSOLEUM

South Amboy, N. J., Jan. 3 (AP).—Police today sought grave robbers who battered down the bronze doors of a mausoleum in St. Mary's cemetery here during a rain Monday night and ripped open a coffin containing the body of Msgr. James J. Coan, Roman Catholic priest who died in 1926.

Police Sgt. John Gleason said he believed the grave robbers drove a passenger car or light truck into the mausoleum door, bursting it open. A maul or sledge was used to break a marble slab which guarded the coffin. Then a wire or cable was attached to the coffin, and the automobile pulled it from a shelf to the floor of the mausoleum.

The lid was pried open, and the body thrust aside while the grave robbers tore the lining, apparently searching for some specific object. Silver shoe buckles and a silver crucifix were untouched, as were silver memorial plates on the priest's coffin and on two others in the vault.

The Rev. Francis Gunner, curate of St. Mary's church, said he believed nothing of great value had been interred with the body.

3 HEIRS TO $5 FIGHT $100,000 GIFT TO AUNT

A suit by three grandchildren to set aside the will of the late Mrs. Hermine Schultz, 82, who died in October, 1943, was filed yesterday in Circuit court. The plaintiffs, each of whom was bequeathed $5, while their aunt, Mrs. Martha Hadin, 52, of 2231 Bennett av., Evanston, daughter of Mrs. Schultz and sister of their deceased mother, received the bulk of her $100,000 estate.

Mrs. Mildred Butzen, 1403 Washington st., Evanston; Miss Dorothy Moss, 1626 Washington st., Evanston, and Pvt. William Moss Jr., 7515 Sheridan rd., Chicago, the plaintiffs, charged that they were slighted because Mrs. Hadin fraudulently led her mother to believe they had robbed her; also that the will was made while Mrs. Schultz was of unsound mind.

The suit said assets totaling $65,000, including $36,759 in cash, were found in a safety deposit box at the State Bank and Trust company of Evanston.

David K. Tone's Estate Is Valued at $300,000

W. A. ILLSLEY, NOTED BUILDER, IS DEAD AT 92

William A. Illsley, contractor who built the Wrigley building, the Peoples Gas building, the Edison building, the Union League club, and many other Chicago landmarks, died in Bridgeport, Conn., Monday at the age of 92.

Old Dearborn Seminary Fete to Be Omitted

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE mailing list of the Dearborn Seminary Alumnae association now includes the names of only 81 members, but the news which they are receiving in letters sent out this week will be noted with as widespread regret as if the ranks were much larger. This year, for the first time since the alumnae group was formed in 1881, there will be no annual meeting of former students at the historic seminary, which was attended by the daughters of Chicago's first families between 1854 and 1908.

The 64th annual meeting will be omitted this year because of transportation difficulties and other war time conditions. So the alumnae will not be gathering Jan. 17, the birthday anniversary of the Rev. Zuinglius Grover, founder and principal of the school until his death in 1908.

When the executive, scholarship, and social committees of the group met recently in the home of its president, Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, it was decided that the present board will remain in office thru 1945. Serving again with Mrs. Bartholomay will be Mrs. Robert Peacock, Mrs. Frederic C. Woodward, Mrs. John Leeming, Mrs. Leonora Temple Hovne, Mrs. George D. Richards, and Mrs. John Grant McDonald.

Since the 63d annual meeting last Jan. 17, six members of the association have died—Mrs. Lincoln M. Coy [Alice Wood], Mrs. John C. Everett [Laura Griffith], Mrs. Perley M. Goodwillie [Gene Foley], Mrs. John E. Jenkins [Mary T. Otis], Miss Julia Keith, and Mrs. Ferdinand Peck [Tilla Spalding], who, as a member of the class of 1866, had been the oldest living member of the association.

Altho there will be no annual meeting, the association will continue to do "business as usual," which includes the application of $100 to the Dearborn Seminary scholarship at the Art institute and the same amount to the Zuinglius Grover scholarship at the University of Chicago.

Benefit Parties.

A barber shop quartet, a tintype photographer, and a caricaturist will add atmosphere to the annual benefit cocktail party Feb. 9 of the North Shore Service league of the Chicago Maternity center, which this year will have a Gay Nineties theme in connection with the center's 50th anniversary observance. The party will start at 5 p. m. in the Racquet club, and there will be a style show of gowns depicting the era. Mrs. Wayne E. Rapp is general chairman of the benefit, with Mrs. Floyd Eldridge and Mrs. Thomas Lindsay as her co-chairmen. Mrs. Parker Boyd Smith serves as ticket chairman, and the league is headed by Mrs. David Danielson.

One of the first benefits on the new year's calendar is the annual White Elephant sale for the Cradle, which the Evanston junior auxiliary of the Cradle society will hold at the nursery from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Jan. 15. Board members plan to serve coffee and doughnuts to their morning customers, and those who arrive in the afternoon will partake of tea and cookies. Mrs. Stanhope Adams and Mrs. Wheeler Tracy are co-chairmen of the sale.

Here and There.

Mrs. William McCormick Blair has been named as chairman of the women's special gifts division for the 1945 Red Cross war fund, it was announced yesterday by Martin H. Kennelly, general chairman. Mrs. Blair was appointed to the same post last year. Her days are busy ones, for in addition to serving as chairman of the Hull House shop, she is taking care of two little grandsons while their father, Lt. Edward McCormick Blair, is on duty in the South Pacific with the navy. The Blairs' youngest son, Lt. Bowen Blair, also is serving with the navy in the Pacific, while William Blair Jr. is serving in Burma as a captain in the army.

Because Douglas Blossom will be transferred from the Great Lakes Naval Training center to Atlanta, Ga., early next week, he will have just a short time to see his sister, Mrs. Dunham Reilly, when she arrives this week-end with Lt. Comdr. Reilly and their young daughter. The Reillys have been living in Norfolk, Va., since June, but now that Comdr. Reilly has received orders for sea duty, Mrs. Reilly and Sheila Ann are returning here to live with her parents, the George W. Blossoms.

Following many months of service with the navy in London, Comdr. Lester Armour was able to return to this country to spend the holidays with his family. At the end of a 30 day leave he will report again to the European theater of war.

Somewhere in France Capt. William R. Otter has learned of the birth of his daughter, Suzanne Elisabeth, Dec. 30 in the Evanston hospital. The baby, the second child of Capt. Otter and the former Jean Hickok has a 1½ year old brother, William Jr. The youngsters are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. William Otter and the Frank M. Hickoks, all of Evanston.

Millinery Inspired by 18th Century French Paintings

This romantic new headdress hat, made of pastel tinted buds and blossoms and tied with ribbons, is a copy of the fetching bits of millinery painted by the 18th century French artists, Fragonard, Nattier, and Watteau. Court beauties of their day wore such headgear with matching garlands draped over the shoulders. This hat is from a collection of midseason millinery in a Chicago store.

Spring Flowers Get Early Start on Newest Hats

BY REA SEEGER.

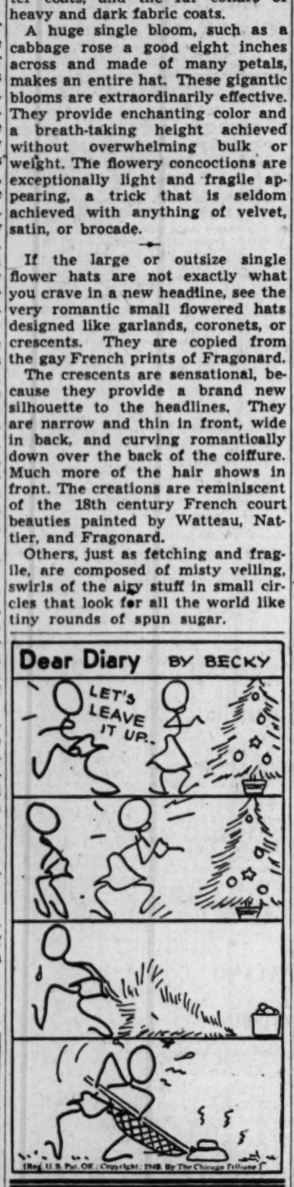

Exciting new hats, unpacked for the restless shoppers hunting for something light and giddy for the head, make very colorful collections. They are extremely tempting items for any one's extra cash. Flowers that usually bloom in the spring are getting an early airing atop these very high, tho small, confections called hats. Blush pinks, powder blues, and all sorts of lush colorings, the more pastel the better, are surprising accents in the hats. The colors provide very flattering contrasts for faces, fur winter coats, and the fur collars of heavy and dark fabric coats.

A huge single bloom, such as a cabbage rose a good eight inches across and made of many petals, makes an entire hat. These gigantic blooms are extraordinarily effective. They provide enchanting color and a breath-taking height achieved without overwhelming bulk or weight. The flowery concoctions are exceptionally light and fragile appearing, a trick that is seldom achieved with anything of velvet, satin, or brocade.

If the large or outsize single flower hats are not exactly what you crave in a new headline, see the very romantic small flowered hats designed like garlands, coronets, or crescents. They are copied from the gay French prints of Fragonard.

The crescents are sensational, because they provide a brand new silhouette to the headlines. They are narrow and thin in front, wide in back, and curving romantically down over the back of the coiffure. Much more of the hair shows in front. The creations are reminiscent of the 18th century French court beauties painted by Watteau, Nattier, and Fragonard.

Others, just as fetching and fragile, are composed of misty veiling, swirls of the airy stuff in small circles that look for all the world like tiny rounds of spun sugar.

On the Aisle By Claudia Cassidy

Change That Calendar.

Now and then the moguls of the booking office take a look at our play calendar and decide it's far too static. This results in a batch of telegrams which change lives and Sunday announcements. Yesterday's decisions pluck "Kiss and Tell" from the Studebaker Jan. 20, thrust in Katherine Dunham's "Tropical Revue" for two weeks starting Jan. 22, and leave the coast clear for the return of "Over Twenty-One" Feb. 5. So "Kiss and Tell" goes out with 89 weeks, leaving "Good Night Ladies" still in possession of that prize 100. But "Oklahoma!" could have changed that score had it not decided to make that tour. It goes out Saturday with a record of 542 consecutive capacity performances.

Beecher Lore.

Two letters rise to call me wrong in referring to Illinois State college in last Sunday's article about Helen Hayes' "Harriet." It should have been just Illinois college, on the word of Oak Park's Mrs. A. Boyd Pixley, who attended the college at Jacksonville, and on the letterhead of its president, H. Gary Hudson, who writes in part, "Illinois college has no connection with the state. Founded in 1829, it was the first college in Illinois to do work of a college grade, and graduated its first class in 1835. It was founded long before any state institution of higher learning, and indeed about 40 years before the state university. Edward Beecher, Harriet's brother, came to Illinois college as its first president in 1830. Her younger brother, Thomas, graduated here in the class of 1843, and both she and another brother, Henry Ward Beecher, visited Jacksonville on more than one occasion. This college still preserves and uses its original building erected in 1829, which bears the name of the first president and is known as Beecher hall."

Off Again.

That ruling forbidding New York's hit shows to sell tickets to brokers was rescinded before it went into effect. They will try to enforce existing laws. . . . Dunninger, the mind reader, will be at Orchestra hall Jan. 22. . . . "Just for Laughs," a G. I. musical written by Corp. Paul McMahon of "Winged Victory," will be previewed by the cast this afternoon before it becomes the big show's 15th entertainment unit for army camps and hospitals. . . . Billy Rose says "Carmen Jones" will stick in New York at least until after Washington's birthday, which is Feb. 22, in case you started to look it up.

Notes.

Chicago companies of "Snafu" and "Dear Ruth" are more than gossip, and "Catherine Was Great" wants to be here by early spring, but "One Touch of Venus" is still doubtful. . . . Evelyn Wyckoff and Harry Stockwell, who helped get our "Oklahoma!" off to a gala start, have been made honorary citizens of the state. . . . Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" now holds London's long run record for a play, formerly the property of "Charley's Aunt. . . . "A Bell for Adano" proved too complicated to move, so "Dear Ruth" goes to Washington Jan. 28 for the infantile paralysis fund performance on the President's birthday.

Selfridge, and Mrs. B. M. Linnell. The president of the Chicago Wells club, Mrs. T. Scott Jones, will receive with Mrs. Hemenway.

Women's Press Group to Hear Its President

Mrs. Bernadine Bailey will tell her impression of New York editors at a meeting of the Illinois Woman's Press association at 8 o'clock tonight in the Cordon club. Mrs. Bailey, who is president of the women's literary organization, just has returned from a visit in the east.

Library Knows Nearly All the Right Answers

BY DOROTHY JOHNSON.

"What is the Japanese word for 'Surrender'?"

"How do you translate 'Hello, Beautiful!' into French?"

"I'd like to have the musical notations for a banshee's wail."

These are typical of the hundreds of questions answered daily by staff members of the Chicago Public library, the city's largest free public information center, both at the main building, Randolph st. and Michigan av., and at the 40 branches and 20 sub-branches, scattered thruout Chicago.

The circulation was increased by half a million in 1944, a phenomenon for libaries in war time, Carl B. Roden, senior librarian, said yesterday. There now are 2 million volumes in the stacks, with a circulation of 10 million.

All seekers after information, however serious, however trivial, are welcome at the counters. Several hundred followers of radio quiz programs consult the librarians every day, Miss Gertrude Gscheidle, the institutions' first woman assistant librarian, related.

The war has brought many new services to the public from the library. Among these special assistance departments are a veterans' information center, equipped to answer all queries which the returning service man might ask to help him on the road back to civilian life, and a 10,000 volume branch library in the service men's center in the Auditorium hotel.

Other services originating in the war are special technical collections in regional libraries serving industrial areas, consumer education programs, designed to assist housewives in the maximum use of war time goods and to compensate for shortages; clothing clinics, to direct budget watchers in the rehabilitation of old clothing, and the supplying of information regarding planting and care of war gardens.

Notable among the war time projects of the library staff, which is predominantly feminine, is the four year old Victory Book campaign, which has collected eight million books from voluntary contributors and shipped them to Illinois men in all theaters of war.

The main library is host every Thursday noon to business persons who enjoy spending half of their lunch hour listening to book reviews, and on Saturday noon hours to those who enjoy good music, both classical and light classical. In January and February the music hours will be devoted to radio broadcasts of the Metropolitan opera, after which the recorded music programs will be resumed.

Inventors who think their kitchen laboratories finally have produced THE weapon to end the war freely consult the library's patent department, which has a complete file of American and foreign patents.

Every staff member, as a public servant, willingly listens to queries which have no relation to the books on the shelves. Distraught citizens, harassed by financial, personal, or family problems, turn to the friendly faces behind the desks for help in solving those dilemmas.

Blind persons thruout the middle west depend upon the main library for books in Braille and moon type, and for the "talking books," read onto phonograph discs by accomplished readers, sometimes the authors themselves.

The library also has monthly exhibits of pictures on topical themes, and a loan collection of sheet music and phonograph records. The administrative officers, headed by Mr. Roden, are including a large loan collection of movie film in the institution's post-war plans.

Jane Doe and Richard Roe are not the library's only seekers for information. Many advertising executives, scientists, designers, and artists ask staff experts for data pertaining to their work.

Those with little formal education and those with a string of degrees and honors after their names are equally welcome and equally numerous on the public side of the

Parisian Shows Jewel Studded Evening Gowns

BY ANNE BRUYERE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Lavishly hand-embroidered long jacket suits in heavy white crepe and stately jewel studded evening gowns in satin and velvet have been created by Balanciaga to enhance his mid-season collection.

Skirts of floor-length fitted evening suits are slit up the front to the knees. The edges are trimmed with heavy white silk embroidery outlining five-petaled flowers, the centers of which are raised an inch high by intricate quilting. The same design covers the whole of the jacket, including the large winged sleeves and tailored collar.

Three wide, graduated rows of spangled blue flounces form the wide skirt of a dance dress, the waist and puffed elbow-length sleeves which are made entirely of night-blue spangles.

The empire skirt of a pink satin evening dress is studded with multi-colored rhinestones, which also are set on an elevated collar.

Black velvet forms the wide circular skirt of a princess gown sprinkled with glimmering stones. The same jewels embellish the tightly fitted waist and leg-of-mutton sleeves formed of silver lamé.

Balanciaga also has designed some strictly tailored tweed suits and sports dresses, as well as roomy fur lined canadiennes for cycling and heavy woolen coats in black, dark brown, and green for traveling.

Tailored suits have enormous padded shoulders on long, thigh-length jackets, which are fitted at the waist. Sports dresses come in plaids and have all-around plaited skirts. The plaits on one model are extended to the shoulders front and back and stitched on above the waist. A black patent leather belt and large matching strapped leather bag go with the dress.

Remind Child About Etiquet Before Meal

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Our 6 year old son has very poor table manners, I'm afraid," writes a mother. "It isn't that we don't try to teach him, but he is healthy and strong and loves to eat, and doesn't want to be bothered with the fine points of table etiquet.

"Our dinner table usually is disturbed by Billy's deportment, but we think he should be made to adhere to custom . . ."

There are ways and ways of getting results with children, just as there are kinds and kinds of children, and causes and causes for what they do. Some children must learn to eat, and others must learn how not to eat. Naturally, if these things have to be accomplished, the atmosphere in which they are done determines somewhat whether or not we can see them being achieved. Meal times should be pleasant times for everybody, if possible.

Generally speaking, I think the child, particularly the one whose appetite is indifferent, is apt to have better table manners than the child with a keen appetite. The latter is inclined to eat with gusto and speed, and neither one of these tends toward especially careful table manners. Also, generally speaking, I think girls take to table manners more easily than boys.

When children are old enough and their manners have been causing trouble, it is a good plan to take them quietly aside immediately before going to the table, and remind them that you want them to do the very best they can at that particular meal.

Sometimes it is a good plan, if there has been a great deal of backsliding or very slow learning, to take up one point at a time. Say to them, for instance, "Now for the next three days just remember to keep your elbows off the table—just remember to do that one thing." Then for the next few days tell them to concentrate on sitting quietly—or as quietly as possible—in their chairs, and so on, until you have satisfactorily fixed the cardinal points in their young minds.

It's not humanly possible to expect never to have to correct a child at the table. But reduce it to a minimum and then do it in as quiet and friendly a way as possible; by reminding, not by scolding or lecturing. If the latter must be done let it be at some other time—not during a meal.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Beginning of a Career.

White collar girls who think it doesn't pay to do more than the allotted job might talk with Mollie Slott, assistant manager of the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate. She'll tell you it does pay, and her reasons for believing so date back a number of years to the time when she first came on the pay roll of THE TRIBUNE as a stenographer.

One of eight children, with four brothers and three sisters, Mollie went to work in her early teens. She was, she says, "thrown into the ocean and had to learn to swim." And she did learn. She trained herself to deal with different personalities, discovered new ways to make herself useful. No clock watcher was Mollie. "That's not part of my job." . . . "I wasn't hired to do that," these phrases were not in her vocabulary.

Even while she was a stenographer she began to promote features of her own, and when asked whether she'd like to do selling or promotion she said, yes, that would be fine—she'd do both! She became such an integral part of the syndicate that when it was decided in 1933 to move the office to New York it really meant moving Mollie because all the rest of the syndicate already was there!

Today she is assistant manager of the syndicate, which includes editing the comics, acting as talent scout, serving as office manager, and, in addition, promoting and selling syndicated features.

Duo Career.

During the first World war Mollie did Red Cross canteen work along with her job, and then, like many of our white collar girls, decided to get married. She didn't intend to keep on working, but somehow she did. She held her position thru the years of bringing up her family, "but always was careful to live not farther than 5 or 10 minutes from the office."

She believes home and family combine with a career—"providing you accept them both as responsibilities" . . . believes that a family benefits a woman in her work, widens her outlook, stretches her sympathies, keeps her abreast of things. Her children, she confides, have been a help in editing the comics, for example, because she could get the reaction of her own family.

In Her Office.

It is difficult to believe brown haired and brown eyed Mollie Slott has a grown son, a graduate of Columbia, who received the distinguished flying cross and an air medal, completed 35 missions with the 8th air force, and volunteered to go back into action . . . or that she has another son in the amphibious branch of the navy.

Her typewriter is near her desk. "I don't feel at home without it," she says. She thinks "any smart girl can get a start as a stenographer and make herself so valuable she can work up." She speaks little of her own success but largely of "loyalty which sometimes counts even more than brains," of confidence, and of hard work ["I always was so busy I didn't look up from my desk," she recalls]. She recommends a sense of responsibility to call forth the "plus effort" which actually pays.

Opening lead: Nine of spades.

With disaster staring me in the face as the result of a very indiscreet double, I was saved from a fate worse than death by clever false carding on the part of my partner, Mrs. A. M. Sobel, in this hand from the National Open Pair championships recently held in Atlantic City. The winners were Ambrose Casner and Ralph Hirschberg of New York City, who triumphed over a field of 120 pairs. Mrs. Sobel and your scribe were the runners-up.

The bidding was of the "knock 'em down and drag 'em out" variety. The four spade contract might be fulfilled if partner has something in diamonds. If not it is calculated to place the burden of guessing squarely on East's shoulders. East decided to bid five hearts instead of doubling his nonvulnerable adversary. I'm not proud of my double, and psychologically it turned out badly, because declarer didn't bother to finesse the hearts and picked off my singleton king.

After two spade tricks were cashed I exited with the nine of diamonds to give the impression that I was short in that suit. Declarer won, picked up the trumps [to our chagrin] and then led the four of clubs from dummy finessing the queen. At this point Mrs. Sobel rose promptly to the occasion by following with the nine of clubs. She knew that her partner's king was now alone. If not, then declarer's ace of clubs was now alone and there would be no balm in Gilead anyhow. If declarer is left to his own devices he will have no choice but to play the ace and hope that the king falls. Mrs. Sobel tried to persuade him that she had the doubleton, 10—9. Whereupon declarer entered dummy and played the jack of clubs. This established the 10 as the setting trick.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 4.—Joyce Reynolds' next starring picture at Warners, which goes into production about a week after her marriage Jan. 11 to Lt. Robert Lewis of Houston, Tex., will be "The Time Between," from the novel by Gale Wilhelm, a story which almost parallels Joyce's life just now. It's about a service man who marries while on furlough, after considering pro and con the problems involved. Robert Hutton, who was with Joyce in "Janie," probably will be with her in this, and the picture will be Fred De Cordova's first directing assignment. . . . Walter Wanger will join Metro in 1945. No, I do not believe they'll let him do a remake of "Winter Carnival." Dartmouth alumni haven't been able to live that one down yet. . . . Leo McCarey tells me he's patterning his main character in "Bells of St. Mary's," which is about a group of nuns, after an aunt of his who was a nun. It looks as if Ingrid Bergman will play the role after she finishes "Notorious," which has been moved up on her schedule and starts soon.

Full Steam Ahead for an Actor.

Gil Lamb, who's been under contract to Paramount three years and used strictly for comedy, was forced to have an operation performed on his schnozzola because of an infected bone. Now he's that good looking, and instead of his career being ruined the studio is planning bigger and better things for the boy. . . . Belita goes into Monogram's half million dollar production, "Golden Girl," as soon as she returns from her bond tour. . . . Bill Perlberg got one look at Henry Morgan's rushes in "A Bell for Adano" and signed him right up to do the barker in "State Fair." . . . Irving Pichel, like Alfred Hitchcock, always does some small part in the pictures he directs. You'll see him in "Colonel Effingham's Raid"—that is, if you don't blink. . . . They're looking like crazy for the right picture for Nancy Coleman at Warners. She's been off the screen too long to suit her fans, but her twins are happy about the whole thing. . . . Shorty, the dog used in "Molly, Bless Her," does an impersonation of Charles Chaplin, which is something—or is it? Monty Woolley and Reginald Gardiner had better look to their laurels when this new actor gets on the screen. Shorty even has his own makeup man, who keeps his whiskers in perfect form.

A Timely Tip to Smokers.

Cornel Wilde got tired of the ladies of the harem on "A Thousand and One Nights" set bumming cigarets from him, so he suggested that they try smoking the Turkish water pipes. They did, and now they're sold on the idea. . . . Fritz Lang has a story for Eddie G. Robinson, and if they can get together they'll make it for an independent release. . . . Gregory Peck is back from New York. . . . Adrian is doing Connie Bennett's costumes for "Paris Underground," which starts tomorrow with Greg Ratoff directing. . . . Vincent Price is having trouble again with his waistline. He's playing put and take, which is bad for anybody, and my advice to him is to remember the fate of Laird Cregar. . . . When Wesley Ruggles leaves for England to produce and direct "London Town," he'll take along 500 feet of 16 mm. film starring two weeks old Gloria Clark. She's the daughter of Ruggles' former assistant, Al Clark, who's now with Gen. Patton, and the film will be sent on to her proud papa. . . . Lauren Bacall recently did on "Command Performance" the two lines from "To Have and to Have Not" which caused so much comment—her first speech, "Has anybody got a cigaret?" And the one in which, explaining how to whistle, she says, "You just put your lips together and blow." And now I'll be darned if two recording companies aren't asking Warners' permission to put those speeches on wax.

Entertainers Do a Good Deed.

The show Ida Koverman whipped up for the fellows at the Hollywood Canteen on New Year's day was a honey, headed by Jimmy Durante, Lena Horne, Marion Bell, Eddie Cantor, Orson Welles, Lucile Bremer, John Conti, and so on from there. Ida has never asked for a hand for the work she's done, but I think it's about time she had one. . . . Nice to know Pete Smith's son is improving and that the doctors will be able to save his eyesight. . . . Margaret O'Brien's pet turtle, which she kept in her dressing room at Metro, has gone A. W. O. L. and she's running an ad for it in the lost and found department. After that she'll probably have enough to start a turtle farm. . . . Overheard at the Brown Derby by Director Lloyd Bacon: "Yes, she's a decided blonde—she decided yesterday."

information desks. "It's the library's aim," Mr. Roden said, "to match the book to the person."

Those who cannot use their free loan cards at the main building or at the branches nevertheless have access to books thru deposit collections in hospitals, factories, and business houses. "Quickie" visitors, those who have only a moment to dash into the library on their way to the train, get "curb service" at the special stacks of 10,000 selected volumes set up on the Randolph st. side of the main building.

Every large institution is planning for the post-war period, and the Chicago Public Library is no exception. When building restrictions are lifted, the library will enlarge its central building thru structural additions and interior rearrangements, and expand its city-wide service thru the establishment of new branches in outlying areas that are not yet equipped.

ASSESSOR ASKS FOR NEW LAW TO TAX U. S. HOUSING

Calls Ruling Giving Exemption Unfair.

County Assessor Clark, commenting yesterday on a ruling of the United States Supreme court holding that government housing is exempt from local taxation, said that congress should pass new laws authorizing such taxation.

"There is no doubt that government housing is in competition with private housing and has an unfair advantage," he said. "The occupants of government houses enjoy fire and police protection, and their children in school must be subsidized by other taxpayers. It is inequitable for the United States to pay nothing but a so-called service charge which is figured at not more than 5 per cent of normal taxes."

Clark Cites Examples.

He added that a similar situation affects war plants. By a special act of congress the real estate belonging to the Defense Plant corporation [the Buick plant in Melrose Park was cited as an example] is taxable, whereas other plants whose titles are in the United States are exempt, Clark said. The Douglas and Amertorp corporations in the suburbs were given as examples of exempt plants.

"We assessed all the plants as well as the housing," Clark said. "This decision seems final, and the entries on our books will have to be taken off. Apparently the court means to say that mere ownership by the government, regardless of use, makes such properties tax exempt."

Await Text of Ruling.

Members of the assessor's research staff were awaiting the text of the Supreme court decision, with the hope that it might contain some legality to enable them to keep the government property on the rolls. Clark said some 50 millions in assessments were involved, and that taxes of about 2 millions a year would be lost to the county and other taxing bodies.

Mayor Kelly said that in normal times federal housing was competitive but that at present, with all available housing rented, it was not. He said it did not seem right, however, for the property to escape taxation, but that he had no plans now for trying to remedy the situation.

MILLION DOLLAR THEATER SUIT JURY SELECTED

A jury of seven women and five men was impaneled yesterday before Federal Judge William H. Holly to hear evidence in a million dollar damage suit against 10 film and theater corporations and five individuals. The suit was brought by Thomas A. Murray, 70, former owner of the Thalia theater, 1807 Allport av., who accused the defendants of conspiring to discriminate against him in violation of federal anti-trust laws.

Among the defendants is the Milo theater, 1821 S. Loomis st., which was built in 1925 long after the Thalia had been established. The suit charged that preference was shown to the manager of the Milo theater in the release of first run pictures. As a result, the suit stated, Murray was forced to cut prices, run double feature shows, and was eventually obliged to quit business.

In a similar action a jury awarded $120,000 damages recently to the owners of the Jackson Park theater. The court elevated the amount to triple that awarded by the jury, an action empowered by the federal law.

Lemons were almost as scarce as hen's teeth a while back, but the grocer's counters look much better for lemon cookies and lemon pies now. Also for those hot lemonades which seem to do so much to squelch a cold in its early stages.

We've missed lemon sauce for winter puddings, but can make it again. Few dressings for steamed puddings have the popular appeal of a smooth cornstarch and lemon sauce.

Lemon Drop Cookies.
[About five dozen small.]
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
Grated rind of 1 lemon
¼ cup lemon juice
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
¼ cup cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream lemon rind with shortening and sugar, mixing until fluffy. Add lemon juice, egg, and water and beat thoroly. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Drop from a spoon onto a greased cookie sheet and bake at 400 degrees about 8 minutes.

Lemon Pudding Sauce.
[Serves four or more.]
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons margarine
Dash of nutmeg
Few grains salt

Mix cornstarch and sugar. Add lemon rind and water, stirring constantly. Cook and stir for 5 minutes or a little longer, until sauce looks transparent. Remove from heat and add lemon juice, margarine, nutmeg, and salt.

Here's an excellent pudding over which to serve the sauce.

Apple Ginger Pudding.
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 egg yolk
¾ cup molasses
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
¾ cup boiling water
1½ cups chopped apples

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs and molasses. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients. Add water and beat until smooth. Fold in chopped apples. Fill well greased individual baking cups two-thirds full and bake at 350 degrees for half an hour. Serve warm with lemon sauce.

Baste with more fat during broiling. When done, place on hot platter and carefully remove the skin. Sprinkle each steak with ¼ teaspoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon chopped chives. Add juice of 1 lemon to fat in pan, heat, and pour over salmon steaks. Serve immediately.

Splendid Cough Relief Is Easily Mixed at Home

No Cooking. Makes Big Saving.

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix this recipe in your kitchen. Once tried, you'll never be without it.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This makes a full pint of splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you sleep. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Thru the Looking Glass

If you're appalled at the thought that you might be seen in public with a downright dirty neck, you'd better consider how easy it is to have one in these days of heavy clothing, usually dark colored. The neck of the fur coat that you wear day in and day out thruout the winter is bound to pick up a good share of dirt, and that dirt is bound to be rubbed off on your neck.

One of the tidiest of all cleaning up tricks for the working woman is to use a quick cleansing lotion in the day and to use it particularly on her neck, at the sides and at the back. It will make her look cleaner and will save her white collars from the dark streaks that not only are unsightly but hard to remove when her washing must be done.

A great favorite of ours, which may be a bit too astringent to use on the very dry skin of the face in extremely cold weather, but which certainly can be used on the neck, is a completely greaseless lotion. It's a thin liquid, a wonderful cleanser, that dries almost instantly and can be used with cotton. It's a good cleanser for oily skin, incidentally, and one that we recommend often and unhesitatingly for the oily skinned people with blackheads.

If your coat collar is soiled, or if you find that the necks of all your dresses are being stained by powder and grime, this quick cleanser is a find. Your neck never will look dingy—and your clothes will need fewer trips to the cleaners.

This same cleanser is a great thing if the skin of your back is prone to blackheads. A daily cleansing with it will keep them under control—and here again your clothes, which are stained by the oil of your skin, will be saved.

Boys Receive Solid Advice: Keep Clean

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1945: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

It's not only girls but fellows, too, who have to make the grade when it comes to lining up for dress inspection. Any smart Joe with a yen to be attractive knows the truth in the old story—"where there's life, there's soap."

Most fellows are schooled in cleanliness and neatness from the time they are knee-high to a bar of soap and don't forget their lesson even when they are on their own in the shower-and-shave department. They take an interest and a pride in personal appearance, because they know that in school and in holding a job or a gal, cleanliness is almost an imperative essential to success. So they are careful not to drop into that "even his best friend won't tell him" category. . . . If any one has a friend after slipping up on the little things that should be a part of daily grooming.

Clothes can be casual without looking slept in, and fellows can be comfortable without wearing socks with a droop, pants with a sag, and yesterday's shirt warmed over. They may be rushed with school work or an outside job and have no time to play the boy brummel, but any fellow will end up on the outside looking in, strictly an off-the-cob character, if he lets his hair get that "unmade" look and has a 5 o'clock shadow all week long. On an evening date when a girl is neat and shiny in her best sack and snood, she expects her date to appear in something besides the same wrinkled shirt and scuffed shoes he wore in school all day.

Unattractive complexions, dull hair, and hands that look as if they had been digging a war garden the hard way can be corrected easily with soap and water and a half an hour each day set aside for scrubbing. A brush for the hair, a brush for the teeth, and a brush for the shoes, are good insurance against the big brush-off—for fellows who expect cleanliness and neatness in their girls should set up the same standards for themselves. Good grooming never spoils that attractive, manly look, and even Van Johnson is careful to keep his slacks well pressed.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

By George Rector

Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

NOR'EASTER WEATHER WARMER

Something akin to New England homesickness strikes me when anyone mentions boiled dinners, clam bakes or baked beans. In these bleak wintry days what could be more pleasing than to open the door at day's end and catch the sweet aroma of such a tasteworthy dish as is being prepared in the picture today. It looks good, it smells good and it tastes even better.

New England Brand Sausage and Cabbage

1 medium head cabbage (1½ lb.)
1 cup boiling water
1 tsp. salt
1 lb. Wilson's Certified New England Brand Sausage

Cut cabbage in eighths, leaving core attached. Cut sausage into four slices (½ inch thick). Cut each slice in half and arrange one slice between each cabbage wedge in pan with boiling water. Sprinkle cabbage with salt, cover, bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes. Serve hot, using pot liquor as a gravy for the potatoes. Serves 4-5.

------------ Clip Recipe Here ------------

A Hearty Meal

Wilson's Certified New England Brand Sausage is low in point value and is all meat. It's New England thriftiness to use it often because it's ready-cooked and is adaptable as a cold-cut too. Today's recipe is especially good with boiled potatoes, Waldorf salad and a steaming Indian pudding.

Ham Honors Guests

In China, I'm told a plate of ham is the place card for honored guests. A slice of ham is placed on the table at a banquet and the honored guest takes the chair before which the meat is set.

A true honor that would be when the ham is a Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham long famous as the "Ham you cut with a fork."

First and foremost in the field of ready-to-eat hams, Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham, like all other Certified products, lives up to the ideal Thos. E. Wilson wrote over 25 years ago.

OUR IDEAL

"To make well and to trade fairly . . . To profit not alone in dollars but in the good will of those with whom we deal . . . To correct our errors . . . To improve our opportunities and to rear from the daily work a structure which shall be known for all that is best in business." Thos. E. Wilson

New Zip in Winter Dishes

B-V is another "first" in the Wilson quality line. It's a true meat extract, a healthful, highly concentrated combination of rich meat juices and selected vegetable flavors. It's amazing how B-V adds zip to casseroles, soups, and gravies. B-V makes a delicious hot drink too, one truly appreciated on a cold, frosty afternoon.

Yours for quality at all times.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Art Kreitzer, 5127 Lafin st.]

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

Civic Theater building, 20 N. Wacker dr.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. L. S. Szakalun, nurse, Philadelphia, Pa.—It was my first formal dance. When I came home I found my brother had locked the door. My friend hoisted me thru my window because I didn't want to awaken the family. As I stepped inside, the window slammed and spread glass all over.

John Martish, assistant starter, 2011 Washburne av.—When I was 9 or 10 years old, I heaved a brick at a pigeon, missed the bird, and saw the brick crash thru a window. An angry woman screamed at me. Never before have I revealed that I was the one who broke that window.

Dorothy Warmbold, correspondent, 7915 Oak av., River Forest—I had to do it. We were at the country club and I had locked the keys in the car. I smashed one of the windows with a golf club. I swung at the window several times before I finally broke the glass. It seemed almost criminal.

Pvt. Lewis F. Epstein, 4951 N. St. Louis av.—We were not allowed to play ball on the school yard because it was too near the school building. On Sundays, the gang would sneak over and play until the cops chased us away. I don't remember the first window I broke, but I have four to my discredit.

Jean Neuman, stenographer, 6623 Oliphant av.—A group of people were having a Halloween party in their basement. We were inquisitive, so decided to eavesdrop. I pushed one of the windows and it went crashing to the floor. Evidently it had no hinges. We scattered.

Marion Mostyn, student, 1423 Catalpa av.—My scooter was a new toy and I hadn't mastered it as I went chugging down the alley beside the basement window. I tipped over. The scooter went thru the window. I abandoned the scooter, but it was identified, and I was caught.

DOOMAN INQUIRY HALTED BY CLEW ON GAMING WAR

Inquest into the death of Mike Dooman, 37, of 3538 Reta st., a small time racketeer fatally shot by two men as he sat in a cocktail lounge at 938 Belmont av. New Year's day, was continued yesterday to Jan. 24 after Asst. State's Atty. James Brown elicited testimony tending to indicate that the slaying may have been the outgrowth of a gambling war.

Nick Vergados.

Brown obtained from one witness, Nick Vergados, 1260 Leland av., one of Dooman's companions the night of the slaying, an admission that he was a former employe of Lawrence [Dago] Mangano, who was killed Aug. 3 at Taylor st. and Blue Island av., in a district where a Greek dice game known as barboute is known to flourish.

Other witnesses included blonde June Chapman, 19, of 3118 Broadway, a 26 girl in the tavern, and George Sotiros, who operates a coffee shop above the Belmont av. tavern, who also was with Dooman and Vergados the night of the slaying.

Jane M. Brown, 26, a barmaid in the tavern, underwent a lie detector test yesterday and was found to be telling the truth when she said that the two men who shot Dooman walked slowly to the door, called out "Happy New Year," and disappeared.

Afterward, he said: "We regard ourselves as Christians. Germany, France, Great Britain, Italy all regard themselves as Christian nations. . . . Had the nations of the world observed at all the Christian religion, there could not have been any wars. Is it possible now for some bright young men to sit down and write a paper which will succeed where Christianity failed?"

OUT OF TOWN SQUADS AWAIT SILVER SKATES

Cedar Rapids 1st to Seek Information.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Eight of the 13 clubs which scored in the 1944 Silver Skates Derbies were from outside of Chicago and it is likely that this proportion will be maintained Jan. 20 and 21 when the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., presents the 28th speed skating championships in Garfield park, Cedar Rapids, Ia., which did not score last year, is the first of the teams to request information on this year's events.

Since 1927 the list of champions in the eight Derbies has included nearly all of the men and women who have won national honors. In addition Canada has contributed several winners. All amateur skaters are eligible for the races which are sanctioned by the Illinois Skating association.

Last year Camp Hale, Colo.; Cleveland, St. Louis, Champaign-Urbana, Milwaukee, Jefferson, Wis.; West Allis, Wis., and Glen Ellyn, Ill., were the out of town teams competing against Chicago. The Walter Eckersal memorial trophy, named in honor of the founder of the races, was won by the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization with the Northwest Skating club second. Other Chicago teams in the scoring column were George Barrett Skating club, Peirce playground, and Swift playground.

Five Chicago Champions.

Despite the number of out of town entries, however, five of the eight championships in 1944 were won by Chicagoans. War time travel restrictions indirectly may have been an aid to local contestants but it is also true that many of the better senior skaters now are in service which reduces the number of invading teams in this division.

Last year's winners were:

Boys' midget—Jimmy Thomson, Northwest S. C.
Boys' juvenile—Scotty Wallace, Champaign-Urbana S. C.
Boys' junior—Jack Carney, C. Y. O.
Boys' intermediate—George Fischer, Northwest S. C.
Men's senior—Jim De Swarte, Champaign-Urbana S. C.
Girls' junior—Mary Allen, C. Y. O.
Girls' intermediate—Virginia Maestis, C. Y. O.
Girls' senior—Bernice Melewski, West Allis, Wis.

Winners in the senior classes cannot compete again. Other champions also are prohibited from skating in the same age class in which they won but they may advance to the next group regardless of age. The races are held primarily for the benefit of novice skaters and the Illinois Skating association has no registration fee for all those under 16 years of age. There is no entrance fee but the skaters, 16 years of age and over, must register with the association. This yearly registration applies for the entire season and permits competition in all Illinois events.

Entries Close Jan. 14.

Entries will be accepted for the 28th Silver Skates Derbies until midnight, Jan. 14. The blank, printed daily on these pages, may be used. Team entries may be submitted by the coach of instructor. Preliminaries in four of the classes for skaters under 16 years of age will be held Jan. 20. Trials in the other groups will start at 1 o'clock Jan. 21.

WYOMING FIVE BEATEN, 44-36, BY OHIO STATE

Columbus, O., Jan. 3 [Special].—Ohio State's basketball team defeated Wyoming tonight, 44 to 36, to make it five victories in seven games for the Buckeyes.

After a slow start and with only six minutes to play in the first half Ohio was in the lead, 12 to 10, and ran out the period in front, 18 to 14.

The Cawboys, led by lanky George Nostrand who scored 21 points on eight baskets and five free throws, put on a scoring drive at the opening of the second period which gave them an advantage of 19 to 18.

Ohio Finally Pulls Away.

The game see-sawed back and forth, being tied at 24 and finally at 31, from where Ohio pulled out into a lead which it never relinquished.

Nostrand made only two baskets and two free throws in the first period but came back with six baskets and three free throws in the second half.

Don Grate, Ohio forward, closely guarded thruout the game, managed to make three baskets and two free throws each period.

Buckeyes Ineffective at Start.

The Buckeyes had trouble with their floor game in the first half and repeatedly missed what looked like easy shots at the basket. This was corrected between halves and the improvement meant the game.

Ohio's next home game is with Northwestern here Jan. 13.

The Buckeyes made 17 of their 51 shots at the basket and 10 of 16 free throws. Wyoming made 13 baskets and 10 of 17 free throws.

Racing Spotlight Turns on Hipodromo in Mexico City

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 3.—Mexico City's Hipodromo de las Americas race track, a $2,000,000 plant which is called the Saratoga of Mexico by American visitors, will have the horse racing business almost to itself tomorrow. It will be the only track operating on the North American continent. In Havana, Cuba, the thorobreds will run at Oriental Park.

The ban on horse racing in the United States, which became effective today, has spotlighted attention on the Hipodromo. How does it compare with the tracks in the United States? What sort of horses run here? What are the purses? How large are the crowds? How heavy is the pari-mutuel play? What does Mexico's president, Manuel Avila Camacho, think of the sport?

Pagliai Is the Key Man.

Key man in the Mexican racing picture is Bruno Pagliai, described as quiet and dynamic. He is president of the Hipodromo and is given credit for the resumption of horse racing here after an interval of 30 years. Pagliai is a Californian who once owned the Ensenada Casino in Lower California. In 1941 he obtained financing, plus support of the government, for construction of the Hipodromo.

Pagliai summoned experts from the United States to help in building the track, which is five miles from Mexico City. Transportation is supplied by buses and street cars for those who do not drive their own automobiles.

Now in its third season, the track's current program is scheduled to run 103 days, ending on May 27. It includes 10 major stakes, with the richest event listed at 125,000 pesos. [Under the present rate of exchange the American dollar is worth 4.85 pesos.]

Mexicans Buy Horses.

When pari-mutuel racing was greeted in 1943 by 43,805 enthusiasts on opening day, 95 per cent of the horses stabled at the Hipodromo were American owned. Now only 15 per cent are owned by horsemen from the United States, tho most of the 500 horses running here were bred in the United States. They were bought by Mexican owners thru claiming races and auctions held in this country by American breeders. Only 10 per cent of the thorobreds are considered topnotch.

Among American stables campaigning at the Hipodromo are those of J. D. Erwin, Chicago; John L. Sullivan, Texas; Robert Everitt, Delaware, and Mrs. E. G. Bennet, Kentucky. In the 44 day meeting from March to June last year the crowds averaged 15,000, with racing held on Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday. Authorities are loath to release betting figures, but wagering on the Thursday programs averaged 60,000 pesos, while on each of the week-end days it reached 300,000 pesos.

Camacho Breeds Horses.

President Camacho is a racing enthusiast from the standpoint of improvement of blooded stock. He once raced horses under the colors of his Herradura farm, but now uses the farm only for breeding purposes.

The mutuel betting at the mile and a quarter track is conducted along the same system as in the United States. The minimum ticket is $1, compared to $2 north of the border. Admission charge is $1. The normal program is eight races, starting at 2 p. m. [3 p. m. Chicago war time]. There is no racing from June to October because of the rainy season. During the spring and winter meetings the weather is dry and the public can count on a fast track.

Tho the track recently stepped up its program to four days a week by including Fridays, it repeatedly has declared it is not inviting American horsemen to Mexico.

No Room for Big Influx.

This policy is emphasized by Jo Grossman, public relations director at the Hipodromo, who says: "We are doing nothing to violate the spirit of United States War Mobilizer Byrnes' ban on racing. I have read that 5,000 horses were headed for Mexico. At the most we could accommodate only 500 more."

Mexico this year has a triple crown stake setup for 3 year olds which compares to the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont stakes. These are the Derby Mexicano, worth 75,000 pesos added, or almost $16,000, to be run on April 8 at a mile and an eighth; the Gran Premio Nacional of 35,000 pesos, one mile and a sixteenth, on March 18, and the Stakes Jockey Club Mexi-

GROSSO, SIMON JOIN TEAM IN CHICAGO TODAY

Wiebe Scheduled to Arrive Tomorrow.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, in disposing of Earl Seibert, their best known player, "have just begun to swap and buy," according to promises renewed yesterday at club headquarters. Five players have been added to the roster and as many more soon will be added, it was announced.

"Personally, I do not enjoy opium smoking," mused Joseph C. Farrell, Chicago Blackhawk sage, as he completed answering inquiries anent the players the Hawks are going to obtain in addition to Don Grosso, Cully Simon, and Butch McDonald, who have come to the team in exchange for Seibert.

"However," continued Farrell, who has been with the Hawks thru 17 years of ups and downs, "much as I loathe the fruit of the poppy and the vile dens in which it is smoked, I have just made a bid of $500,000 for Maurice Richard and Elmer Lach of the Montreal Canadiens. It readily can be calculated that I personally thus surpass President Bill Tobin's alleged bid of $50,000 for the pair. I confess that Tobin has as much chance as I have to land them, unless the Canadiens suddenly have decided to abandon their franchise in the National Hockey league."

Ready to Start Player Hunt.

Farrell went on to say that the sale of either Richard or Lach would cause rioting in the streets of Montreal and that hopped up rumors about the Hawk chances to land the players were designed to make it appear the Hawks had failed in their mission when they come up with players of talents less than those possessed by Richard and Lach, rated as the outstanding players now on skates.

It was admitted that Prexy Tobin would give $50,000, but he denied he would make such an offer, mostly because he wants to be taken seriously when he makes his player hunt thru the league, beginning next week. Tobin in the next 10 days will have visited every club and will have made player or cash offers to all of them.

Grosso, Simon Report Today.

The Hawks' squad now consists of 21 players. Fifteen were on the ice yesterday. This afternoon at 1 o'clock Grosso and Simon will join the team and work out on the Chicago Arena rink. McDonald, the third player obtained in the Seibert deal, will not be available for duty with the Hawks until the next home game, Jan. 14.

Art Wiebe and Hank Blade also are expected to be ready to participate in the Hawks' next game in the Stadium. Wiebe is expected to arrive tomorrow and Blade, who is in Ottawa, complying with passport requirements, is due next Monday.

WRIGLEY WANTS BASEBALL CZAR'S DUTIES OUTLINED

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Baseball's next czar—to be named eventually to fill the vacancy created by the death of Commissioner K. M. Landis—probably will operate under a definite baseball code instead of wielding the unlimited power enjoyed by the late judge during his 24 year term.

This was indicated yesterday when P. K. Wrigley, president and owner of the Cubs and member of the joint major league comittee scheduled to meet here tomorrow to draw up a new working agreement, declared "baseball should have learned something in those 24 years."

The new pact will take the place of the agreement under which Landis was the supreme boss and which was discarded at the meetings of the American and National leagues last month.

"We agree that Judge Landis did an incomparable job of running baseball for 24 years," said Wrigley, "but the time has come to say just

KANE DIRECTS NAVAL AVIATION SPORT ACTIVITY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Comdr. W. R. [Killer] Kane, naval officer of the day at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck, has a new job. He's head of naval aviation physical and military training. Comdr. Kane is the third former naval academy football star appointed to head this program. Commanders Tom Hamilton and Frank Wickhorst, both on sea duty, preceded him.

Six Yacht Clubs Lose Privacy

The six yacht clubs using Chicago park district harbors will be notified today that their yachting facilities no longer are private and that they must apply for new park district permits before they may open next season.

The club permits will be based on new standards just adopted by the park board which specify that because the clubs are on public property they must be open to all Illinois residents alike—in conformity with an appellate court ruling last May.

The court decision, upholding the park district, concluded a long lawsuit brought by the Lincoln Park Traps Gun club. The ruling barred the gun club or any other club from operating as a private club on park property, and established the park district's right and duty to bar private operations.

Yacht Club Standards First.

It also settled a bitter dispute as to whether the Back of the Yards council should be allowed to serve free lunches in a park fieldhouse and gave the park district the task of drawing up standards to govern all clubs or other private groups using park facilities.

The new yacht club standards, formally adopted a week ago, and announced yesterday are the first to be set up. Codes for other clubs are to be ready before summer, Robert J. Dunham, president of the park board, said yesterday.

The yacht code refers only to the "facilities" of yacht clubs and specifies that lockers and harbor services shall be furnished to all holders of mooring permits [issued by the park board], on payment of fees which shall be no higher than are charged to club members.

Clubs to Remain Private.

Dunham explained that holders of facility permits from yacht clubs will not become members of the clubs which have headquarters at the various harbors. The clubs will remain private, he said, and will retain control of the buildings they have constructed and are required to maintain under terms of the new code. Club members may hold private meetings, he said, and permit holders may use club meeting rooms, dining rooms, and the like only at the discretion of the club management.

Any disputes are subject to settlement by the park superintendent, who may revoke an individual's facility permit or the operating permit of a club which fails to observe the code. Club permits may be canceled on a year's notice from either party.

Requirements for Facilities.

The code requires that facilities of any yacht club be extended to any Illinois citizen who [1] owns a boat not less than 16 feet long and for which a mooring permit has been issued; [2] owns at least a 25 per cent interest in such a boat, or [3] is a regular member of the crew of such a boat.

Yacht club rules are subject to approval of the park superintendent. Holders of facility permits are subject to the same rules, regulations, and penalties as yacht club members.

AMUNDSEN FIVES BEAT STEINMETZ, 41-20 AND 73-43

Marshall Juniors Rally to Defeat Austin.

The Amundsen seniors yesterday opened their north section campaign with a 73 to 43 rout of Steinmetz on the Amundsen floor. Amundsen also won the junior game, 41 to 20. Wally Osterkorn, making a bid for this year's individual scoring record, made 11 field goals and 10 free throws for a total of 32 points to pace the Amundsen seniors' attack.

After trailing in the first quarter, 13 to 10, the Marshall juniors rallied in the second period to lead at the half, 22 to 16, and remained in front to defeat Austin, 51 to 40 in the latter's gymnasium in a west section opener. Alvin Kaufman was high man with 10 points.

A pair of free throws by John Wozniak in the closing seconds of play after he was fouled by Bill Ingman enabled the Wells juniors to defeat Foreman, 46 to 44, in the latter's gymnasium in another west section game.

Al Anderson scored 11 field goals and one free throw to lead the Crane Tech juniors to a 47 to 25 victory over Kelvyn Park. Washburne juniors triumphed, 41 to 20, over Medill.

WMC LISTS JOBS AWAITING IDLE TURF EMPLOYES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Are you a race track employe without a job?

Coincidental with the government shut-down of the horse racing industry today, the war man power commission issued the cheerful message that jockeys, track officials, mutuels operators, stable men, and other racing employes now out of work will find no lack of opportunities for employment in scores of types of essential war industry jobs.

Moreover, the WMC continued, large numbers of track employes can find jobs in which there is "some basic similarity" to skills and knowledge used in their former employment. Some race track employes may have to work for smaller wages than they received before starting gates were closed and the shout of "They're off!" was silenced for the duration of the war, the WMC said, but others may find better paying jobs.

Can Become Farm Hands.

For instance, the man power agency suggested that with a little formal training or on-the-job experience, jockeys, horse trainers, and stable men can become farm hands, teamsters, cowpunchers and horse wranglers, horse breakers or sheep herders. Mutuels employes and scale clerks should have no trouble doing bookkeeping, statistical and clerical work, the WMC asserted.

Placing judges and starters, whose race track jobs demanded sharp eyesight and quick judgment, were recommended for employment as examiners, graders, and inspectors. Horseshoers were considered "naturals" for tool and metal trades, while jockey valets, the WMC said, could slip into such jobs as cleaning plant spotter, garment sewer, or parachute packer. Patrol judges and stewards could enter government service, or find work as detectives, and hotel and club managers, it was suggested.

Needed in War Plants.

Citing the current need for thousands of workers in war plants, the WMC declared that no worker in the racing industry need fear unemployment. After War Mobilization Director Byrnes cracked down on tracks last month, the WMC's bureau of man power utilization began an analysis of racing jobs and their relation to war and other occupations.

The WMC announced that all training agencies will be available to race track workers to prepare them for other jobs. Facilities of the United States employment service for vocational counseling and placement will be extended to members of the racing fraternity thruout the country.

WMC representatives were stationed at race tracks today to sign up for war jobs the men who used to ride and handle horses and take bets.

ODT MAKES TURF BAN COMPLETE; TRAVEL VETOED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The screws on racing got another tightening today.

A new ODT order forbids the use of privately owned automobiles, buses, or trucks to transport passengers to or from horse, dog, or motor vehicle races.

Since all American tracks now are closed, the principal effect will be to prevent the use of motor vehicles to visit any tracks across the border.

It also elminates any automobile racing in this country. Automobile racing has been banned since July 31, 1942, but ODT some time ago permitted racing by motor vehicles using fuel or tires which were not subject to rationing.

PONIES ARE NOT GALLOPING; DICE GET EXTRA WORK

New Orleans, La., Jan. 3 (AP).—The boys who follow the ponies, with what may or may not be wishful thinking, today snatched at hopeful rumors floating in the air over the race tracks here.

At the Fair Grounds, where the nation's final races before the closing deadline were run yesterday, small owners were searching feverishly for money and means of transportation. Jockeys and stable hands were putting in their time playing dice for travel stakes, while an interview booth set up by the employment service received little but icy stares.

Rumors bounced about, bringing more gloom or temporary joy which skidded into gloom on closer inspection of the stories.

Bookie shops here, estimated at between 500 and 600, were deserted, but operators said they were dickering for connections at Mexican and Cuban tracks. Only the smaller, neighborhood shops were closed completely.

what the commissioner had jurisdiction over—there should be a set of specifications drawn."

Oppose One Man Rule.

It is known that other club owners have long since recognized that the powers granted freely to Landis when he took the job in January of 1921 were mainly the result of a concerted move to curtail for all time the dominating Ban Johnson, then president of the American league. The National league, where the anti-Johnson move originated, now is reported to be especially set against another agreement by which one man could rule to suit his fancy.

Whatever is accomplished by the committee here tomorrow and Saturday will not become binding until the two leagues, each of the 16 clubs casting a vote, act at their special sessions in New York early next month. It is possible the voting may be delayed by some clubs not represented on the committee.

Delay in Selection Seen.

Even if the new agreement is voted into operation at the February meeting there is little likelihood that the naming of the new commissioner will be made until some time in the future. There may be a pause of as much as a year, the purpose of the delay being the desire to make sure the right man is picked and also to cool off the numerous gentlemen now hot on the trail of the lucrative post. Landis drew $65,000 per annum but the feeling of most of the owners is that the salary can be trimmed.

BOUDREAU TAKES PERSONNEL POST IN WAR PLANT

Shortstop-Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians, American league batting champion who is 4-F in the draft, has taken a war job in his home town of suburban Harvey.

Lou Boudreau.

The second day at his position as personnel assistant at the Whiting corporation, Boudreau yesterday commented:

"I'm staying right on in war work if my profession is found not to be essential. When spring comes around and if baseball follows racing in closing down for the duration, then I'll stay with this job. It's not for me to say now."

Pro Scoring Mark Broken as Gears Lose

Pro Basketball

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS.
Fort Wayne, 73; Chicago, 64.
Sheboygan, 76; Cleveland, 57.

The National Professional Basketball league scoring record for one game was broken in the Chicago Coliseum last night as Fort Wayne defeated the American Gears, the Chicago representative, 73 to 64, before a crowd estimated at 3,000.

The Fort Wayne scoring pace was set by Bud Geannette, who accounted for 27 points thru 10 baskets and seven free throws. Bob McDermott, also of the Zollners, eluded Dick Triptow's close guarding long enough to score one basket and one free throw.

Stan Patrick, former Illinois star, was the individual scoring leader for the Gears with 24 points—nine baskets and six free throws.

The nine points difference in the score was the same as the last meeting of the two teams when Fort Wayne won, 59 to 50. Half time found the American Gears clinging to a one point margin, 34 to 33.

The White Liners girls' team defeated Nashville, 31 to 22, in a preliminary game.

The biggest race of all is the Handicap de las Americas, 125,000 pesos added for 3 year olds and upward, at one mile and a quarter. It will be contested on April 22. This race was won last year by Gay Dalton and its gross value was $30,000. Gay Dalton is called Mexico's story book horse. It won six of eight races at the Hipodromo. Shipped to Hollywood Park in California, it won its only start in its usual sensational fashion, coming from last place to win by a length and a half.

TREES SUFFER AS RABBITS GO ON A BARK DIET

BY BOB BECKER.

The rabbits in some parts of northern Illinois again are becoming destructive to small trees and shrubs, for this is the type of snowy winter that reduces the natural food supplies of the cottontails and forces them to subsist partly on the bark of saplings. When the hungry rabbits get thru with their chewing exercises there isn't much bark left on stems and branches of small trees several inches above the ground.

We had a good chance to check the depredations of cottontails a few days ago when we walked thru a swamp northwest of Chicago and then looked at many of the small trees near it. With a heavy snow crust over the grass the cottontails were working above the crust on young poplar and other trees in the lowlands. A resident near the swamp said a number of his young pear and apple trees already had been badly gnawed by the animals.

Cut Down Shrubs.

Some of the residents of Lake county also are having trouble with the cottontails. Walter D. Monroe, a resident on Whipporwill farm in Lake county, reports that the bunnies are all but cutting down some of his shrubs which he planted last fall. He has been sending out a call for traps, repellants, and any other weapons which will eliminate the bark chewing animals.

There are three ways to get rid of rabbits at this time of the year. The season is open on these animals, so one can hunt them with a shotgun if shells are available. But the two most efficient methods of combatting the depredations of these animals and getting rid of them is to use humane live traps or a liquid repellant which is applied to the bark of small trees and shrubs. We have tried and recommend both systems.

Animals' Destruction Legal.

It's illegal to trap rabbits for sport. But the law says one may destroy animals on your own property if they are injuring your property. One of the best traps we have tested is a rectangular wire box type, 9x9x29 inches. When baited with lettuce or carrots the rabbit walks in, trips the trigger, and is caught alive and unharmed.

Jake Lenzen, anchor man for Thompson's, led his mates with a 606 series and paced the individuals for the opening half season with a 198 average for 54 games. # NATIONAL PRO LEAGUE FINDS IT HAS EXTRA TEAM

BY EDWARD PRELL.

When the National Football league's operators meet next week in Chicago they will find, as in 1944, 11 clubs on their hands. This obviously calls for some reshuffling as it did last year when the Chicago Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers agreed to a merger which both regretted after the season had started. The combine failed to win a single game.

The National league wants only 10 clubs, at most, because drawing a schedule involving 11 units proved to be an impossible task last spring. When this was apparent, Owner Charley Bidwill of the Cardinals, in the interest of the league, joined up with the Steelers. This was only for the season and when the Bears had made the last of 49 points against the combine in the final game the Cards and Steelers' brief honeymoon was automatically over.

The simplest and most effective way to solve the 11 team problem undoubtedly would be for the Bears and Cardinals to amalgamate permanently. Bidwell could sell his franchise to the Bears, then buy into that club. The Cardinals have been unable to create sufficient following to make their venture a paying one.

Bidwill and Comdr. George Halas, absentee owner-coach of the Bears, are fast friends. The Chicago sportsman, tho proprietor of the Cardinals, always has admired the Bears. Such a deal, it is believed, would be readily approved by the league.

The league's rules committee will meet next Tuesday and executive sessions will follow on Wednesday and Thursday.

This great Kentucky Bourbon is in every sense of the word

"Straight" well describes Old Poindexter. It's straight in identity, character and quality—from selection of materials (40% small grains) to the last full day of mellowing.

Old Poindexter is distilled by a straight process—no short cuts, no deviations, no omissions. Old Poindexter is all whisky.

Some friends of Old Poindexter like it "as is." Others prefer it in a highball—an old-fashioned—a Manhattan—or a sour.

In all mixed drinks Poindexter's friendly, full-bodied flavor unites with the other ingredients to give you a memorable drink.

There's never been much Old Poindexter in the market. The production is small. But men who know and appreciate this great Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whisky will find a little in a few of the best places.

BROAD MARKET UPTURN LED BY STEEL STOCKS

Transfers Exceed 2 Million Shares.

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—The stock market rose strongly today on a broad buying movement which lifted many leaders 1 to about 3 points. Steels were special favorites from the opening and buying spread to other pivotal industrial groups and to the rails. Closing prices were only slightly below top levels.

Transfers of 2,163,510 shares were the largest since July 5 and compared with 1,341,420 yesterday. A total of 981 issues appeared on the tape, of which 626 advanced and 165 closed lower.

Averages Set Peaks.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite rose 0.5 to 58.9, highest since Sept. 17, 1937. Each of the components, industrials, utilities, and rails, established a new peak.

Popularity of the steels was associated with forecasts of even larger production than at present and official word that some price adjustments might be authorized to compensate for recently approved wage increases.

Some of the best gainers were Bethlehem Steel, up 2¼; United States Steel, 1¾; Allied Chemical, 2½; Eastman Kodak, 3; American Can, 2¾; United States Rubber, 1¼; Sears Roebuck, 1¼; International Telephone, 1¼, and Johns-Manville, 1½. Gains of major fractions were made by Chrysler, United Aircraft, Great Northern, Southern Railway, and Chesapeake and Ohio.

RAIL BONDS CLIMB

New York, Jan. 3 (AP).—A broad and impressive rally in rails topped an active and higher bond market today.

About 90 individual issues advanced 1 to 3 and in some cases 4 and 5 points, and more than 30 issues were transferred in volume ranging from $100,000 to $1,680,000. The Associated Press average of 20 rails rose 0.5 to a new high since 1937 at 97.1. It was the largest net advance in the rail averages and turnover of $17,829,400 was the heaviest volume since Dec. 15.

Low to medium priced rail loans, some in reorganization or other financial difficulties, made the largest gains. Seaboard unstamped 4s moved up 5½ to 93½.

Other favorites included most of the listed bonds of the Baltimore & Ohio, Milwaukee, New York Central, Peoria & Eastern, Katy, Missouri Pacific, Chicago Great Western, and North Western. Chicago & Alton 3s were lower on unfavorable indications in a new plan for reorganization filed by the trustee.

CHICAGO RISE EXTENDED

Most stocks extended recent gains on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in heavier turnover of 61,000 shares. Nine issues attained new 1944-'45 highs including Peabody Coal preferred at 99, up 1. More active stocks included Chicago corporation and Peabody Coal common, each up ⅛, and Aviation corporation, Chain Belt, and Kellogg Switchboard, each down ¼.

TORONTO TRADE LARGE.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Toronto stock market had its first million share day since July 10. Turnover was 1,033,000 shares.

Offer Export Trade Aid in Chicago Area

The Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday urged midwestern manufacturers and business men interested in entering or expanding export trade to use the numerous foreign trade services available in Chicago.

The association's message was contained in a brochure prepared by its foreign commerce department and distributed to manufacturers in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Provide Needed Information.

The foreign marketing agencies in Chicago, both governmental and private, have eliminated many of the obstacles which formerly faced exporters, the booklet said. No longer do business men have to make their own market research, investigate credit standings of prospective customers, prepare numerous shipping documents, and learn import regulations of foreign countries, it said.

Among the government agencies which offer assistance to the exporter are the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States department of commerce, and the various foreign consulates. The booklet said the bureau is staffed by skilful men and provides efficient service. The consulates offer much help and number about 40. In normal times the number is much larger.

Private Services Numerous.

More numerous are the private commercial services, which include foreign freight forwarders, combination export managers, foreign trade counsellors, steamship and air line representatives, railroads, customs house brokers, marine insurance companies, associations with foreign trade departments, cable and radio companies, and banks with foreign departments.

"World markets represented the difference between profit and loss for many manufacturers before the war," the booklet said. "When normal business conditions have been restored, the number of such manufacturers will largely increase. America's productive capacity has been increased to almost unbelievable proportions during the war. The domestic market will be unable to absorb the present output after hostilities cease, except for the relatively brief period when depleted inventories are being replenished."

Rail Credit Corp. to Make 1% Liquidating Payment

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Railroad Credit corporation today announced a 1 per cent liquidating distribution amounting to $724,268 will be made Jan. 31. E. G. Buckland, president, said the payment will bring the total distributed to $67,547,446, or 92 per cent of the original fund contributed by carriers.

BRITAIN ESTABLISHES REGIONAL GROUPS TO PLAN RECONVERSION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The board of trade has set up 13 new regional organizations in England, Scotland, Wales, and northern Ireland, headed by business men, to plan Britain's industrial switchover from war to peace, Hugh Dalton, president of the board, announced tonight. The regional controlers will advise where new factories should be established and what best can be produced in particularly "depressed" areas.

Dalton said he hoped that the new facilities for acquiring plant materials and labor would eliminate any governmental red tape when industry has reverted to civilian production. It was revealed that 600 licenses already had been granted to engineering firms which wanted to go ahead with post-war planning.

Employers, workers, and the board of trade are to be represented on the regional organizations which will plan reconversion, return of requisitioned factory and storage space, allocation of surplus government factories, deconcentration of civilian industry and the release of labor and materials for peace production.

P. C. A. TO START DIRECT CHICAGO, DETROIT FLIGHT

Officials of the Pennsylvania Central Airlines yesterday said they were preparing plans for the start within the next few months of nonstop service between Chicago and Detroit, Mich., one of the two important air routes granted the company recently by the civil aeronautics board. The other route authorizes P. C. A. to fly nonstop from Pittsburgh to New York.

The projected Chicago-Detroit route will provide a faster and shorter flight than is possible at present, it was said. P. C. A.'s present route between Chicago and Detroit by way of Muskegon, Grand Rapids, and Lansing, Mich., will be continued after the nonstop service starts, the company said.

The P. C. A., which was founded in 1927, has developed from a mail carrying facility between Pittsburgh and Cleveland to a carrier serving 40 cities along a route exceeding 4,000 miles, the company said.

Bank Deposits in Chicago Set Another Peak

(Complete bank report on page 22.)

Deposits in Chicago banks rose to an all-time high of $7,688,678,000 in the last quarter of 1944, their statements of condition on Dec. 30 showed yesterday. Answering state and federal calls for condition statements, the banks also reported fourth quarter increases in cash resources, loans and discounts, and holdings of United States government securities.

The last official call before this by the controler of the currency for national bank figures was on June 30, 1944. The Illinois state auditor called for statements by state banks as of last Sept. 18 and Chicago national banks at that time voluntarily presented figures on their condition.

Both Groups Show Gains.

Totals of both the state and national banks showed increases in each category compared with the Sept. 18 figures. The September reports had shown increases for all except loans and discounts over the midyear totals.

FCC RECEIVES BILL OF HEALTH OVER PROTESTS

Corcoran Is Cleared in WMCA Deal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Over the protests of Rep. Wigglesworth [R., Mass.], who presented a minority opinion, the Democratic majority on the special house committee investigating the federal communications commission today absolved the agency of charges that it had misused its powers to terrify the radio industry.

The majority, which voted closed hearings recently when evidence threatened to touch high administration officials, found that the FCC had been conducted on a generally sound basis, but proposed legislation clarifying its authority.

F. D. R. Orders Gag.

The report wound up a two year inquiry featured by New Deal opposition. President Roosevelt early issued gag orders preventing army and navy officials from testifying. Rep. Cox [D., Ga.], the first chairman, and Eugene L. Garey, the committee counsel, resigned under circumstances indicating administration pressure.

Chairman Lea [D., Cal.] and Reps. Hart [D., N. J.], and Priest [D., Tenn.] signed the majority report. Former Rep. Miller [R., Mo.], who changed his attitude on closed hearings after his election defeat in November, agreed with much of the majority report but presented separate findings that the FCC had practiced political favoritism and arrogated to itself powers in the military field which "endangered the public safety."

Exonerates Corcoran.

The majority exonerated Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran, former White House adviser, and Edward J. Noble, former undersecretary of commerce and present head of the blue network, of charges of duress in connection with the alleged forced sale of New York radio station WMCA by Donald Flamm to Noble.

Wigglesworth said in his minority report that the interest of Corcoran in the WMCA transaction was apparent from start to finish. He said also that the FCC had full knowledge of the charges of coercion in the WMCA sale but never at any time took steps to inquire into the deal. Moreover, the agency later approved the sale of the station by Noble to Nathan Straus, another former administration official, at a profit to Noble of $400,000.

Raps Sale of Station.

"Either the commission was guilty of gross negligence and failed to live up to the trust reposed in it," commented Wigglesworth, "or it was guilty of malfeasance in office."

Wigglesworth also reviewed the

December Plane Output Lags 2 Per Cent Behind Schedule

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—United States manufacturers produced 6,697 planes of all types in December, bringing 1944 production to 96,369, Chairman Krug of the war production board said today. The month's output was 2 per cent behind schedule, but Krug described it as a "good accomplishment" in view of the short work month and the Christmas holidays. The original 1944 schedule called for 109,000 planes.

The average rate of production for each working day rose to 268 in December from the November rate of 260. The total weight of planes produced in each of the two months exceeded 71 million pounds.

Weight 50 Per Cent Above 1943.

Measured by air frame weight [planes without motors and other accessories not provided by aircraft manufacturers] the 1944 output reached 1 billion 112 million pounds, more than 50 per cent above 1943.

The tentative 1945 program calls for 78,227 planes of all types, but Krug said present indications are this would be increased.

Altho December production was only 2 per cent below schedule, Krug said this did not mean military requirements were satisfied to that extent because schedules are adjusted to conform to "realistic production estimates."

Corsair Output Far Short.

"Thus, during December, even tho production of Super Fortresses and Skymasters met working schedules, production was substantially below that required to fulfil military needs," Krug commented.

Deliveries of the Corsair navy fighter fell to 73 per cent of its schedule and two-engine navy patrol bombers continued below schedule in two plants, Krug said.

Only two army types, the two-engined C-46 Commando transport and the A-26 Invader, new two-engined Douglas attack planes, fell appreciably below schedule.

AMERICAN UTILITIES SERVICE GROUP FILES NEW CAPITAL PLANS

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 3 (AP).—A plan for recapitalization of American Utilities Service corporation, Chicago, was filed today with the securities and exchange commission by holders of 27.5 per cent of its preferred stock, who claim to represent "ownership of at least 43 per cent of the total equity." It will be considered at a hearing tomorrow with the company's proposal to liquidate.

The plan provides for recapitalization on a single stock basis, with preferred holders to receive 85 per cent of the new stock and the common holders to be allocated 15 per cent, as ordered by the SEC last June.

A trustee appointed by a District court would supervise the recapitalization and election of a new board.

BEVERLY CHAIN OF 26 STORES IS SOLD TO SPIEGEL

Spiegel, Inc., has acquired the Beverly chain of 26 retail women's wear stores in eastern, midwestern, and southern states, Modie J. Spiegel Jr., president and general manager, announced yesterday. The stores will be operated as a part of the Sally chain, a division of Spiegel.

The Beverly purchase increased to 100 the retail outlets operated in addition to a national mail order business, said Spiegel. The Sally chain of 46 stores in the midwest was acquired last April 1, and the Federal chain of 20 retail stores in California and Nevada was purchased Aug. 1. The company also established eight retail and catalog order desk outlets under the Spiegel name during 1944.

Dillon, Read Syndicate Offers Terminal Bonds

Dillon, Read & Co. and associates were high bidders yesterday for 11 million dollars of Washington Terminal company bonds which will mature in 1970. They bid 100.81 for a 2⅝ per coupon. Reoffering was made at 101.38 subject to formal award of the issue by the company and approval of the interstate commerce commission.

REPORT SUPPLY OF FURNITURE TO BE SMALLER

Midwinter Markets Open Today.

Buyers attending the 10 day midwinter furniture and home furnishings markets which will open today in the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart will learn that the industry faces its most restricted period since the war began, John C. Goodall, general manager of the Merchandise Mart, said yesterday. Both markets were crowded with early buyers yesterday.

John C. Goodall.

Recent government regulations, including curtailments of new civilian production and the textile freeze, gave little hope of sudden gain in furniture production, said Goodall.

New Models Are Few.

Some producers will offer new models, but most of the goods will be of types shown before, it was said. Government regulations permit the introduction of new designs as long as the total number shown does not exceed 25 per cent of the patterns shown in September, 1941.

In addition to the time required to obtain price approval for new designs, labor remains the seriously prohibitive factor, Goodall said. Only by concentrating inadequate man power supplies on the minimum number of lines and the simplest items has it been possible to offset, even partly, the labor and production cost increases which have run as much as 77 per cent, he said.

Introduce Glass Fabric.

Goodall predicted that the only new fabric shown at the market will be a line made from glass. The entire output of this merchandise, which is fireproof and waterproof,

LACK OF LABOR DRAG ON LARGE METALS OUTPUT

Copper and Lead Supply Shortest, Says WPB.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—Heavy production by mines, mills, and smelters thruout 1945 was indicated today in a war production board survey of the country's supply of war metals. In almost every case—including aluminum, which is in good supply—labor shortages are limiting production, the WPB said.

Copper and lead were shown in shortest prospective supply, with rising demands for shells and bullets hampered by the labor deficit. Tin will remain in as heavy demand as in 1944, if two front warfare continues.

Rail Prospect Reduced.

Steel production could meet all critical demands if mills get "even a moderate increase in experienced man power," WPB said. However, a reshuffling of mill schedules to produce more shell steel billets will cut down early-year output of railroad rails and structural steel.

Steel wire for assault, field, and tactical communications use will remain critical thru most of 1945, because of military demands 30 per cent larger than in 1944, it was predicted.

A drop in copper mine production of more than 11 per cent was expected even if a 10 per cent increase in the working force can be achieved. Mines were severely drained of workers as 1944 progressed, so that year-end output was only 76 per cent of the March peak.

Need Full Operations.

"The production schedule for 1945 is predicated on an all-out effort at all operating properties with an additional labor supply of approximately 4,000 workers for the western mines, mills, smelters, and refineries," the report said. Under such conditions, and with copper imports boosted to 260,000 tons a quarter, copper supplies can be balanced with demand, it asserted.

Aluminum "no longer is running out of our ears," WPB said. Requirements of sheet aluminum, used mainly in airplanes, have increased 80 per cent for the next three months and military demands for other fabricated products of the light metal have risen.

Ample stock piles of both aluminum and magnesium exist, however, and 1945 production of aluminum ingots will average only about 90 million pounds monthly, approximately half of the country's productive capacity. Five plants have been closed and some of the remaining 11 have been slowed.

Magnesium Capacity Cut.

Magnesium "presents no immediate supply problem," it was said. Monthly output will average only about 7,500,000 pounds, compared with the peak of 42 million pounds last January.

Tin usage will about equal 1944, with the nine month stockpile declining steadily, if the war with Germany continues thru the new year. Zinc was described as "still comfortable" if production is sustained at the 1944 rate.

Ward Wage Increases Ordered at Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 3 (AP).—The regional war labor board today ordered wage increases of $1 to $2.50 a week for 44 hours of work for retail store employes of Montgomery Ward & Co. here and in Kansas City, Kas.

People and Events

Dr. Robert E. Wilson arrived in Chicago yesterday to begin his duties as chairman of the board and chief executive of the Standard Oil company [Ind.]. A. W. Peake, the company's new president, attended the board's meeting, which was held immediately upon Wilson's arrival.

LEATHER PRICE RULE HELD AID TO REPAIRMEN

Leather industry representatives who have studied the text of the recent OPA revised leather pricing regulation, said yesterday it will apply to jobbers and dealers engaged in supplying cut sole leather to the shoe repair trade.

Their understanding of the regulation, which the OPA said would become effective Jan. 29, was that it would result in the lowering of the prices of cut leather sole supplies at the wholesale level in the "finders" trade, that part of the trade which caters to the shoe repairmen.

DPC to Spend 12 Million More at Indianapolis Plant

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—The Defense Plant corporation announced today it will build a 12 million dollar expansion at a plant operated in Indianapolis by General Motors corporation, making total government commitment in the plant about 99 million.

HOME CLEANING UNITS, CORDLESS IRONS PLANNED

A new complete home cleaning system and a cordless electric iron will be produced by Eureka Vacuum Cleaner company when materials and labor are available, midwestern distributors were told yesterday when company officials showed models of the post-war products for the first time at a meeting in the Stevens hotel.

Because of the war new methods were introduced, new processes learned, and new machinery acquired, said officials, and all will be used in producing peace lines.

Temperatures Regulated.

The new iron will be operated without a cord and draw instant heat from brief contact with a thermostatically controled safety base. Exact temperatures for ironing different fabrics may be governed by a micro-heat regulator. The thermostatic control automatically switches current on an off.

The new home cleaning system will consist of a light weight upright vacuum for use on floor and rugs, a tank vacuum for walls, draperies, furniture, and other "above the floor" cleaning, and a group of special interchangeable cleaning devices for both units.

Plan Electric Garbage Unit.

George T. Stevens, vice president, said the company also would produce an electric garbage disposal unit when materials become available.

H. W. Burritt, president, said in a speech read for him because of illness, that the company still has spot authorizations to produce cleaners and irons, but that army and navy needs would come first. He said cleaners for immediate post-war sale have been reëngineered and restyled.

TENNESSEE GAS LINE REPORTED IN CAPACITY USE

A spokesman for Chicago corporation yesterday said the natural gas pipe line between Texas and West Virginia owned by Tennessee Gas and Transmission company, a subsidiary, was under full operation, even exceeding planned capacity, in providing natural gas for the Appalachian industrial area.

Hope Natural Gas company, which obtains gas from Tennessee Gas, was ordered by the WPB to divert 15 million cubic feet of gas delivered daily by Tennessee Gas to relieve fuel shortages at Pittsburgh and Cleveland war plants.

The spokesman said half the gas normally delivered in the Appalachian industrial area goes to a subsidiary of Columbia Gas and Electric corporation and ha" to Hope.

NEW PREFERRED BUTLER SHARES OFFERED TODAY

A group of underwriters headed by Harriman, Ripley & Co. today will offer 100,000 shares of Butler Brothers 4½ per cent cumulative preferred stock at $103 a share. Part of the proceeds will be used to redeem on Feb. 9 all of outstanding 5 per cent convertible preferred at $31 a share plus accrued dividends. The remainder, about $1,600,000, will be added to working capital.

The new stock may be redeemed in whole or in part at prices ranging from $107 a share on or before Jan. 1, 1948, to $103 after Jan. 1, 1954, the company said. Beginning in 1947, a sinking fund will provide for the annual retirement of 2,000 shares.

TAX EXEMPTIONS.

If a married man in the army files a separate income tax return and claims his military exemption of $1,500, can his wife in filing a separate return of her own income claim the combined exemption of $1,000 allowed married couples?—G. T.

Under the amended revenue code, if separate returns are filed by husband and wife, each may claim a $500 personal exemption, but the two exemptions cannot be combined in one return if both file individually. On a joint return, the couple gets a $1,000 surtax exemption and, under prescribed conditions, a normal tax exemption of the same amount. Joint returns are now permitted tho one spouse has neither gross income nor deductions.

On a separate return, a married taxpayer gets a $1,000 surtax exemption only if the taxpayer's husband or wife, as the case may be, had no gross income and did not receive chief support from another closely related person. A $500 surtax exemption is allowed for each dependent of the taxpayer.

Under prior law, the personal exemption allowances were different. The married couple's exemption [then $1,200] could be claimed in a joint return or in separate returns it could be taken in full by either husband or wife or divided between them in any proportions. It appears that there is no longer any provision in the law or regulations for claiming none of the personal exemption in a separate return or for claiming less than $500.

The first $1,500 of annual pay for active military service is excluded from gross income in tax returns. It is not necessary for the military taxpayer to "claim exemption" of that amount, which is simply omitted from reported income.

SPAIN RELEASES 5 MILLION MORE OF PHONE PROFIT

MADRID, Jan. 3 (AP).—Spain today transferred to the International Telephone & Telegraph company 5 million dollars from earnings of that American company's Spanish subsidiary, which operates the telephone system in Spain.

The transfer lifted to 26 million payments against a total of 53 million in obligations owed American firms, including earnings of American interests in Spain and about 10 million in commercial debts.

The payment to I. T. & T., tho short of balancing that company's earnings since it first was established here under Primo de Rivera, was regarded as one more indication Spain is trying to defend her credit standing with the United States.

Spain agreed two years ago to proceed with gradual liquidation of American credits, first of commercial obligations to United States businesses, and thereafter of earnings of American interests.

PREDICT FREIGHT CAR USE RISE IN FIRST QUARTER

The Mid-West Shippers Advisory board estimated yesterday that 1,201,739 freight cars will be required in the first quarter of this year to handle shipments in the area, compared with 1,195,244 cars actually loaded in the first quarter of 1944, an increase of 0.5 per cent.

Increased shipments were predicted for cement, agricultural implements, and vehicles, and canned goods. Decreases were forecast for live stock, forest products, machinery and boilers, and brick and clay products.

MORGAN READY TO REOPEN PARIS BANK BUSINESS

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Nelson D. Jay, long a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co. and associated with the Morgan bank in Paris for 25 years, has arrived to reopen that business when the French and United States treasuries conclude negotiations to permit resumption of financial transactions and the movement of funds.

Jay told the Tribune correspondent that A. Maxwell Rode, general director of European operations of the International Harvester company had informed him the Chicago company's principal European plant at Croix, near Lille, was intact and ready to resume operations as soon as raw materials are available.

One Plant Severely Damaged.

The International Harvester plant near Creil, 40 miles from Paris, has been damaged severely and needs reconstruction.

"Our plants have been operating moderately during the war on non-military products," said Rode. "An endeavor has been made to keep our organization employed and to give assistance to French families of war prisoners and the dependents of those drafted into German industry. The shortage in transport as a result of the invasion interferes with the supply of raw materials needed in the limited operations. This is being dealt with by the French government.

Have Steel, Lack Transport.

"We have large stocks of steel available but lack transportation facilities to carry it to the plant. Our feeling is that the problem of the French government is to get people back to work with the facilities in the country. We are reconditioning our plants and providing as much employment as possible."

Rode, a Chicagoan, has been here since Dec. 18. His son, John Stewart Rode, is a Browning machine gunner in Gen. Patch's 7th army in Alsace.

Officials of the International Harvester company last night said they expect a full report on their French operations when Rode returns to Chicago.

ACME STEEL CO. IS CONSIDERING STOCK SPLITUP

Directors of Acme Steel company are considering submitting to shareholders at the company's annual meeting April 17 a proposal to change each of the company's present $25 par value shares into three new $10 par value shares, the company said yesterday.

If the change is approved, shareholders will receive three new shares for each present share and capitalization will be increased from $8,202,700 to $9,843,240.

The company said the change will provide a broader market for its shares. No new financing is contemplated. The directors expect to take formal action on the proposal early in February.

LOMBARD BANK CHARTERED.

Issuance last Dec. 16 of a permit to the State Bank of Lombard, Du Page county, Illinois, to organize with $50,000 capital was announced by the state auditor's office.

REPORT SUPPLY OF FURNITURE TO BE SMALLER

Expect No Gain as Winter Markets Open Today.

has been absorbed until now by the navy, he said. Solid colors and prints with a synthetic resin coating are expected to be included in the showing.

Retail demands for curtain and drapery fabric are as much as four or five times those of normal years, with maximum production in most instances less than one-third of normal, said Goodall.

In addition, the anticipated Jan. 15 freeze order on cotton yarns to replenish war supplies of duck and canvas is expected to bar the manufacture of drapery and upholstery fabrics made from cottons during the first quarter of 1945.

Supplies of housewares and floor coverings are expected to remain unchanged until 1946.

Whiting Tells of Short Supplies.

Stores have been without appliances for about three years, their supply of floor coverings has been cut to less than a quarter of normal stock, and such items as upholstered furniture and bedding have been far below what might have been sold, said Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the Furniture Mart. Output of wood bedroom and dining room furniture has been curtailed sharply in the last year.

He predicted buyers would be eager to know how much merchandise they may expect and obtain opinions on the general outlook for the next six months.

In conjunction with the market the National Retail Furniture association will have a store modernization exhibit in the Merchandise Mart, offering new ideas in store design and modernizing materials.

MEAT PACKERS BID BRISKLY TO FILL WAR ORDERS

Trade was active in the Chicago stock yards yesterday as packers sought volume needed to fill increasing meat orders from the army, navy, and lend-lease. Steers sold readily at prices fully steady with the preceding day, despite a report from the east that definite action on a ceiling for live cattle may be taken in a few days.

Buyers paid a $17.60 per hundred pounds top for prime steers, 10 cents above the proposed ceiling. Most cattle sold at $13 to $16.25. Bologna bulls rose to $13.50, a peak since October, 1943.

Farmers so far this week have shipped more meat animals than last week when offerings were abnormally low, but receipts still were 44 per cent less than a year ago.

The hog market average slipped 5 to 10 cents at the opening, but rallied on brisk late buying. Prices for the day averaged 5 cents lower at $14.55, but compared with $13.25 a year ago. Lambs ruled steady to 15 cents higher.

Independent Retail Sales Rise 9 Pct. in November

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3 (AP).—November sales of independent retailers other than department stores rose 9 per cent in dollar volume from November, 1943, but were almost unchanged from October. The census bureau also reported today that sales in the first 11 months of 1944 were 6 per cent higher than in the corresponding period of 1943. Department stores reported sales up 16 per cent from November, 1943, 17 per cent from October, and 10 per cent for the 11 months.

FCC RECEIVES BILL OF HEALTH OVER PROTESTS

facts in connection with the alleged forced sale of WFTL, a Florida station, by Ralph A. Horton to Comdr. George B. Storer, a golf playing companion of former FCC Chairman James L. Fly, who resigned Nov. 15.

"The evidence in this case clearly indicates," he declared, "that Chairman Fly, the head of a quasi-judicial body, and perhaps some of those in the legal department of the commission, placed themselves in a position subject to criticism. Who can say, in the light of the circumstances disclosed, that Chairman Fly was unbiased in his relations with all persons and concerns having business before the commission during his period of service?"

Different Philosophies.

The bitter controversies that have raged within and around the commission, the majority stated, were "largely the result of differences on philosophies of government which have been reflected in FCC decisions". Fly's "liberal interpretation" of his powers drew "bitter criticism," but his resignation "has removed him as an element of controversy in the future."

The report recommended that members of the commission and a limited number of industrial representatives confer on the legislative changes adjudged most desirable for improving the law and its administration.

Uphold Newspaper Ownership.

In a section devoted to newspaper ownership of radio stations the report said: "The mere ownership of a newspaper should not exclude such person from owning and operating a radio station."

"Manifestly," said the committee, "if at any future time newspaper owners or persons interested therein as such are to be excluded from ownership or licensed radio stations, such exclusion should be effected pursuant to a clearcut expression of such a policy by the congress."

The committee asserted a belief that "this entire matter of newspaper ownership and the monopoly angle should be reviewed by the congress with a view to providing the necessary new or clarifying legislation that should settle this problem."

"Such a vital question," it added, "should not be left to the undefined responsibility of the federal communications commission under broad, general terms of the public interest, convenience and necessity clause of the communications act."

Asserting that FCC several years ago "attempted to stop further issuance of licenses to newspaper owners," Rep. Miller said:

"The industry, regardless of whether or not they are newspaper owners, feel this is discriminatory and entirely beyond the powers granted the commission by congress."

WHEAT PRICES CLIMB; OTHER GRAINS UNEVEN

Prices of all deliveries of wheat, corn, and barley on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday rose to new seasonal peaks, before reacting. Wheat led the advance and gained ½ to 1½ cents a bushel, September leading and up 5⅝ cents from the low of last week.

Purchases of 500,000 bushels of cash corn for deferred shipment from the country took the edge off the upturn in corn futures and brought a reaction of about 1 cent from the high with the finish unchanged to ⅜ cent lower. Oats lost ⅛ to ⅝ cent. Rye was unchanged to ¾ cent higher and barley closed unchanged.

Mill buying, short covering, and closing of spreads with rye bolstered wheat, altho some buying of the deferred deliveries was based on belief the proposed drafting of farm labor between 18 and 25 years old would curtail the spring wheat acreage.

Brokers were surprised at increased offerings of cash corn because little grain was bought Tuesday. An aggressive shipping demand was reported with indications that markets other than Chicago had sold corn to the government for lend-lease shipment to England.

DRESS INDUSTRY PLANS POST-WAR TRAININGSCHOOL

The Chicago Association of Dress Manufacturers yesterday approved a tentative post-war plan to expand the productive facilities of dress and suit manufacturers in the Chicago market.

The plan, presented at the annual meeting by Abraham Heller, executive director, provides for the reopening of training classrooms in coöperation with the Chicago board of education, and includes in the curriculum every phase of skill in the industry. It also provides for a model factory where graduate students may work with the latest machinery at wage rates in line with the general wages of their crafts.

TILL THEN

The Times-Herald, with a far greater circulation than any competitive newspaper, will continue to be the soundest advertising investment in Washington till someone finds a better way to sell more goods than the simple formula of reaching more people.
